The meeting of secondary instructors which has just been held at Iowa City discussed the importance of requirements as fixed by the institutions of higher education. In general a higher grade of work will be required for admission; the admission requirements which the colleges regard as necessary as compared with those to which secondary schools must carry their courses and their work. The idea has been that the more and more practical the requirements of the work the more scientific should be the education.

The total enrollment of Iowa teachers in the summer schools of the last year will exceed 4,500. It shows an increase of 25 per cent over the attendance of 1908. As was said recently in Midland School, this increase did not go to the summer schools conducted by the established colleges and normal schools of the state. For the most part it went to a dozen or more county summer schools which have recently sprung into existence as the demand for academic work which cannot be secured in the modern professional institutes.

These local summer schools would be in the hands of principals and superintendents who have an opportunity to do good and at the same time secure employment at fair salaries during the summer vacation. It is a great satisfaction to many teachers who could not be induced to attend the summer schools to have their work in their own home. They also secure the patronage of many teachers who would otherwise attend the large institutes.

Monalawa Is Surprised

Coach Monalawa of Drake seems greatly surprised at the rule forcing freshmen to play football on the Big Nine teams and has the following to say regarding the matter in the state:

"I cannot say what Drake will do after the season, if the Doctor, "It looks to me a good deal as if the Big Nine were trying to let in the East, since they showed no way, but of course we cannot tell anything about the matter until we have something definite direct from the officers of the conference." After the season the matter will then come before the Drake athletic board, and I cannot say what their decision will be. Of course, we want to play Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin and other teams in conference, but I cannot say whether or not we will adopt a rule just to get games with them."

Athletic Board Meet

The board of athletic control held an important meeting on Wednesday evening. At the meeting the board showed its appreciation of the faithful service of Nyle W. Jones and Dwight M. Griffith, the two freshmen whose names have been connected with Iowa football history for some years and who played their last game with the Hawkeyes on Thanksgiving day. The board decided to give to these retiring veterans some football suits and in addition to give to Captain Jones, the football leader, the entire Ames game and with which Iowa won the state championship.

The board also expressed its thanks to the Cedar Rapids Commercial club for its assistance in arranging for the Iowa-Minnesota game. It was also decided to equip the Varsity basketball team and regular substitute with suits.

The selection of A. E. McGraw as captain of the football team was approved.

Gophers Lose A Debater

Minnesota Daily: The Iowa debating team may be greatly handicapped by the absence of R. P. Chase, the leader on the team.

Mr. Chase has been called home by the severe illness of his brother and is is possible that he may not be present at the debate. This would be an irreplaceable loss at this date as he has been a work for some time and it will be almost impossible to select anyone to take his place. However the debating board still hopes that he may return to go on with the work.

Geo. C. Sterrett, liberal arts ’07, has been forced to leave school on account of ill health. There will be a meeting of Ed- day Saturday afternoon, at 3 p.m. in the Physics lecture room.

Dr. Chisholm gave an illustrated lecture in Trinity church on Thursday evening. At the time the Rev. J. L. F. Lummis, editor of "Out West" magazine, and the Rev. B. M. Fairchild, of the University of New York.

Dr. Chisholm is an Iowa graduate and is the first Baptist minister to be called to the pulpit. He is now president of the University of New York.

There are as many as 200 alumni, however, engaged in the practice of law and in politics as in teaching. H. C. Godfrey, L. ’91, is Superior Judge of the city of Napa, California. Charles B. Elliott, L. ’91, is a candidate for the position of justice of the supreme court of Minnesota. Mr. Elliott is the son of the late Mr. Elliott, the football coach of Iowa in the recent memorable game with the University of Wisconsin.

Other alumni who are engaged in various pursuits are: H. S. Biddle, the coach of the football team, who is also one of the coaches at the University of New York.

Among other alumni who are engaged in various pursuits are: H. S. Biddle, the coach of the football team, who is also one of the coaches at the University of New York.

The names mentioned above are simply a few examples; as many more instances of prominent Iowa alumni could be named, and the list would be far from exhausted.

Financial Condition is Good

A review of the finances of the Young Men's Christian Association at the 18th Annual Meeting, beginning at 6 p.m. on December 1, 1904, indicates that all of their budget for this year has been raised and the debt for current expenses of past years which they undertook to liquidate is diminishing rapidly. The boys are rejoicing to see that the light side of the distance and are still pushing their canoes with all their strength. From all indications the Young Men's Christian Association will be free of debt by the end of the year and will be in a position to carry on the work for the honor of the University and the cause of the Christian religion.

There will be a meeting of the Young women of the University, at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon, in the auditorium of the hall of liberal arts for the purpose of organizing a girls' club of the Simpson football team next year.

The Daily Iowan

Every week during the school year, it is the ‘Daily Iowan’s’ custom to make mention of the various accomplishments connected with the alumni of the university. It is doubtful of interest to those who remember former students and it serves also to keep people reminded of prominent men and women who claim Iowa as their alma mater.

It is probable that there are many more well known teachers among Iowa’s alumni than anyone does for any other profession. F. R. Willis, L. ’81, fills the chair of Criminal Law at the University of Southern California. W. R. Guthrie, L. ’96, has accepted a position as instructor in History at the University of New York. Harry Michener, L. ’92, is Dean Wisconsin Law School. Miss Louise E. Hughes, L. ’78, formerly an instructor in the University, holds a position as instructor of political economy at the West Des Moines High School.

There are perhaps as many alumni, however, engaged in the practice of law and in politics as in teaching. H. C. Godfrey, L. ’91, is Superior Judge of the city of Napa, California. Charles B. Elliott, L. ’91, is a candidate for the position of justice of the supreme court of Minnesota. IOWA CITY, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1904
Iowa Man Wins Again

Dr. A. N. Bywater, Homeopathic Medico '08, was again successful in a controversy with his contemporaries at Iowa Falls. This time he declared a certain disease to be chicken pox where another physician had diagnosed it as small pox. His decision was upheld by the state board of health.

Thirteen deaths have resulted from football this season. The casualty list is the same as last year, but the number of serious injuries at this season's games has been increased. The season just closed will exceed that of any year since the introduction of the modern college sport. The players number 296.

Miss Ervets has received a communication from the Snow Hill Normal School for colored girls in Alabama, asking the aid of the university girls in furnishing the funds to replace a recently destroyed dormitory. A box has been placed in the girls drawing room to receive contributions.

C. W. Jones of Davenport a graduate of the Law college of the State University and a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity when he attended this school, was united in marriage on Thanksgiving day to Miss Ada S. Sargent at her home in Geneseo, Ill. The newly wed couple will reside in Davenport.

Construction work on the new university buildings is moving steadily on in spite of the wintry winds now prevailing. At the new hall of science the building of the concrete floor in the basement is in progress, all the tunnels and sub-basements have been completed, as far as masonry work is concerned. Down the hill at the new gymnasium plastering is in progress. The slate roofing of the big structures is practically done, and the exterior of the building presents a finished appearance.
