Cotillion Will Be Very Elaborate.

Colors for Decoration Will Be Old Gold And White

The Music

At a meeting of the sophomore society committee last night, arrangements were made for the cotillion to be held on Saturday evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. May. It is expected that there will be about 150 guests.

The cotillion will be held in the south room of the Old Building, and the dance will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

The committee is working on the program, and arrangements are being made for a grand Cotillion. The music will be furnished by the University orchestra, and the dance will be attended by a large number of people.

Rhodes Scholarship men must hurry

Date for Examination has not Last been selected—Candidates

Students in any Iowa institution wishing to become candidates for the Rhodes Scholarship have only two days more to make up their minds. According to the decision of the Rhodes Trustees in this country the names of candidates must be registered by December 15 of this year. President George E. Mullen of the University of Iowa is chairman of the committee for the state of Iowa, and all applications must be filed with him. The names of those who have already notified him are not yet being given to the public.

It is not yet definitely known who will be the candidates from the University this year. In all probability C. W. Ross who passed the examinations last year will again appear before the committee of selection. Ralph Ford was received at the presidents office yesterday that the examinations will take place the 17th and 18th of January. The examinations are three months earlier than last year and candidates will have to begin preparation at once.

Each one is requested to accompany his application (1) with a statement of the reasons that led to his birth, (2) with a certificate from the president of the college or university which he attended or in which he has studied, showing what work he has done and certain mathematics, Latin and Greek.

It has been decided that all universities shall hand in by the 15th of January at least the end of their sophomore year. Scholars must be unmarried citizens of the United States, between nineteen and twenty-five years of age.

Where several candidates present themselves from a single college or university, the committee of selection will request the faculty of the college to decide between these candidates, and the one chosen by the committee will be the candidate chosen by the college as its representative in the final election.

Miss Mary C. Joyce has left the University on account of illness. Miss Joyce was one of the most popular students in the University. She was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, and was known for her kindness and her intelligence.

Miss Stella Wiley has returned from Castine where she was called on account of illness of her relatives.

Students desiring to teach after the holidays or beginning with the second semester must register by January 15. These must make up their minds at once with Professor Botkin, Room 217, hall of liberal arts.

On Quack Schools

Mr. Russell makes some pointed remarks

Praises Iowa Pharmaceutical Department and favors State Amendment.

Chairman Russell of the board of registrars who attended the meeting of the board of registrars a short time ago made some very pointed remarks regarding the course in other pharmacy schools in the state and their methods of awarding diplomas. Mr. Russell is a strong advocate in favor of an amendment that shall remedy the existing conditions. The following is in his own words:

"Without being specific I want to put on record as saying that the pharmacy commissioners are satisfied themselves after thorough investigation that the law has furnished shelter to unscrupulous persons who have established schools in which the university course is prescribed and that these schools in consideration of a tuition fee are guaranteeing their students diplomas and medical certificates. We have found that the holders of these diplomas are not competent pharmacists and cannot pass the examinations prescribed by this board and are fully satisfied that they do not pass the examinations prescribed by the schools of which they are students, but nevertheless are receiving their diplomas.

"We believe that conscientious work is being done at the State Board of Pharmacy but there are at least three or four places where there only is persons passing the examinations. We would like to say this for other schools.

"That we want an amendment is not a secret. It is the duty of this board to act as an examining board as is prescribed by the supreme court of this state. If a county has no school we are of opinion that at least no person is allowed to practice without a license. We want an amendment which will give us the power of examining the people who have been received.

"We want an amendment and that is the only reason we have to come before the board. We believe that there is too much incompetency among the licentiates in the state of Iowa. We believe that the Iowa law in this respect is the law of the land.

Whitney Society Meets

As the meeting of Whitney last night was a great success, Professor F. B.oon was called on to address the society. He gave a very interesting paper on "The Story of Agnes Bernauer and Dakota." His speech was very well received and was substantially received by the society.

Prof. T. H. Masbride is in Des Moines attending a meeting of the Park and Forestry association.

President MacLean will deliver the address at the 60th Anniversary of the Presbyterian church at Independence next Sunday.

Students who wish to become candidates for the Rhodes scholarship must hand their names to the President George E. MacLean or to the office before Thursday in such a manner as to secure a place for themselves.

Thus far there has been some doubt about who will enter the contest from Iowa state university. The Iowa representative who suffers the examination last year and was defeated for the appointment only because his opponent from Green well held a degree is still in school. Iowa cannot afford to be without a representative this year, nor should the thought last year's candidate from here be still in the race hinder anyone else from competing.

From present indications, all of the schools of Iowa of any size will be represented in the race for the prize. Iowa, as the cap stone of the educational system of the state must have strong representatives. Iowa should hand the prize this year by all means. There are no scholarship students so well equipped to go into the prize. These students are little more than a month yet to prepare for the examination. No doubt many Iowa university students would be able to win honors for themselves in this contest.

At their Schools

It is possible that within the near future a prohibition belt of five miles will surround the University of Michigan.

The University of Munich has opened its doors to women. It is the first of the German universities to do so. The Ohio legislature has appropriated $75,000 for the use of the state university.

A daily paper in Minneapolis has aroused to realize the anger of the university women by making the statement that an opera is soon to be given under the auspices of the Woman's League, is unit for presentation.
