NEW SCIENCE LAB

ASSAY LABORATORY HAS BEEN INSTALLED

Makes a Decided Addition to Geology Department—Prof. Wilder in Charge

The assaying laboratory of the Mining Engineering department is an addition which has been much acknowledged by the students of the university. With the most modern equipment and spacious rooms the university now has one of the most complete assay laboratories among western colleges.

For the present the laboratory will occupy the first floor of the chemical building. The rooms on the south side have been plastered and renovated. Partitions have been removed and the room enlarged.

The laboratory has six furnaces for which are heated by gas and two by coal and oil. The gas furnaces, three of which were made by the H. H. Dental Mfg. Co. and one by the Altman Co., the others in the Central Scientific Co., will be used for the lighter work.

The coal and coke furnaces, one of which is a three muffel assay furnace, was built by the Denver First City Co. The other is a one muffel Brown furnace. The two will be used for all the heavier work such as melting the large charges.

The rock will be crushed by a new jaw and bladed mill which will be an asset to the plant. The auxiliary building has installed a set of Ainsworth assay balances. The balances and other equipment are very accurate and will give accurate results.

One hundred samples of ore have been received from the American Smelting and Refining Co., of Kimberly, Utah. These have all been carefully assayed by an expert and will be used as standards.

Prof. Wilder and Mr. Bryden are endeavoring to have a gasoline furnace installed beside those now in use. This probably will be done before the opening of college in September. However with the furnace that the laboratory now has any ore may be assayed.

Prof. Wilder and Mr. Bryden have been studying in their efforts to make this course stand out with that of the other mining schools and to them is due the credit for the success.

The course will be given one afternoon and Saturday morning.

Mr. Bryden will have charge of the work associated by Prof. Wilder.

The class is now being taught by Prof. Wilder.

Prof. C. S. Magowan will read an address from President Judson at the annual meeting on the subject, "Some examples of Steel Structures," illustrated by lantern slides.

Y.M.C.A. HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

New Officers Elected, Representative Men—Stearns New President

Last night the Y. M. C. A. held its annual election of officers at close Hall. The following men were chosen for the several offices:

President: Robert W. Stensz 99
V. Pres., L. A., E. L. Olsen 97
L. G. Barnard 97
M. W. Thorburg 96
D. G. Graham 97
R. Sec. Ph., M. R. Dickinson 96
Treas. M. H. L. Grace 97

These men will enter office April 1, for a term of one year during which time the management of the Association interests will be committed to their care.

The election was quite democratic, and the candidates and the care of the Association's affairs are in capable hands.

The Drama given by these societies was well received and was heartily recommended.

The Drama given by the Philoethanas and Octave Thespian societies in St. Brendan's hall was a success in every particular. The hall was well filled, and an exceptionally pleasing play was rendered. In the title of the play one has a clear idea of the nature of the comedy. "Brother Golden" is a name and character which provokes in every motion and appearance. This part was President MacLean delivered the principal address of the day. The subject of Judge Deemer's talk was "Craft and Greed.

Before taking up his subject the speaker congratulated the university upon the completion of the new structure.

Continuing he showed that the abilities of all great men were challenged; that during their lives their ideas and aims were attacked by contemporaries. Fortunate indeed he said, was any nation which had a Washington and a Lincoln, and again by the superb keynote so well expressed.

The Sigma Nu fraternity will give their annual banquet at the Burkle college Wednesday night, in honor of Judge Deemer.

At the dedicatory exercises of the gymnasium, the university golf club made its first public appearance. Great credit is due President MacLean for his interest and untiring energy in its organization and his part in bringing about the present high standing the club has won for itself in the minds of the student body.

The singing yesterday was of exceptional quality and the boys were heartily approved by audiences.

The broad spirit which appears in the founding, by the former students of the State Agricultural College, of an organization to promote the friendly feeling between the two institutions is typical of the change which has occurred in the thought of the student body of the university.

The undergraduate has come to realize that the two schools are not far from being rivals. Each has its field marked out, its work to do and the objects of the existance of both are similar.

Hard words have not been spared in the past by the students of both schools. But this feeling has passed away when a realis-tion of real merits of the situation was thoroughly understood.

The movement has come very properly from a man who not only occupies a prominent position in the regard of the students of Iowa University but who is well and favorably known to the student body of the Agricultural College.

His call for the initial meeting met with a prompt and hearty re-

Annual Lecture

The annual lecture conducted by the Sigma XI fraternity was given in the Auditorium Tuesday evening by Prof. R. D. Salisbury of Chicago University. The subject of the lecture was "Remarkable Changes of the Past in Land and Sea." The lecturer treated the various Geological phenomena in a way that strongly demonstrated his mastery of the subject. Prof. Salisbury is the head of the Geology department in Chicago University.

Athletic Ball

The first social function in the new auditorium was given last night by the Board of Athletic Control in honor of the "I" men of the university. About one hundred couple were present and the music was furnished by Mabury's orchestra. Promptly at one o'clock amid the strains of "Home Sweet Home," the lights gradually died out and one of the most successful and enjoyable dancing parties ever held in the university was ended.

The Historical Library is in receipt of a bound manuscript containing notes upon two series of lectures delivered by Professor Amos Dean, the first chancellor or president of the university. The notes are exceptionally complete and cover some eighty-nine lectures given before the law college of the university.

Professor Fitzpatrick has given their records in the Historical Society; those of the latter are absolutely complete, while a few of the former are missing. The Iowa City Academy Literary Society have also donated their records, covering a period of some thirty years. The Historical Society is especially anxious to obtain the records of the Aldine society, which flourished about ten years ago, any one possessing information in regard to them will confer a favor by notifying Professor Fitzpatrick.
