CHARLES LUMMIS WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Talks on Matters Pretaining to
The West—An Interesting
Speaker

Charles Lummis, a well known lecturer on subjects pertaining to the west will deliver a lecture tonight in the hall of liberal arts. His subject will be "Primitive Music of the Southwest."

"The most unique and perhaps the most delightful and interesting book yet written on American History" says Thomas W. Worth Blightyon of that well known publication, "Some Strange Corners of Our Country."

Mr. Lummis, the author of this book has won high honors not only as an historian, but in the great field of fiction, as witness "The Ring of the Nunas," which the Boston Journal of Education has thus to say: "no one else knows as much of the western country can compare with him in the portrayal of its characteristics in life.

It is hoped the University and Iowa City will give this eminent man and lecturer a cordial welcome upon his appearance in this city this evening at the hall of liberal arts in a lecture entitled "Primitive Music of the South West."

The lecture will be illustrated by renderings of Indian and Old Spanish melodies by means of a phonograph.

The lecture is free to the public.

The main floor will be reserved until eight o'clock for the holders of tickets, which may be obtained at the Registrar’s office, Old Capitol Building.

Hawkeye Election

The sophomore class in the College of Liberal Arts will hold a red hot meeting this afternoon to select the personnel of the senior annual board for next year. The election is somewhat earlier than usual but the class polls have been held the past few days framing up their slate to be presented this afternoon.

The Irvingts, Erodolphis, Prat, twitter, Philomathians, Octave Tansets and the Engineers have combined on one slate headed by Joe R. Wilson, 3rd. Prefect in Club and Walter R. for prefect. Manager. H. W. Barness for Joe Burgess lead the Zeta combobte.

Sigma Chi gave an informal smoker Monday evening.

The regular midweek prayer meeting of the association will meet at Close Hall.

Next Saturday Prof. Ben B. Ames, professor of Cornell University, will give an address to the university students at 4 o’clock. This address will be open to the public.

Newman society held a most successful meeting last night having added several new members. After the initiation a pleasant social evening was enjoyed.
The Iowan would like to take this occasion to call the attention of the student body to the movement which was begun last year looking toward the organization of county clubs among the student body for the purpose of doing evangelistic work for the institution. Quite a number of good health clubs were launched last year but all of the counties are not yet organized by an agency. Students should take it upon themselves to see that all Iowa students from their home county get together once in a while. Two heges are better than one.

The organization of student delegates and faculty members which held its first meeting for this year yesterday afternoon is bound to produce a great deal of good. The free discussion of important questions in the university life by both students and faculty members in joint session gives both elements a clearer conception of the opinions of the other. The attendance at yesterday’s meeting was large and indicates that the organization will have a successful year. It is certain that it has important questions to consider and students particularly should not hesitate to show an interest in its discussions.

Deorology is Discarded

The doxology has been discarded at the University of Chicago. The faculty has agreed with the students that college songs do more to breed a truer religious and college spirit than the chanting of the tunes of Christia belief, and today all chapel services in the junior college “Alma ma” was substituted for the doxology.

Edda—on Saturday evening, Dec. 8. The paper of the evening was by Prof. George F. Plom, who gave an interesting discussion of “The Scandinavians in America contributing a great amount of new information on the scandinavian a.s. a factor in American life.

At Other Schools

The Indiana association of master bakers is urging introduction into Purdue University a course of scientific baking. As a part of the improvement of the California campus which is soon to be undertaken, it is planned to plant the bare hills which rise behind the university with redwoods, firs and oaks. It is expected in time these hills will be covered by a great natural forest, which will offer a beautiful background for the Greater University.

Harvard University celebrated a peculiar sort of founder’s day. Last Tuesday services were held commemorating the baptism of John Harvard, who gave the University its start, at St. Savior’s School, London. It was the 379th anniversary, the baptism having taken place November 29, 1607. His baptism is celebrated instead of his birth, because the exact date of the latter is not known.

Price For A Song

Students musically inclined and wishing to give vent to their talent will now have an opportunity to do so with a possibility of winning a money prize. The following is an offer from the president's office which was given to the Iowan for publication this morning and which may interest many students.

"A prize of $25 is offered to the author of a song, for the State University of Iowa; which shall be adjudged worthy of acceptance for such purpose by a committee of three impartial persons. The song may be presented with or without words, signed with a pseudonym, and accompanied by a signed envelope containing name of the author."

Soundings for Dam

The soundings for the new dam will be made by the engineering students this winter. As soon as the ice is thick enough to bear one up the work will be begun and will be carried on during the winter and the soundings will be worked out so that by spring data will be ready to begin the work of construction. It is thought that better work could be done through the ice than working from boats.

A little work has been done already, some excavating being done on the river bank so as to expose the rock surface.

Dr. Frederick E. Bolton, the head of the department of pedagogy, is in considerable demand as a lecturer over the country. He has just received an invitation to give a course of lectures at the university of Nebraska. He will accept it if possible. Already he has accepted an invitation to give a course of lectures at Highland Park college at some future date. An invitation to address the American Sociological Association at their annual meeting at Chicago had to be refused. He will deliver a course of three lectures at Washington, Iowa, just after the holidays.

Real success means popular approval. From this view point "Twelfth Night," with Miss Wainwright as Viola, is one of the phenomenal hits of the season, for the "Standing Room Only" sign is the accompanying adjunct, in constant attendance, wherever she appears. See her tonight.

Cheerfulness

Learns to laugh: a good laugh is better than medicine. Learn to keep your own trouble to yourself; the world is too busy to care for your life and sorrows. Learn to step speaking; if you cannot say anything good in the world keep the bad to yourself. Learn to hide your ashes and pains under pleasant smiles; nobody cares to know your troubles. Learn to keep your temper; if you are right you can afford to hold it; if you are wrong you cannot afford to lose it. Learn to meet your friends with a smile: a good humored man or woman is always welcome. Learn to buy your Cigars, Cigarettes and Pipes at the Clinton Street Smoke House.
