Contents Have Had Experience and Good Preliminary is Expected

The time is drawing near for the holding of a contest of the Northern Oratorical Association, and speculations are rife as to what young man and what society will secure the coveted position. Already considerable interest has been manifested in the competition.

So far, however, only nine persons have declared their intention of taking part. These young men are as follows: Messrs. Redfield, Swaine and McIntosh, of Irving Institute, Messers. Baird, Vestal and Miller, of Philo matian; Messrs. Douglass and Callan, of Forum; and Mr. Ander son, of Zetagahian. Most of these are experienced speakers, and will put up a hard fight.

Since there are not more than eight contests, the first contest will be held January 5, at which time five men will be chosen for the regular preliminary three weeks later. From those taking part in the latter contest will be selected Iowa's representative for the finals.

The nearness of the time of these contests makes it necessary to hold a meeting of all contestants soon for the selection of judges. This meeting will be held in Room 812, Monday evening, December 17. It is possible that other business connected with this matter may be brought up at the same time.

HOSPITAL DANCE

The Medics will abandon their buses and gory pursuits and don their gala dress and swell the medical function of the year Friday evening, December 9, at Smith's armory. Molesherry's Orchestra will furnish the music.

The patrons of the Training School moved this week into their new home most of the house. The dance is given by the Medics to raise funds for the better furnishing of the facility.

The patrons and patronesse will be:

President, and Mrs. Macon Dean and Mrs. Guthrie Dr. and Mrs. Jepson Dr. and Mrs. Birring Dr. and Mrs. White

Writers Club met last evening with Mrs. Sherwood.

Ralph Downing, A. V. of Washington, Iowa, was in the city yesterday. He is at present engaged in the real estate business.

Prof. H. F. Wickham delivered a university extension lecture at Fort Dodge last night and a lecture at Algona tonight. His lectures are considered as the most interesting and classic groups in the study of entomology.

The Thursday and Friday biology classes are in charge of Mr. Heil this week during the absence of Professors Nutting and Wickham.

Auracher is Re-elected

At a meeting of the Grinnell football team, Emery Auracher was re-elected captain for the season of 1905.

Stauffer, Captain of Ames

Stauffer, who exchanged at full back with Scott on the Ames football team, has been elected captain of the squad for next fall. Stauffer is a Sophomore and a good student.

There was a general feeling that the captaincy should go to Jensen, who not only proved to be an exceptionally good quarter back and field general, but a brill iant all around athlete.

There have been several threats, however, of protesting Jensen on charges of professionalism and it is possible that the fear of such a protest made it advisable not to choose him for captain.

A fund for the assistance of needy students at the University of Michigan has been established by the graduating class of 1903 in the literary and engineering departments. About $300 has already been paid into the fund and it is anticipated that the amount of $500 is signed by members of the class. The sum is to be distributed among those students who have proved themselves worthy of receiving and are payable on or before ten years from the date of graduation.
Subscribers to the DAILY IOWAN should remember that the limit of time during which the $2.00 subscription rate will be accepted will be reached on January 1. All persons who have not paid their subscriptions and who wish to take advantage of the cash reduction should see that this matter is attended to before the Christmas holidays.

Together with the above announcement the IOWAN wishes to announce a rate for the remainder of the year. The IOWAN will be delivered at your door for the remainder of the school year for the price of $1.50. This amount must be paid before the holidays in order to be accepted. The IOWAN will have 155 more issues during this school year. You will be paying just a little more than a cost for four years paper. The IOWAN hopes to present all the university news and earnestly solicits the support of the student body in its endeavor.

Prof. Gordon Edmunds
President MacLean and a number of university men in the professional schools who have won honors in debate and oratory were entertained informally at dinner with Professor and Mrs. Gordon at their residence on North Capitol street yesterday evening. After an enjoyable hour at the table, there was a discussion, entered into heartily, of two of the important problems in the general work in public speaking in the university. How shall we secure larger university representation in this line? How shall we give due honor to the men who are winning forensic honors?

Prof. C. O. Nutting is in St. Louis this week during the closing days of the Exposition. He expects to obtain a large number of specimens from the exhibits of the United States Fish Commission and other government collections for the University Museum. Many of these specimens are very rare and valuable and will prove attractive additions to the Zoological department of the University.

Epiphan Tau met yesterday afternoon in the campus hall with a regular business meeting yesterday afternoon. Dr. Van Tassel held a special meeting yesterday evening in the Women's drawing room.

At the usual change in the time of drill for the winter months was made this week. Drill will occur in Smith's Assembly once a week, Companies A and B drilling on Monday and Wednesday, Companies C and D on Tuesday and Thursday. Classes in military science for freshmen and sophomores, to be held also once a week, will be formed very soon the instruction to be in charge of the various officers.

Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago and Manager Baird of Michigan have made a tentative agreement for football games between the teams they represent for 1905 and 1906. The first game is to be played in Chicago and the second at Ann Arbor. The compact is contingent upon the settlement of the trouble over the great stands that collapsed during the Michigan-Wisconsin game at Marshall field two years ago. The damage suits resulting from the accident have not been satisfactorily settled.

AMUSEMENTS

Lovers of melodramas will find one very much to their liking at the opera house on Saturday evening when Howland and Clifford will present Joe Le Bandit's latest effort "Over Niagara Falls." Much that is new to melodramatic attractions is included in this play. Novel character drawing, a unique plot that is away from the old hackneyed ideas so much in vogue; scenic and mechanical effects that are meritorious, and electrical appliances, the invention of which has been necessitated by some of these effects are shown. Howland and Clifford have taken much care with this production, and one of the season's greatest successes is the result. A fine cast fills the various parts.
