Grinnell All Right.

Students and Alumni Repudiate Sentiments Referred to in Yesterday's Iowan.

The following letters came to the Iowan this morning, and we believe they truly express the Grinnell feeling about the merits of Iowa's athletes. The previous article referred to, probably represented only one person's sentiment, and he, both poorly informed and biased in his judgment.

We appreciate the spirit in which these letters were written and feel that Iowa and Grinnell will maintain the same friendly relations that have existed in the past.

Below are the letters, the names of the writers being withheld by the desire of the writers:

"Grinnell, Iowa, Nov. 1, 1905.

"Editors Daily Iowan:—I think that it is due to the friendly spirit which has always existed between the State University and Iowa college that you should know how humiliated and mortified Grinnell alumni and student body feel over the recent article which appeared in Scarlet and Black anent the state football championship prospects. So inappropriate and ill-timed was it that a protest has gone up from alumni and student body alike, and the feeling that the article was thoroughly unworthy a school which has prided itself on high sportsmanship, is very strong here, as you will notice in a letter of criticism from W. S. Pierce, of Lima, Ohio, (an old Grinnell star athlete), which appears in today's Scarlet and Black. This breach of collegiate courtesy on the part of the official organ of the student body is particularly mortifying to the alumni because it is contrary to all Grinnell policy and tradition.

"The article did not in any way represent the sentiment here, for we have good memories, and, while Grinnell men are not wont to refer much to their own failures, nevertheless the memories of twelve defeats have given us a respectful admiration for the Old Gold, which was unfortunately lacking in the article above referred to. Grinnell Alumnus."

Grinnell, Iowa, Nov. 1, 1905.

"Editor of the Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa:—Dear Sir: An article appeared in "Scarlet and Black" in the issue of October 25th, under the caption, "The State Championship," which was as offensive to Grinnell readers as it must have been to such students and graduates of the University as saw it. I wish to say, as a graduate of Grinnell college, that the sentiments therein expressed and the references therein made to the football teams of the University, past and present, do not in any way coincide with the views of the graduates of the college. I further happen to know that they do not represent the attitude of the students at Grinnell towards those at the University, particularly in connection with the Iowa-Grinnell game to be played at Iowa City next Saturday. No one more deeply regrets the publication of the article in question (which states the views of no one save its author) than the Grinnell football team and management. I have written these few lines in order that the students and graduates of the University may know that the Grinnell students and graduates repudiate the article referred to and strongly censure the management of "Scarlet and Black" for permitting its publication.

"The fact is that Grinnell has the most wholesome respect for the athletes who wear the Old Gold and the only certainty which the college feels in regard to the approaching game with the University is that its eleven will go into it determined to do their best, winning or losing. I am "Very truly yours,

"A Grinnellian."

University Senate Wants Supervision of Accounts.

Another step toward faculty supervision of student enterprises was taken yesterday afternoon by the University senate, in recommending to the board of regents the passage of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the supervision and auditing of all financial accounts of all non-athletic organizations of students of the University receiving aid from the University, be confined to, and all such accounts be required to be submitted to, the board of audit of the University senate under such rules and regulations as said board may from time to time prescribe."

This recommendation is in line with the policies of a number of other institutions, notably the universities of Nebraska and Minnesota.

H. H. Savage, '01, is president of the association.

STUDENTS' RATES.

Drake university has adopted a plan that looks right. They make special rates to students under the following regulations:

1. The special rates will be set by the athletic management from time to time.

2. Only those students who have joined the rooters' organization and are taking an active part will be permitted to purchase tickets. (A student must be a member of the organization for at least 48 hours, before his membership will be considered.)

3. Each member will be entitled to but one ticket.

4. The tickets will be sold only at the rooters mass meetings just previous to the games.

5. The tickets will not be good at the gates unless the holder wears his college colors.

PROF. LOOS SPEAKS TO WOMEN.

Purpose of Sociology is the Benefit of Society, Says Isaac Loos of Iowa City Before Des Moines Women's Club.

Prof. Isaac A. Loos of the State University of Iowa gave an address yesterday before the Des Moines Women's club on "What is Sociology" before a large and interested audience.

"Sociology," the lecturer said, "is the fundamental science of human society in its nature, origin, forms and purposes. Sociology is regarded rather as the fundamental or generic social science of which the various social sciences are specialized branches. Nevertheless, today in the name of social science the sociologist urges the state to pass laws for the protection of child labor, and he does this not alone for the sake of the child, but for the adult as well, because no community can reach its highest development in moral character or economic efficiency if it must build on an unfree, a stunted childhood."—Register and Leader.

At their meeting last night, the board of curators of the State Historical society of Iowa elected to membership in that society, Mr. J. M. Lindy, of Winfield, Iowa, and John C. Parish, L. A. '05, of Cedar Falls.

Senior Council.

Michigan University Elects Body With Important Duties.

Michigan university is just inaugurating a new body which they term a senior council.

In order to have an equitable representation of all students, each department will elect one councilman for each 300 students enrolled until the total reaches seventeen. For the present this will give the following representation: literary department, five; engineer, five; law, three; medical, two; homeopathic, one; dental, one; pharmacy, one.

At the election only seniors will vote and the six men receiving the lowest number of votes will retire in February. The duties of the council are defined as follows:

1. Supervision and auditing of class and of student organizations of a university character.
2. Supervision of the election of the same.
3. To make rules and regulations regarding college customs.
4. To investigate and report to the faculty cases affecting the best interests of the student body.

DR. ALBERT SUBMITS REPORT.

Dr. Henry Albert has submitted his first annual report to the state board of health. This report shows that the bacteriological laboratory in Iowa City has made, during the past year, 3,580 examinations. Of these 1,415 were made for the detection of diphtheria bacillus; 1531 were sputum examinations for detection of the tubercle bacillus; 495 were Widal examination for typhoid fever, and 139 were miscellaneous.

Typhoid Epidemics.

During the year, personal investigations, made necessary on account of small epidemics of typhoid fever, were made at Marion, Parkersburg, Burlington and Estherville.

SUSPICIOUS OF FITZPATRICK.

Last year the Patriot printed a book for Evan Smith, of Coal Creek, containing much of his personal and religious experiences in an autobiographical style. Recently Mr. T. J. Fitzpatrick, collector for the Iowa State Historical society at Iowa City, learned of the book and wrote Mr. Smith, requesting a copy. The old gentleman, however, was suspicious, thinking this man was some newspaper shark who would give the book a notoriety which he did not desire, as it was printed only for his personal friends, so he refused to furnish the copies. We finally prevailed upon Mr. Smith, nevertheless, to furnish the copies desired.—What Cheer Patriot.

BACONIAN.

Baconian Friday evening, Nov. 3, will be addressed by Dr. E. L. Dood; subject, "The Interest on One Cent, and Some Mathematical Curiosities."

Manager Jones Says It Has Not Been Decided to Take Minnesota-Iowa Game to Davenport.

Below will be found a statement from Manager Jones regarding the game with Minnesota next year. Considering the publicity which has been given the matter, we think it fair that this statement from Mr. Jones be given to the public:

Editor of Daily Iowan:—Your editorial in last issue, regarding the Minnesota-Iowa game for the coming year being played in Davenport, has been called to my attention.

I desire to state that neither the athletic board nor myself have taken any steps in regard to the next game with Minnesota, either in regard to the date or the place of playing.

As the matter will not be decided in any way until after the close of the present season, and nothing having been said either by the Minnesota or Iowa management regarding the 1906 game, your editorial was rather premature.

I assure you that it is the desire of the athletic board to have all the home contests played on Iowa field if the patronage will warrant.

PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB.

The meeting of the Philosophical Club last night at 7:30, in room 213, liberal arts, was one of much interest and value to those in attendance. The address on "The Comparative Method of Studying of Religions" by Prof. Arthur Fairbanks, was very strong, and gave startling points for many lines of valuable discussion. These meetings of the Philosophical Club are among the many good things which the University affords, and which the students might profit by attending.

A prize will probably be offered for the school winning the majority of games. Basketball is a game which every able-bodied man can play, and these games ought to give all a chance to develop.
