After the Alumni Trowned Us.

Alumni Shows 'Varsity How to Play Football—'Varsity Must Brace.

Before a good-sized crowd, considering the threatening weather, the Iowa Alumni defeated the Iowa 'Varsity by the score of 4 to 0 by a place kick from the 35 yard line. The 'Varsity was not even given a chance to take the ball but three or four times during the game, and made first down but twice. If the halves had been longer, it might have been a different story. Still, if the 'Varsity could score, it should have been able to do so in thirty minutes of play. McGowan, Streff, Chalmers and White were out of the game for the 'Varsity, but the Alumni had but two days' of practice, and still played better ball and made better interference than the 'Varsity has made all season. All men on the eleven worked together, and were in every play. The 'Varsity did not play so. There were four 1900 men in the game, Warner, Eby, Morton and Williams, but they and their colleagues of 1899, 1901 and 1904 played the 'Varsity off their feet.

When old Alumni can come here without practice and beat the 'Varsity, what must they have been years back, and what would they have done to us if they were in physical condition and had several weeks practice? It would have been worse than Chicago. The old men are whirlwinds, and play like demons. They have not forgotten their old plays nor the game. Joe Warner made a pretty place kick Saturday, something that 'Varsity has never done this season. There is certainly someone among the fellows that can do so with practice. It is a very good thing to rely on—having a man who can fall back any time and make a place kick. It means a rest for the team and four more to their score.

Edson, who captained the Alumni so well was here last evening to give what help he could to the 'Varsity, and Eby and Warner will be here all week.

These 1900 men gave the 'Varsity pointers that they never knew before and helped them materially. Coach Chalmers, with these good assistants, ought to get the team in shape to hold Minnesota down—away down below the score made on Ames. The team must do hard work, and means to do so, and no Iowan need feel shaky about going to Minneapolis for fear the team will disappoint him. McGowan, Chalmers, Streff and White will all be in the game next Saturday. We are going to hold Minnesota like we did last year. Go along and see us do it.

PRACTICE COURT.

The members of the junior and senior classes of the college of law met with Prof. L. M. Byers Monday afternoon and received instructions relative to practice court work which will commence in a short time. Groupings are now being arranged and cases will be assigned in a few days.

Prof. Byers will act as judge of the court this year. He has appointed C. Ramseyer and R. F. Drewry associate justices. D. Schneider will act as clerk of the court and J. P. Reed will perform the duties of sheriff.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity initiated three men into that Greek letter society Friday evening. Those initiated were: James L. Oakes and Grover Desmond of Clinton and Herbert Dickson of Rock Valley.

HESPERIA.

The Heps had an exceedingly interesting program last Saturday evening. The first literary number was "His Wedded Wife," read by Miss Celia Loizeaux. It is needless to say that Miss Loizeaux did justice to the selection. Her readings are always good in every respect, and her listeners, always eager. The debate, Resolved, That the U. S. government should own and control the postal telegraph system in connection with the postoffice, was affirmed by Louise Reherd and Caroline Paulson, and denied by Mae Anders and Edna Kern. It was evident that the girls gave much study to the subject, for both sides received good defence. Miss Sarah Ruby's declamation, "In the arena," was a very difficult one. Nevertheless Miss Ruby pictured very beautifully the tragic scene in that ancient Athenian arena. It always sounds good to have the old days in Hesperia recalled, and Miss Alta Sample told of the many happy times the girls had in "Old South Hall." Miss Edith Curtis read an essay entitled, "America's greatest author." She told in a simple way, and yet in a beautiful way, about the man who wrote the "Sketch Book."

After the program, the girls gave a spread to the initiated. A number of Zets persisted in having a share of the good things as well, but after much persuasion the boys decided to go home and leave the Heps to their fun.

DISCUSS MISSION STUDY.

The Y. M. C. A. devoted their Sunday afternoon meeting to presenting the study of missions. Messrs. McClain, McDonald and Hemphill made earnest addresses on the subject. Classes will be organized after the prayer meeting Wednesday evening. Men should remember these mid-week prayer-meetings, which are held every Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 7:00 in the tower room at Close hall.

Y. W. C. A. ROOMS TO BE IMPROVED.

The rooms of the Y. W. C. A. in Close hall, will be cleaned in the near future, and made more attractive. New paper will be put on the walls and other needed improvements made.

Nothing has been done to these rooms since the time of the Parvin donation, and these changes will be welcomed by all members of the association.

Y. W. C. A. RECOGNITION SERVICE.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Y. W. C. A. held a "Recognition Service" for new members. The order of service followed was one which is sent out by the American committee for use in student associations. A large number of new members were received.

ALUMNUS APPEARS.

The Alumnus appeared yesterday. It is a handsome and creditable publication. Everything about it is good, and shows most careful work on the part of the editors, and plenty of it. Prof. Plum is still managing editor, having been so eminently satisfactory to the alumni that they refused to receive his resignation, which he tendered on account of lack of time.

FRATERNITY DOINGS.

Last Saturday evening the Kappas initiated Josephine Lynch, Catherine Green, Mildred Schultz, Jessie Mantrey, Henrietta Prentiss, Catherine Lovell, and Flora Cooper.

Delta Delta Delta initiated Ruth Marsh, Pearl Landon, Ida Hobson and Agnes Ainsworth last Friday evening. Next Friday Jessie Royal, Len Bentley, Alice Wilson, Mrs. Stecker, Miss Hall and Miss Daley will be initiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Coast will entertain the Kappas and Betas at euchre at their home Tuesday evening, October twenty-fourth.

Saturday evening Libbie George, Myrtle Gabriel, Virginia Haldeman and Miss McBride were initiated into Pi Beta Phi.

Maude Delmedge was called home Sunday by the death of her sister, Mrs. Chase.

Pauline Swisher, Naoma Hayes and Roberta Wright have been initiated into Delta Gamma.

Pauline Crouse, of Waterloo, was the guest of Joanna Strange the latter part of last week.

The sororities will have a pan-Hellenic dance Saturday afternoon, October 21, from 1:30 to 6:00, in Majestic hall.

President MacLean has been invited to speak greetings for the state universities at the inauguration of the president of Westminster college at Fulton, Missouri.

Will Mullin, an '06 Medic, has returned to Colorado Springs, after a visit with friends here.

$4.75 to Minneapolis

A GREAT CHANCE FOR STUDENTS TO A TRIP.

The Band Will Accompany the Foot Ball Team.

The Athletic union has secured a rate of five dollars for the round trip to Minneapolis on next Friday when the Iowa football team will go to meet the giants from the north. The S. U. I. band will go and furnish music for the game.

Two hundred tickets will be sold at $1 each and the purchaser will then be entitled to get his final ticket for $3.75 at the depot. Only 200 will be sold and all others will then have to pay the full $5 rate. These must be sold by Wednesday evening to insure the special train. Buy a ticket at once. Don't wait if you want the best rate.

SABIN'S NEW BOOK.

Iowa Alumnus is Foremost Delineator of Boy Life Among Literary Men of Today.

E. L. Sabin, better known as "Ed" some fifteen years ago in Iowa University, has been coming to the front for some time as a writer of stories of boy life. The more these stories appear, the better people like them. They are easily the best in their class.

Soon after leaving the University Mr. Sabin began writing. His poems, mostly humorous, have been published from time to time in Puck and other periodicals. But his master-work is his delineation of boy life. Every man who has had a true boyhood recognizes genuineness at once.

"Beaumont Chums" is such a story. The scene is on the Mississippi river. Beaumont is doubtless Clinton, where Mr. Sabin's early life was spent, his father being superintendent of Clinton schools. The dogs, the boys and all the incidents are full of life, and command your interest, begin anywhere you please.

The publishers are Thomas Y. Crowell & Co. The price is $1.00.

DR. PATTERSON AT ILLINOIS.

Dr. Patterson goes this week to attend the inauguration of President James, of Illinois university. On Friday he will deliver an address dealing with commercial museums in modern universities.

After this he will go to Chicago, where he will do some work in the interest of the commercial museum here.

Dr. Patterson was a student in Pennsylvania when President James was in that institution.

WEIL'S BAND.

Weil's famous band will give a matinee at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Recollect the time; 2 o'clock, not 2:30.

THE LECTURE COURSE.

One may be judged to some extent by the amusements he chooses. One of the highest classes of amusement is offered by the lecture course. A first class course is one of the regular features in all good schools.

It is a privilege to have the opportunity to attend such a series of entertainments as is offered in the course soon to be opened here.

Two fine musical programs, a lecture by one of the foremost literary men of the day and two humorous numbers make up a combination that is ideal for the busy student. They offer pleasure for relaxation and have a decided culture value.

The price is exceedingly low. It is surprising that these numbers can be offered for twenty cents each. In fact it can only be done by the special combination of circumstances that exist in such places as this. One of the elements necessary to such a combination is ready patronage. The rest has been done by the management. Let the students and faculty do their part, and it is done.

REGENTS ASK FOR APPROPRIATIONS.

WANT $261,000 ANNUAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS.

Also Continuance or Increase of the Millage Tax for Five Years—New Wing for University Hospital—Regents File Biennial Report Today.

The biennial report of the board of regents of Iowa university to the governor and the thirty-first general assembly was submitted Saturday. When published it will fill a 200-page volume, and is a review of the progress of the university in all lines during the past two years.

The most important feature of the report is the legislative budget. The regents will ask annual and special appropriations to the amount of $261,000, and the extension of the one-fifth mill tax for another period of five years, with perhaps an increase in it. This millage tax expires in 1907 and a list of new buildings needed is given as self evident reason why there should be an increase.

A building for the college of law, now crowded into the second floor of the Old Capitol without library facilities.

An assembly hall of sufficient size to accommodate all the students.

Fireproofing of the Old Capitol.

A library building.

Extension of the engineering building.

A chemical laboratory.

Astronomical laboratory.

Modern gymnasium.

Woman's building, to provide a home for women students.

Commons for men, where board may be obtained at cost.

Buildings for geology, botany and physics.

Additional support to the amount of $35,000 annually is asked, as "the increase in students demands an increase of instructors, and also increase in the salaries of many, to prevent the loss of the best men in the faculty.

An appropriation for land purchases is asked. $50,000 is needed. The statement is made that it will be economy to buy now, as prices are constantly increasing.

A special appropriation of $35,000 is asked for the equipment of the hall of natural science, which will be completed a year from January.

For the equipment of the engineering building, $10,000.

An annual support fund of $10,000 for the library.

Repair and contingent fund increased from $7,500 to $10,000.

For sidewalks, $5,000.

New boiler for science hall, 300 horse-power, $3,500.

But the most important of all, says the report, is for a new wing to the university hospital, which is over crowded. There are 65 beds in the building, and they are full all the time. Many are turned away, and as a result the poor of the state suffer for lack of free clinics, while the constant and rapid increase in the number of medical students demand increased clinical facilities. This want cannot be long delayed without injury to the school, and cannot be supplied from the millage tax, as that is taken up by the hall of science, so a special appropriation of $75,000 is asked.

An appropriation of $35,000 is requested for engineering shops and a hydraulic power house in connection with the new dam nearing completion.

Other features of the report follow:

Buildings.

The old boiler house has been repaired at a cost of $675 and converted into a temporary building for electrical engineering.

An armory and athletic pavilion, to be used as a gymnasium until a permanent structure can be erected for that purpose, has been built at a cost of $36,000.

A new half of natural science is now under process of construction. It is of the same general style and size of the hall of liberal arts, and is designed ultimately for natural science purpose alone, but will have to contain the library and assembly hall until years, but has been given impetus by them.

By special enactment of the legislature, $50,000 was given for the construction of an engineering building, and one wing is now being built at that figure, and if present plans are carried out the college will have one of the best buildings of the kind in existence.

The old hall of natural science has

A blow was given the college of law by the action of the 29th assembly, which caused the resignation of Judges McClain and Deemer as lecturers in the college of law. remedy this by legislation.

The engineering work in the university has been growing slowly for many years, but had been given impetus by recent appropriations, and the regents have thought best to give it a full college organization, in charge of Prof. W. G. Raymond. The rapid progress of the last year and the increased attendance have fully justified these actions.

The most useful publication of the university during the two years has been the Alumni Register, prepared by a committee after several years' work in correspondence by Miss Alice B. Chase.

The heat, light and power plant has been largely improved. An expenditure of $8,000 has been made for paving and sidewalks.

Medical and dental alumni clinics have been established and are found to be of great benefit in these colleges. The graduate college, established five years ago, is growing rapidly, and now constitutes one of the most important parts of the university.

There has been a generous increase in the attendance at the summer sessions during the short time they have been in vogue, and the class of students reflects particular credit to the institution.

We, of the faculty, have our cap and gown, which we wear at certain times, partly in order to hide the clothes which may be somewhat shiny.—President Webster of California.

Judge Towner Speaks.

Says Books are Greatest Gift of Providence to Man.

Judge Towner gave the address at assembly this morning. His subject was "Books." The judge is popular with the students, and was received with applause and listened to with great pleasure.

The boy in school hates books, says the judge, because they keep him shut up. He told of the rejoicing of students on leaving colleges and universities because hereafter they would be free from books, and yet books are what universities have to deal with. In fact, Harvard university was founded by a donation of books.

Books are what makes it possible for us to enjoy the legacy of the past ages. If it were not for books we must depend on uncertainties of tradition.

The only people who can truly appreciate nature are the poet and the scientist, both men of books. The great men in politics, the statesmen, have been men of books. Even the men of highest prominence in the business world like Morgan, Rockefeller and Carnegie, are booklovers.

Books are our chiefest blessing—our most valuable possession. If all the gold in the world were destroyed, some other metal would take its place, and we would not suffer greatly. But if all books were lost we should suffer an irreparable injury.

UNIVERSITY WELL REPRESENTED.

Several Members of the Staff of Instruction to Appear at the Meeting at Marshalltown.

The programs have appeared for the Eighth Conference of Charities and Corrections which meets at Marshalltown November 8, 9 and 10.

From a glance at the program it is evident that Iowa is well represented.

The address Wednesday evening is given by Charles Noble Gregory, dean of the College of Law, and the subject, "Sir Thomas Romilly and Criminal Law Reform."

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 an address will be given by Prof. Forrest E. Ensign, high school inspector and professor of education, on the subject, "Country and Town Prisons in Iowa."

Following the address by Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' League, New York City, on "Child Labor," Dr. William R. Patterson, professor of commerce and statistics, will give an illustrated lecture on "Some Practical Aspects of Charities and Corrections in New York City." Following these two addresses, the discussion will be opened by Prof. Isaac A. Loos, director of the Iowa School of Political and Social Science, and professor of economics and sociology. Prof. Loos was president of the conference for three successive years and has been a member of the executive committee since the beginning of the conference.

Clarence W. Wassam, instructor in economics, has been appointed general secretary of the conference and a member of the executive committee to succeed Dr. Margaret A. Schaffner.

It has often been suggested that a university is not practical in its work, but surely a careful study of the list of subjects discussed at the conference by some of the University's leading men, would convince any one that this criticism does not apply to the University of Iowa.

HARD WORK FOR TEAM.

Hawkeye Players Will Put in Hard Week's Practice.

Last evening was very rainy and the field was very wet, so that one night's practice was lost. Today has dawned bright and clear, however, and a fine practice is expected. Interference and line bucking will be drilled into the men, and several new plays will be resorted to. It is the hope of every Iowa student and Coach Chalmers and the alumni coaches to get the team into the best of condition for the Minnesota game. Last year Iowa gave Minnesota a surprise, and she can do it again. Coach Griffith is drilling the freshmen hard and a good account is expected of them when they play their first "big nine" game with Minnesota's freshmen.

The Gophers are practicing hard and Coach Williams is developing new plays to be in readiness for the Hawkeyes, as they expect no walkaway by any means. The Minneapolis Journal has stated that last year's result has taught Minnesota to not be too confident of beating Iowa and she will put up her stiffest play.

Every man on the Iowa team will do his best and every regular will play. There will be no hospital list when the Minnesota game is played, and a big crowd is going up to see both the Iowa teams play the best ball of the season. Iowa will win at least one of the games and she will make a hard run for both. Lest Minnesota forget, we must humble her.

COACH F. H. YOST AS AN AUTHOR

He Writes a Book on Football and Shows How Fields are Won.

Fielding H. Yost, the popular professor of athletics at Ann Arbor, Michigan, has just published a book on football for the player and spectator.

The first part of the book is devoted entirely to the great game from the spectator's point of view. He explains and elaborates so that, after a reading of the book, a novice can enjoy the game. To an old player it makes his blood boil to read the descriptions and see the cuts.

The latter part is devoted to the various problems in developing a team, and the individual requirements that are essential. The entire book is interesting and has many full page illustrations of teams upon the field.

Then positions of the players are illustrated by cuts taken from life. This book is one of interest to every man who is interested in athletics.

RIOT AT FOOTBALL GAME.

Waukesha, Wis., Oct. 18.—A riot was narrowly averted at the close of the football game between the Carroll college team and Northwestern university of Watertown, when Umpire Stern of Watertown was pursued by a howling mob but escaped into the college building, where Sheriff Kunz stood guard at the door until the mob was dispersed.

Later, when the visitors came down town to take their train, they were again surrounded and their football taken from them. Stern made several poor decisions during the game. It is to the credit of the Carroll students that they took no part in the rowdyism but rather tried to quell it. The mob was composed of town boys and others not connected with the college. Northwestern won the game by a score of 15 to 5.

NOTRE DAME WANTS DEBATE.

The professor of public speaking has received a communication from Notre Dame university requesting a debate with Iowa. Any student organization desiring to consider the proposal should see Professor Gordon at once, as the Notre Dame authorities request an early reply.

The Oracle comes to our table. It is one of the finest high school papers that we see. It shows real merit in its editorial page. It is neat and speaks well for the school. It is issued by the North Des Moines high school.

An extended research has just been brought to the point of publication by Dr. F. A. Stromsten, instructor in animal biology. The paper appears in the current issue of The American Journal of Anatomy, and is entitled, "A Contribution to the Anatomy and Development of the Venous System of Chelonia." Dr. Stromsten completed the investigation at Princeton university while holding a fellowship in biology there. The result marks a notable advance in a field of biological science hitherto known, but quite imperfectly.

Professor of English: "Mr. Smith, how would you punctuate this sentence: 'A gentleman riding in a carriage dropped a large roll of bills?'" Mr. Smith: "I think I should make a dash—after the bills."

The New Sharon Star is authority for the statement that Pella has a man who, after winding his clock regularly every night for ten years discovered that it was an eight day clock. What he said caused the clock to drop its hands and turn white in the face.—Normal Monthly.

PUBLISH THE GOOD THINGS.

If you know anything good about the University, make it known. If any of the alumni achieve any notable success, let people know it.

The University has not reached perfection. If it had there would be nothing left for future generations of regents and faculty to work for—just one eternal going over past accomplishments. Again, Iowa has not always been generous with her University. But this has not kept her from accomplishing much that is creditable. In fact, when you count up, the school has a pretty good list of people to her credit.

This talk of poor support, however, has had a tendency to make people think slightly of the school. In conversation about the University a gentleman remarked one day that the school had no alumni of prominence, "such men as Judge Blank," said he. Now Judge Blank is a University alumnus.

Let us keep ourselves posted about our men who are doing things, such as Lowden, Emerson Hough and E. L. Sabin.

THE RIGHT THING.

The Pan Hellenic committee, composed of one delegate from each sorority, held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in Dean Everts' office. A matter which had been discussed at previous meetings, that of reform in late hours at parties, resulted in a contract to be signed by all the members of the four sororities and all other girls who will do so. By this contract, those, whose signatures are affixed, agree to leave all parties not later than one o'clock a. m.

This is a proper thing and worthy of strong commendation and careful observance. This is not a matter of trivial moment. Late hours are a menace to good work, the purpose for which students come here.

The University usually takes the stand that students are old enough to do the proper thing when they come here. For this reason it is right that the young people do away with practices that are prohibited by rules in some schools. All the social gatherings had by students should willingly follow this rule whether they have subscribed to it or not.

GRIDIRON NOTES OF OTHER SCHOOLS.

Northwestern Dedicates New $20,000 Athletic Field Saturday, Mayor Dunne Officiating.

Northwestern university dedicated its fine new $20,000 athletic field Saturday and trounced the Badger team of Beloit college to the tune of 18 to 2 as an opener.

Chicago had a hard time with the Hoosier team; Indiana held Chicago 16 to 5.

Monmouth, whom Iowa defeated 41 to 0, overwhelmed Lombard college by the score of 36 to 5 Saturday.

Ames got hers to the tune of 42 to 0 at Minnesota's hands, and short halves, too.

Illinois had a hard time defeating St. Louis university, whom we play Thanksgiving day, by the score of 12 to 6.

SIGHTLESS FOOTBALL PLAYERS PLAY GOOD GAME.

Follow the Ball By Sense of Touch and Sound.—Their Line Holds Like a Wall.

The Crescent Hill team of Louisville, Kentucky, played the team of the Kentucky Institute for the Blind Saturday. Though one would not expect a blind person to be skilled in the rough-and-tumble game of football, nevertheless they proved so. The blind boys held a heavy team to the score of 25 to 0, and two of these touchdowns were made on fumbles. Their sense of touch seems to be assisted by a marvelous intuition into the intentions of their opponents. Baxter Coedert, the sightless Institute guard could not be held. He made holes through the Crescent Hill line at will, dived under mass plays, and once, assisted only by his hearing the thud of the ball when it was dropped in a scrimmage, fell upon it, rose to his knees and dragged half the Crescent Hill men for fifteen yards before downed. The weakness of the blind team showed itself chiefly in inaccurate passes. The blind boys play the same kind of ball as does any other school, with the exception that they try for no goals.

EDDA HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING.

The Edda Society Elects E. C. Nelson President and Then Listens to Paper By Prof. Flom.

At the first meeting of the Edda society for the year to fill vacancy, E. C. Nelson was elected president. The society voted to print the constitution and proceedings since its formation in February, 1901. A number of new names were recommended for membership by the executive committee.

Professor Flom then gave a paper on "The Earliest Swedish Immigration to America", in which he discussed the Swedish colony on the Delaware and early settlements in Wisconsin and Illinois. Prof. Flom showed that the Swedes on the Delaware, though they lost their political independence as early as 1655, continued to be Swedish linguistically and ecclesiastically down to about 1800. The paper was discussed by Prof. C. E. Seashore, who gave an account of the "Gloria Dei" Swedish church in Wilmington, Delaware, and by Mr. E. C. Nelson.

A verse for all fathers who have little children:
 "Last night, my darling, as you slept,
 I thought I heard you sigh,
 And to your little crib I crept,
 And watched a space thereby;
 Then, bending down, I kissed your brow,
 For, oh! I love you so—
 You are too young to know it now,
 But sometime you shall know."

The following quotation aptly applies to the professors who are laboring and denying themselves for the sake of the boys and girls in Iowa:

There is no death to the faithful teacher who has passed something of personal spirit to the children in the schools. The greatest immortality is that which is ready for any sacrifice, annihilation if need be, in order to do good. Such a life never ends. In geometric ratio it forever increases.
