When Charles B. Hanford to the university city had more significance than that of the ordinary theatrical star. Iowa university being an integral center of local interest in the Shakespeare plays and particularly to the presentation of them by Charles B. Hanford. Mr. Hanford was greeted by a full house last night in spite of the bad weather. In the audience were many members of the university faculty and large numbers of students from the English department who are studying the Shakespeare plays. The members of the junior class were particularly interested in the material for their mock trial from the play of "Othello." Mr. Hanford visited Iowa City twice last year and both times was greeted with enthusiasm in the audience. Mr. Hanford visited Iowa City and the state university will look forward to his coming visits with a great deal of pleasure.

Gentlemen,—I take this opportunity to inform you that we are very much pleased with the Packard piano purchased of you a short time ago. We wish to compliment the company on their choice in selecting the case, a "Burl Walnut," which is a very fine one. I feel that it now has a very good investment in buying this piano, and is fully reassured for solving the rebua problem because you have the advices pub­ ished on your rebua.

The instant I received a credit of $50 in doing so. With best wishes for a prosperous New Year,

I am yours truly,

Peter Loewen

The success of our recent ventures in advertising has been the means of placing our pianos in many of the leading homes throughout the state of Iowa and western Illinois, and the phenomenal increase of our business resulting there­from, has stimulated us to greater possibilities, and we have decided to give our customers the benefit of $1,750, to be distributed as follows: Two of the first five hundred in this ad, will receive a credit of $250 to be applied upon the purchase price of a piano or organ. We will then find our entire stock reduced, and the next fifteen will receive a credit of $1,750, which we will charge to our ad­ vertisng account.

With a little study you can do as well, and remember that we are the largest exclusive piano house in the west, with an enviable reputation of over fifty years standing, and the home in the state of Iowa that sells pianos actively on the one price plan.

Every instrument marked in plain figures, and at prices ranging from $100.00 to $300.00 less than usually asked for pianos of on equal grade. Write to-day.

AMUSEMENTS

"Peggy from Paris", a George Ade mininal comedy which will be at the Opera House Friday evening, will be at its best for its wit but for its originality and its many novelties. One of the latter which is of striking interest to persons uninhibited behind the scenes of a theatre, is the setting of a stage in full view of the spectators. This process is carried out in reality not in pretense. One set of scenery is "stuck", which is the theatrical expression for ready made, and another scene is set in place or "made", and all in plain sight of the audience, which is usually a part of the action of the play. The scene represents the preparation of the stage of the Forum Theatre in Chicago for the reception of a distinguished foreign singer.

The old suit. No doubt the coat is good, but trousers are somehow given to being the first to look shabby—Generally takes 2 about the odd pair. We carry a line of
