TAKE RUSSIAN PLAY

SENIORS TO ENACT "A RUSSIAN HONEYMOON"

Cast Will Receive Credit in Public Speaking—Call Made Manager

The committee appointed some time ago by the senior class to secure a play for the June exercises has reported. The play selected is a three act comedy entitled "A Russian Honeymoon" adopted by Mrs. Burton Harrison from the French of Eugene Scribe.

The scene of the play is in Russian Poland and the time is 1850. Count Woroffski has married Poleska de Fermstein but soon finds that she has such a temper that their married life will be spoiled. The count then enters the service of a shoemaker on one of his estates and tells his wife that he has deceived her, that he is not of royal blood but a mere serf and that by their marriage she too is made a slave. He makes her spin and sew, and tames her as Petruchio did Katharine. The countess gets an appeal to the count's sister and that gentleman is arrested by his own guards. Poleska secures an order of divorce but at the last moment she finds that she cannot leave her husband, even though he is a serf. The count then discloses his royal self and the birds sing once more.

The play is under the management of the public speaking department and try-outs for parts will begin next week. It is hoped that each senior will make trial for a part whether or not he has ever been on a stage, seen one or heard of one. To all those receiving parts credit will be given ranging from 2 to 5 hours. The leading man and lady will each receive five hours and the minor characters from two to four. Merle Call is manager and wishes all seniors to consult him about taking part.

The play was casted at the Madison Square Theatre in 1883 as follows:

Alexis Petrovitch	Mr. F. Brynton
A journeyman (afterward Gustave, Count Woroffski).
Poleska	Agnes Booth
	His wife
Baroness Vladimir	Miss A. Dyas

NEW MACHINE COMES

PATTERSON GETS STATISTICS TABULATOR

Is Loaned To Commercial Museum By Its Inventor Dr. Hollerith

Professor W. R. Patterson, head of the commercial museum of the university, is in receipt of a tabulating machine, which he will use in his statistics classes for the purpose of showing the students the manner of tabulating statistics.

The machine is used in making up the returns of the census in this and other countries, over one hundred having been used in the preparation of the last federal census. The device is manipulated by means of an electric current and permits forty facts to be registered in a single count by simply pressing a lever.

The inventor, Dr. Herman Hollerith, has steadfastly refused to sell the machines. They may, however, be rented for $1000 per year. Fortunately for the university Dr. Hollerith has a sufficient interest in the advancement of statistical knowledge to waive his usual fee and allows the classes in this subject to use it free of charge.

It is expected that other firms will later contribute their tabulating devices which if realized will soon give the university a well equipped statistical laboratory.

Basketball Games

The Coe Basketball team will meet the varsity in the gym Saturday night. Coe was defeated by Grinnell last Saturday by a decisive score. On next Monday night our team will go to Grinnell to determine the college championship. Of the two games played, Grinnell won the first by a score of 32 to 22 and Iowa took second by a score of 24 to 17.

Polygon will give a dance and initiation tomorrow night at the A. O. H. halls. The initiates are, Mary West, Clara Westbrook, Maurice Kent, Clarence Ladd.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, L. '04, of Fort Dodge, left Mercy Hospital today after having been successfully operated on for appendicitis. Dr. Whiteis performed the operation.

A lecture under the auspices of the Philosophical Club will be given by Dr. Willard K. Clement, on "The Psychology of Advertising", in the auditorium, of the hall of liberal arts, next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Clement is an expert advertiser, who has pursued the study of psychology both in this country and abroad, and is eminently qualified to speak upon the practical significance of psychology in business. The lecture will be open to the public.

TWELFTH MINNESOTA DEBATE TONIGHT

Leaders of Debate Give Statement—Will be Hard Fought Struggle

"We shall do the best we can for Minnesota, and hope to win if we put up the best argument and the best debate."

RAYMOND P. CHASE.

"The Minnesota team has the advantage of age, experience, and time in working up the debate. While not over-confident, we intend to exert all the energy that is in us, and, if possible, to uphold the excellent reputation which Iowa has established along debating lines."

ROBERT T. SWAINE.

These are the statements made by the leaders of the respective teams of Minnesota and Iowa which will meet on the rostrum of the opera house this evening. Neither side feels absolutely confident, but both are determined to exert their utmost power.

The Minnesota debaters arrived this afternoon, and are staying at the Burkley Imperial. They are unaccompanied by any of the students or professors of the rival varsity.

As stated in yesterday's IOWAN the question to be discussed is: "Resolved:—That, freight rates in the United States should be fixed by federal authority (constitutionality not considered)". Minnesota, by Messrs. Raymond P. Chase, Bernard Robinson, and Jesse Stevenson, will uphold the affirmative; while Messrs. Robert T. Swaine, Arthur C. Gordon, and Ray Files, in behalf of Iowa, will defend the negative.

The judges secured are Professor Robinson, of the University of Illinois, Mr. Rice, of Lewiston, Ill., and Mr. Thompson of Ottawa, Ill. The presiding officer will be Hon. Milton Remley of this city. William Healey will be one of the time-keepers, the other having not yet been chosen.

Frederick M. Smith, ex. '98, was in the city yesterday.

Dr. Duren J. H. Ward has been called to Michigan by the illness of his aged father. He will be absent probably for one or two weeks.

"Judge" Gifford, formerly of the law college, is visiting friends in the university. The "Judge" is now a member of a St. Paul law firm which has a flourishing business.

ENGINEERS BANQUET

HOLD THIRD ANNUAL FUNCTION

President MacLean and Others Responded to Toasts—Music by Quartet

Good cheer and good fellowship marked the occasion of the third annual banquet of the engineering society of the college of engineering of the university which was held at the Burkley Imperial last night. An elaborate menu was served and under the direction of Toastmaster H. A. Naberhuis the affair became a brilliant success.

President George E. MacLean, responded to the toast, "An All Round Square Deal," compared the banquets of the engineering society to the Guild Hall Banquets of London at which time the prime minister speaks and usually outlines some policy of the state. "No less significant" he declared, "was the address delivered by Dean Weld at the first banquet which was held here two years ago, in which he referred to persons high in authority in the university, to the Board of Regents, indeed as persons who were not fully alive to the significance of engineering at the State University of Iowa."

"The State University of Iowa will never stand for a trade school permeated with a commercial spirit which aims as its greatest endeavor to turn out good artisans. It will rather stand for professional schools on a university plan which will turn out men greater than their trade or their profession. Health, life and death are in the hands of the engineer. He must never be a careless student and the corruptionist in public life must never be able to make him blink at anything less than the specification. And the spirit of the 'all round square deal' can only be secured in a great College of Technichology situated in the heart of a great university where all of the great branches are indicated and nearly all of them carried out."

Following the address of President MacLean, Professor W. G. Raymond outlined the future of the engineering college which he declared would be built up on three methods. The first aim was to bring the college to a high standard of efficiency for the present and to maintain it in the future. Second to establish a broad and broadening course, thorough and complete in the fundamentals. Third, to secure teachers who will carry out these ideas and an equipment sufficient to meet the needs of the students. "The spirit of our school is work," he declared. "We want no student looking for snap courses, and to our graduates we look to the establishment of the reputation of this college in the university."

The attitude taken by the members of the junior law and medical classes toward the "junior annual" in refusing to have their pictures in the book has caused considerable comment. Heretofore it has been the custom of the members of the junior classes of all the colleges of the university to have their pictures in the annual.

This year the "junior medics," a class of about seventy, established a new precedent by announcing their intentions of not being represented with their pictures and the junior laws at a meeting held Tuesday endorsed the precedent established. At first thought it would seem that this action will be of little importance other than to the management of the book, but upon further consideration this importance is swallowed up in a multitude of others. Every university or college of any standing has some annual publication, the work of the students. This publication, as is our junior annual, is a retrospect of student life and activity of the past year. It not only is of interest to the students and alumni of the university but also to those contemplating higher education.

As students, the book means more and more in years to come, after we have finished here and gone out into our various vocations.

The great objection at present, raised by the juniors of professional departments, is based upon non-representation and lack of interest in the book. It is claimed the "annual is a collegiate book" gotten out by the collegiate department and should be for the collegiate department. There is also an objection due to the fact that both the price of the picture and of the book has been raised. On the other hand it is claimed that the book this year will be larger and of superior merit than heretofore and hence the cost of getting the book up will be much greater. However true this may all be, it must be remembered that although the management of the book is entirely in the hands of the collegiate department, in all other respects the annual is a university book. Whether or not the book will be appreciated by the students here, without the pictures and write-up of the professional departments represents but a small phase of the situation.

How about the alumni who are anxious to know and hear from their various departments? Also the two hundred accredited high schools which receive a copy of the junior annual, and from which we draw the nucleus of our student body? As a rule the graduates from the high schools know very little of the university life and will naturally be very much influenced by the book. How about the students who intend to take up professional work and are looking for a school in which to take their professional work? This is a question of grave importance to the general welfare and future of our university and one which each and every professional student should consider. Taking everything into consideration is the new precedent a good one? Will it survive?

Referee and Starter Secured

At a meeting of the Iowa games committee recently, Secretary Guy A. Brewer was instructed to secure C. O. Duplesis of Milwaukee as referee and starter of the coming state meet. It is practically certain that Duplesis will come.

The work on the constitution was completed, the only new provision being to the effect that the regular members and such other institutions as it should be decided at a convention of the representatives of the accredited ones to invite, shall participate in the meet. This provision gives the "Big Four," Ames, Drake, Grinnell and Iowa, the entire charge of the state field meets.

POINTS ON THE NEW GYM

How to Start Work in the Athletic Pavilion in the Best Way

What does a Fellow need if he takes Gym work? Well he could use his old pants and shirt, but he would have all kinds of trouble, they would bind his arms and legs, so he would be hindered in every thing he tried to do, and the man with a good neat fitting suit would be doing all kinds of stunts before he got started.

What will it cost me to get a fairly good outfit? Now you are talking. The fellows up at the Students' Supply House, have gone over this thing and have on hand just what you want, and Bobbie, or Tommie or Can will be glad to show you everything they have and fix you out. If you are going into the Gym, get ready and go in right. Now you want some kind of a shirt; a jersey is a good thing, in fact the only thing to have, you can get one with half sleeves or sleeveless for 50 cents and they are good to. Or they have a $2.00 jersey that is a mighty good thing. A good sweater is a nice thing to have but you can get along without that. However those fellows can supply you with anything you need in this line.

Pants—"who said pants"—Have you seen those Y. M. C. A. pants, finest thing out, they look neat and are made to fit so they don't bother a man at all. They are flannel good quality $1.75 and $2.50 Knee Tights are nice for gym work and only cost you 50 cents or you can get a pair of running trunk, and use them later in the season on the track, almost forgot to say that they sell for 35 and 50 cents per pair.

How about Shoes, "don't get cold feet" but get a pair of good gym shoes. They have shoes or a slipper with an extra heavy rubber sole for 75 cents. But you might want a shoe with a leather insole, a peach for gym work, baseball or tennis, they cost a little more but are worth it. How about running shoes, a man who speeds needs spikes. You want to see them—best kicks you ever saw.

Now those fellows will give you a complete outfit for $1.85—shoes, pants, shirt and everything. Did you say they can't do it? Well, you just loaf up there sometime between classes and see—they have what they advertise, and can deliver the groceries.

Suppose I need a pair of boxing gloves, a base ball mit, base ball tennis racket, tennis balls, hand balls, or anything of that kind, where will we get them? At the Students Supply House, of course.

Where did you say this place is? 123 Iowa Avenue, up stairs, just across the street from Close Hall. You can't miss it. The fellows want you to come up and see what they have anyway. They are all students in the varsity and will treat you right.

He was briefly followed by H. C. Danielson depicting the growth of the engineering society itself. "In the past three or four years" he declared, "the membership has grown from fifty to nearly one hundred and the work of the society has undergone a marked improvement."

Professor S. M. Woodward, then told of the engineer as a worker, and in his short talk he exposed the fallacy that all of the work of life is accomplished in the university.

Professor F. A. Wilder concluded the regular toasts of the evening by a discussion of the "Luck of the Mining Engineer." In his address he showed that there was greater opportunity for the engineering student and the engineer during the present time than ever before. That the scientific progress has brought under development mines that have been formerly abandoned. But that coupled with good training must be strong character for in no profession was there so much depending upon the individual without a check upon him.

Professor Smith, of Lamoni, a former student in the university was then called upon and in the course of a few minutes he mentioned the graduates of the university he had met who were solving the industrial problems of the nation, and this he declared to be the mission of the engineering student.

The engineering quartet concluded the program of the evening with a touching ditty.
