Greek Societies May Form Permanent Pan Hellenic Organization

A meeting of the Pan Hellenic West League of last year will be partly carried out as if through the present winter the same the men who was started last year. The trophy last year was won by paying off the tie with the Kappa sign. The schedule of the Pan Hellenic party was called for a base board match between a team of each of the Greek Societies of the university. Every fraternity played on Thursday night of each week at the front of the fraternity not competing on that night. A handsome trophy was designed for the winner of the competition this year.

The most elaborately costumed, the most entertaining of the dramatic parties appeared before the footlights last year will be seen again, while five new members, Mr. Morrissey who takes the leading role, Miss Heggie, Mrs. Broderick, and Mrs. Herlts form the nucleus of the present play, "An American Citizen."

Member interest is being taken in the plays the Dramatic Club give, by the University Zoological, by the university faculty and Mr. Roy Stoltenburg and Mr. Roy Stoltenburg. Mary's Lyceum Bureau are lending valuable help in the planning and the raising of funds. The play will undoubtedly be well attended and no one can afford to miss it. It is a scene of the story seeing the dramatic talent of the university in final effort. The price is reduced to 50 cents all over the house.

TALKS ON BASEBALL

BREWER OF AMES MAKES STATEMENT

In my opinion the state games committee will never assume control of inter-collegiate baseball, said Guy Brewer, sec'y of the committee, representing iowa, to a representative of the Iowa. After consulting over all the propositions and suggestions made by the various schools in the state regarding this matter, the committee decided that it would have any thing to do with baseball control. The element of professionalism is so prevalent in college baseball and its affairs are so mixed up generally that we will allow it to remain under the state's control.

What will you have us do? The State University asks us to manage it. Will you draw up a clause to insert in the constitution which will require a provision in it that professionalism committed before 1904 shall be condemned, and wilt you have your hand in the planning of the game?

The university finds fault with the 1904 clauses. It deems dissatisfaction with the whole business, Ames consented reluctantly and Drake has no feeling one way or the other. We are no longer that the colleges we expect and must obey their will. When the word comes in to segregate baseball, make it a branch of athletics apart from school and university affairs. If we are going to think of the professionalism in baseball why not let inter-collegiate athletics go to the baseball to eliminate, good amateur player in big college. But we are about as well have professional college baseball team.

When asked whether this was not radically opposed to the system of college sports and would be a bad precedent to establish, Mr. Brewer acknowledged the objection but said he could see no solution for the problem.

Will the committee class the state baseball games as recognized standing?

"I do not know. We should doubtless regard the normal as a recognized college, but we may follow up the suggestion of the Conference and call it a secondary school." Mr. Brewer then said that the committee did not have the power of the state rules committee and that the proposed, a method for the reinstatement of the time from the controversy among the states was an important one, and that the matter should be left to the colleges to settle the dispute and the all. colleges committee, he said, would be the right course to take in the case of all problems.

Professor T. H. McBride lectured last night at Cedar Rapids on, "The Lilies; The Grasses; Core and Grains."
