Reflections on the Game

The Teachers were Beaten Easily by University.

Iowa's sub halves show up well. Allen showed good interference and speed. Davis is a sprinter and a good player. Bemis played a good game at quarter for the first trial.

Iowa made several costly fumbles. There should be no fumbles in the Grinnell game, for every fumble is taken advantage of by the other team. Normal made her only score on a fumble.

White played well in his new position at right end. McGowan played his usual good game as long as he was in. Schwinn made a good omnibus for the Normalites, the German carrying three and four passengers at a time.

The score should have been larger. Iowa played easy ball and saved herself for the hard games to follow. Davis saved Iowa another Normal touchdown by a 50 yard sprint and stopping Captain Ehret by a good tackle from behind.

A good sized crowd was out considering the weather. The twenty-five cent rate seems to have appealed to several new pocketbooks. The games are worthy of good attendance, and the price should insure it.

HAHN ORCHESTRA.

Saturday night the Hahn Festival orchestra delighted a large audience at the opera house.

The selections were good, and were well rendered.

The first two numbers of the lecture course have been eminently satisfactory. If the following numbers are up to the standard set by these, it will be a most creditable course.

DO WE EAT TOO MUCH?

Dr. Rockwood gave the lecture at Baconian last Friday evening, on the subject, "Do We Eat too Much?"

The speaker discussed the series of experiments given at one of the eastern universities, a year or two ago. Certain classes of people were given certain definite amounts of food carefully weighed, and were then studied as to their increase or decrease in strength. It was found that after a certain period the people who had the smaller amount of food were capable of greater exertion. Hence, the natural conclusion would be that the question should be answered in the affirmative.

FRESHMAN MEDICS ORGANIZE.

At eleven o'clock the class '09, in college of medicine, had a rousing meeting, at which a permanent organization was perfected and the following officers chosen:

President and class delegate, Clarence E. Willcutt; vice president, Laura E. Lewis; secretary, Florence Fuller; treasurer, Mr. Fitzpatrick.

GREEKS ARE UP TO DATE.

The Phi Kappa Psi's have challenged the Beta's to a football game. The challenge was immediately accepted and on next Saturday at 10 o'clock all Iowa City will be given a free exhibition of the noble game.

When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war. A great game. Come and bring your tin horn.

MISS ACHENBACH WITH EXPOSITION.

Among the many hundred geological and botanical collectors sent by the universities, colleges and high school of the United States, to Vancouver Island last summer, was Miss Naomi Achenbach, of '03. Miss Achenbach is science teacher in the Marshalltown high school and it is in the interest of that institution that she is doing research work.

SPIRIT OF SCHOOL AND COLLEGE SPORT.

An article in the November "Century," by Ralph D. Paine, will be of special interest to college men, particularly to those interested in football. Mr. Paine argues that football has become too professional to be either interesting or valuable. He describes the English football, and argues that much greater interest is shown there because a much larger number of students can enter the game.

Francis M. Fultz, '86, M. A. '89, who is entering upon his seventh year as superintendent of the Burlington public schools, is making some important developments in the use of the stereopticon in education. He now has six lanterns in the grades. He is a photographer of ability, and so makes many of his own slides. At present he is working on a series of plates of seeds, which are colored in their natural colors by Mrs. Fultz.

PRESIDENT STORMS PLEASURES MANY.

President of Iowa State College Speaks of Christianity and the Supernatural.

(Daily Republican.)

A. B. Storms, president of Iowa State college, spoke to a large congregation in All Souls' church Sunday afternoon.

His subject, "Christianity and the Supernatural," was treated in a more advanced ground as far as science is concerned. He does not take the miracles of Christ literally, but in a broader way, which was highly pleasing to all kinds of people.

President Storms lays great stress on character and thinks that man should resemble the image of God.

Dr. Storms has been president of the Agricultural college for about two years and before that time was pastor of the first Methodist church of Des Moines. Since his coming to Ames the college has been widely extended and now has a much larger attendance. He is well liked by students and faculty alike.

GRADUATES OF THE LIBRARY SCHOOL.

They Hold Banquet at Meeting of Iowa Library Association.

Librarian Wyer is home from the library association which met last week at Fort Dodge. He reports a large meeting and a good time.

The graduates of the summer library school which meets at the University, held a banquet at which twenty-nine were present. Among those present were President MacLean, Librarian Wyer, Miss Langworthy and Mr. Rich. The latter was formerly university librarian. Miss Webber, of Des Moines, the newly elected city librarian, was also present at the meeting of the association.

HESPERIAN.

Every one who heard the Hesperian program last Saturday evening will say that it was a very enjoyable one. Miss Jeanette Jamison read one of Kipling's pastorals very beautifully. Miss Jamison is one of Hesperia's most talented speakers. Miss Mary Paulus read an exceedingly comical selection entitled, "Dan Tray's Dog." Miss Paulus is perfectly at home on the platform, and she did justice to her selection, which was a good one. Adelaide Rittenmeyer and Cecil Heinsius discussed the much talked of subject, "Resolved, That the one o'clock regulation should not be adopted. Miss Murphy, Mr. Dickinson and Miss Holland furnished good music. The program was unusually brief owing to the fact that many wanted to attend the Hahn concert as well as the program.

THE ALUMNI.

News of Graduates Taken From The Alumnus.

Miss Ella Ham, L. A. '84, has resigned her position in the Sioux City high school and will remain at her home in Iowa City for the coming year.

Mr. Hiram K. Evans, L. '86, of Corydon, Iowa, was elected judge of the Third Judicial district at the election in Nov., 1904.

Mr. C. B. Calkins, L. A. '86, L. '91, of Hamilton, Mont., was elected county attorney of Ravalli County, Mont., at the election Nov., 1904.

1890.

Mr. Clarence D. Elliott, L. '90, of Seattle, Wash., is head consul of the M. W. A. of that state. He attended the meeting of the head camp in Milwaukee in June and visited his parents in Iowa City, on his way home. He was made head escort of the head camp.

Mrs. E. E. Douglass, L. A. '90, better known as Hattie Stimmel, whose home is in Pueblo, Colo., with her little daughter spent several weeks with friends in Iowa City.

Hamlin Garland Speaks.

Famous Literary Man Delights Audience with Descriptions of Nature's Beauties.

Hamlin Garland spoke to a full house at Coldren's last night. It is seldom that an audience gives such close attention to a speaker as Mr. Garland received during the greater part of his lecture. There were brief periods when interest lagged, because some description was followed too long. But they soon came back with redoubled interest when the speaker "hit" a new trail. The attention was of that close character which bespoke a fear of losing something. Mr. Garland dealt with the beauties and charms of nature, especially in the remote wilderness, untouched by civilized man. He spoke of the sympathy of the wild man with nature—his care not to disturb things, his skill in indicating, by a twig or similar sign, a message to those who might follow after him.

Mr. Garland made a plea for the preservation of the beauties of nature—the forests, waterfalls and mountains.

Mr. Garland is a poet. His speech is music. His words flow like the song of running water.

NEWMAN SOCIETY.

The members of the Newman society will meet tonight in Kenyon hall. Prospective members are invited to attend. The meeting will be followed by a social.

FOOTBALL AS SHE IS.

What a New Encyclopedia Says of the Game.

"Football—A system of manslaughter very fashionable with boys. From the Latin words, 'footibus,' meaning 'put the boots to him,' and 'ballona,' meaning 'up in the air, or who hit me with a public building?' A body of college students surrounded by ambulances. By illustration:

"Sing a song of football
Pockets full of salve;
Four and twenty legs all
Punctured at the calve.
Captain in the hospital
Fullback in the soup,
Twenty-seven faces
Broken in the group.
Sophomores and freshmen
Punched around the ring;
When the war is over
The boys began to sing:
'Raw! Raw! Raw!
Raw! Raw! Raw!
Stew them!
Fry them!
Raw! Raw! Raw!
Oysters!'"

The author certainly has given a very ludicrous definition of football and those who witness the game and play it can really enjoy his interpretation.

TAKE THE IOWAN.

Several times at the beginning of the year we felt called upon to apologize for our shortcomings. We were not satisfied with the paper. Our lack of satisfaction was well grounded and we explained as well as we could the causes, and promised better things.

We are not completely satisfied yet. Nor do we ever expect to be. We should feel lonesome if we were issuing a perfect publication. However we feel a moderate degree of satisfaction with what the Iowan is doing.

It is reaching its subscribers with reasonable regularity. Complaints about irregular delivery have almost stopped both from city and mail subscribers.

We feel that we are getting the news and publishing it before it becomes ancient history. We are not getting quite all of it yet, but we are coming nearer to it all the time.

In fact we feel that the Iowan is now safely among the best of the college daily papers.

For these reasons we shall no longer hesitate to ask University students and friends to take the Iowan.

During the next few weeks we shall have as workers some committees making a canvass for subscribers. When they approach you be ready to hand in your subscription.

The first committee to take up this work is on from the Y. W. C. A. An arrangement has been made with them which will culminate in the issue of a special number on the occasions of their state meeting which will occur in a short time. We look for generous responses to the Y. W. C. girls.

We are aware of the fact that the readers of the Iowan are the people already taking it, therefore do not need this talk. Yet we want you to know how we feel, and then perhaps you can pass our request along. Tell your friends to take the Iowan.

MINNEAPOLIS MAYOR THINKS AND THEN DON'T KNOW.

Minnesota Daily: Mayor Jones has written individually to a number of news stands and cigar stores in the immediate neighborhood of the campus informing them that in his opinion the dice boxes and slot machines conveniently placed on their counters are hardly to the best interests of their student customers. Furthermore, he informs them that he desires said dice boxes and slot machines entirely removed from their premises at the earliest opportunity.

The mayor evidently felt pressure, judging from the following which appeared in a later issue of the Minnesota Daily:

"Mayor Jones' letter ordering dice shaking stopped in university cigar stores, has been countermanded.

"The mayor states that he understood that students congregated in the cigar stores and shook dice for hours at a time. He also says that he does not object to dice shaking as long as the student just simply shake for cigars."

JOKERS AT CHICAGO.

Recently the following notice appeared on the bulletin board at Chicago university:

"All students whose wives will be with them during the year are requested to send their names to Mrs. Porter H. Morgan, 719 East 57th St."

Below this a joker pinned the following:

"Mrs. Porter H. Morgan,
"Secretary, Marriage Bureau,
"University of Chicago.

"Dear Mrs. Morgan:—
"I am very sorry, but I have not got any wife yet. The fact is, I did not understand that Freshmen were expected to have them.

"However, I have a very pretty Newfoundland dog and also thirty-seven and a half dollars; and will be glad to exchange these for any wife you have in stock.

"I prefer a brunette, but would like blue eyes.

DR. BROWN IN WYOMING.

The Wyoming School Journal speaks thus of J. F. Brown, who recently became principal of the Wyoming state normal:
"The Uinta County institute was held September 4-7, with about seventy teachers enrolled. Dr. J. F. Brown of the state university served as conductor and gave instruction throughout the week. His talks on child nature, school management, and English aroused much interest and enthusiasm among the teachers, and there was free general discussion.
"Prof. James Franklin Brown, Ph. D., comes to Wyoming from the State University of Iowa. Dr. Brown has had a thorough training for the duties he has assumed, both in college and that boarder school, life. With an early education in Ohio, college advantages in Indiana, advanced university work in New York, and experience in Iowa, the qualifications for the head of the normal work in the state have been well met."
