Regents Raise Standard

Regents Make Higher Requirements for Admission to Schools of Law and Medicine.

Important action was taken by the board of regents in their meeting at Des Moines.

Beginning with the fall of 1907 the college of law will require those who enter to have had four years' work in a high school or the equivalent, instead of three as heretofore.

The medical department will hereafter require four full years' work for graduation, no credit being given for degrees or advanced work, as formerly, and by which system the medical course hitherto has been cut down to three instead of four years.

Limit Free Clinic.

An order was made providing that no person shall be admitted to the free clinic at the State university unless recommended by the family physician, priest, pastor or county officer having in charge the poor. This meets the criticism by the physicians that the clinic was doing free work which the doctors should be doing.

Plans and specifications were ordered for the enlargement of the floor space for the operative clinic in connection with the dental department on account of the large increase in students this year.

Examine All Accounts.

The regents directed that hereafter all departments, societies, organizations, etc., existing or doing business under the auspices of the University shall be examined, as to finance, by the University management.

This takes in the college paper, the lecture bureaus, the literary societies, etc. Hitherto, though run under the auspices of the institution, these enterprises have been independent of the management. Hereafter their accounts will be audited by the University.

The contract for the publication of the University calendar and announcements was let to the Telegraph-Herald of Dubuque at 41 cents a page for the former and $1.39 for the latter, the former being merely the compilation of the latter. The Cedar Rapids Republican was the only other bidder.

Summer School.

Important business was transacted concerning the coming summer session. The regents wish heads of departments to be in charge of the work as far as possible. When this cannot be done, men of equal rank will be employed. Efforts are being made to secure Prof. Ladd, formerly of Yale, to take the place of Prof. Seashore, who is to be absent.

Richard Boone, editor of Education and formerly of Indiana university will assist Dr. Bolton in the school of education.

Prof. F. M. Fling will take history work and Prof. J. B. Pike of Minnesota university, will assist Prof. Potter in Latin.

Lewis Henry Haney, of Wisconsin has been offered the position left vacant by the retirement for the rest of the year from the University faculty of W. R. Patterson. Prof. Haney held the Parker fellowship, and is now preparing the Carnegie congressional history of the railroads, the first volume of which is expected to appear soon.

Other Business.

The regents voted free tuition to six Filipinos.

Mark Catlin, track trainer, was employed by the board. He was captain and right end of Chicago for a long time.

Degrees of D. D. S. were conferred on John Charles Gay, Herman Heykens and Melvin Wesley Wyler.

SENIOR HOP.

President Orin V. Davidson, of the senior class appointed the senior hop committee today. The committee is as follows: J. T. Illick, Sigma Chi; Fred Moore, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Paul Houghton, Phi Delta Theta; H. L. Moon, Sigma Nu; E. M. Fitz, Delta Tau Delta, and A. C. Wallace, class representative. The Kappa Sigma, Beta Theta Pi and Phi Kappa Psi fraternities have no senior collegiate students in their membership and are consequently unrepresented on the committee.

The committee has not yet organized or elected a chairman, but will do so soon. The exact date for the party will also be set in the near future.

PROF. HOUSER TELLS HOW ANIMALS ADJUST THEMSELVES.

Wednesday evening Prof. Houser lectured in the auditorium of Liberal Arts on "How Animals Adjust Themselves to Their Environment." After a few introductory remarks, in which he outlined the points to be considered, he proceeded to discuss the effect of the following agencies on animal life: food, heat, light, chemical and mechanical agencies.

Cases were cited in which the digestive organs of birds, their plumage or the physical nature of insects have been changed through change in food.

The result of an experiment conducted for the purpose of determining the influence of heat upon the development of the caterpillar from the pupa state was given.

The influence of light in developing pigment cells was discussed. The chemical effects of certain elements in sea water on the life processes of some sea animals was brought out.

Attention was called to the manner in which animals adapt themselves to the space they must occupy.

In closing, attention was called to the fact that the cases cited are not merely curious phenomena to excite wonder, but point to a law. The irritability of protoplasm was dwelt upon in explaining the effects of environment.

KOMENIAN.

The Komenian society met with Miss Elsie Cerney, on Brown street, last night. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President—Ed. Sulek.

Vice president—Miss Ella Shimek. Secretary-Treasurer — Chas. Fourek.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Mr. H. Klima.

The program proved to be very interesting. Several alumni were present. Those who spoke were Prof. Shimek, Dr. Valenta, P. A. Korab, and Mrs. Holbert. The membership was increased by the above mentioned alumni and other new students of the University. After the meeting light refreshments were served by the hostess.

ENGINEERS HAVE TREAT.

E. R. Lewis Gives Interesting Talk On South Africa.

Mr. E. R. Lewis, division engineer on the Cape Government railway, gave an interesting talk to the engineers this afternoon, on the general features of the country and the field of the engineer. South Africa is very rough and barren, the coast land being alone suitable for agriculture. The excessive heat is modified by the ocean currents, making possible its occupation by the white man. No forests exist except in inaccessible regions, so that iron has been used in place of wood, especially all scraps from the railroads. The population is about 5½ millions, 2 millions of these being white, the rest of various shades down to ebony. The railroads in South Africa are all government roads, are divided into four large systems, and have an organization radically different from those of America. The railways have built up the towns, many of which appear as large on the map as they really are.

All this work comes under the supervision of the engineer, so his field is somewhat broader than in this country. There are some 3,000 American engineers in South Africa, most of them being employed as mining experts in the Rand mines at Johannesburg. Mr. Lewis spoke optimistically of the American engineer, and his chances to make good wherever he went. The whole world is his field and though this is evidently God's country, the engineer should not hesitate to push out.

NEW FRATERNITY.

The Homeopathic Physicians Organize a Local Chapter of Phi Alpha Gamma.

Tonight there will be organized a new medical fraternity, into which the Homeopathic physicians are to be initiated. This is to be a local chapter of Phi Alpha Gamma. Fourteen men will be initiated as charter members.

N. O. L. Preliminary.

Most Important Oratorical Contest of the Year at Opera House at 8 P. M. Tomorrow.

The Oratorical association of the University held a meeting in Irving hall last night, one of the results of which was the fixing upon tomorrow night, Friday, January 26, as the time for holding the home contest. This contest is the most important trial of oratorical strength held during the year at S. U. I. It is here that an orator is chosen to represent the University at the annual contest of the Northern Oratorical League. This Northern Oratorical League consists of the universities of Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Chicago; Northwestern university, and Oberlin college. Each institution in the league selects, at a home contest, a representative to participate in the annual contest. This contest is held at the different schools in succession, on the first Friday of May. This year it is to be held at Oberlin, Ohio. In addition to the honor which an orator may win for himself and his school by meeting and defeating representatives from all these strong schools, the person receiving first honor receives one hundred dollars, and the one receiving second honors, fifty dollars. These prizes, known as the Lowden testimonials, were established by Col. Frank O. Lowden, an alumnus of the University of Iowa of the class of '85. This contest is the one to which students with oratorical aspirations look forward from the beginning of their freshman year, and to represent Iowa on the N. O. L. contest is the highest oratorical honor to be won at the University.

The local oratorical association consists of the members of the Zeta-gathian, Irving, Philomathean and Forum literary societies. Some strong men are to participate in the contest tomorrow evening. These men and the titles of their productions, and the order in which they are to appear on the program, are as follows:

C. S. Vestal—"Alexander Hamilton, an Estimate."

L. G. Atherton—"War, the Instrument of Civilization."

F. O. Smith—"The Growth of the Spirit of Liberty."

J. R. Green—"John Hay, the Peacemaker."

J. N. Baird—"The Grand Old Man."

F. J. Cunningham—"Alexander Hamilton and the New Individualism."

D. E. Carrell—"The Ideal Citizen."

ORATORICAL ELECTION.

At the meeting of the Oratorical association last night, William Healy was elected vice president of the association for this year, in the place of Frank Sangster, who was elected last year, but who is not in school now.

ATTEND THE CONTEST.

Don't by any means allow yourself to be cheated out of attending the contest tomorrow evening. The names of the contestants and their records of past work in oratory and other forensic activities, guarantee that the contest tomorrow night will be a strong one and well worth attending. Not only those students especially interested in oratory, but also all who are interested in the success of the University of Iowa in forensic fields should be sure not to allow any other matter to keep them away from this contest tomorrow night. Here is a chance to spread a little athletic enthusiasm over into another field of important University activity. The Colored opera house is the place, and eight o'clock Friday evening is the time.

DR HARPER'S ORIGINALITY

He told me in the very early days of the university that when he was forming the plans for the institution he resisted every temptation to consult catalogues and descriptive circulars of other institutions in order that he might not fall into the beaten track.

From the very first the university bore the marks of his hand and mind. It stood alone among all the educational institutions of the world in its attitude toward the extension of university teaching beyond its own premises. For this purpose it organized classes in the city of Chicago, out of which has grown the university college on Michigan avenue. It has organized courses of lectures in cities and towns extending literally and in closely neighboring centers from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It has instructed one thousand students by correspondence in every part of the world.

This extension was one of Dr. Harper's most cherished schemes. While it was not strictly original with him, having been conceived in England, he gave it entirely new features. Probably he first devised the plan of education by correspondence.

Another of his favorite plans was realized in the continuous sessions of the university, whereby in summer as well as at other times of the year, complete courses of instruction counting toward degrees are given. To these summer sessions Dr. Harper attracted the most noted scholars from American, English and European universities. Men like James and Royce of Harvard, Fairband of Oxford, Smith of Edinborough have become familiar figures on the university quadrangles.

Along with these continuous sessions another of Dr. Harper's original plans was that of admitting students at the beginning of any quarter of the year and graduating classes at every quarterly convocation. That arrangement has been of inestimable service to hundreds of young men and women to whom the saving of a few months is often of vital importance.

Another distinctive feature of Dr. Harper's educational plans was the arrangement whereby a member of any one of the faculties might by continuous service earn extra time for vacation. The President delighted in nothing more than that his professors should take whatever time they could command for enriching their general culture by travel and study abroad. He was especially pleased when the result of such absence from the university duties was some new contribution to literature to a subject which the professor taught. —Dean Butler in Daily Maroon.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

The University Band Will Give a Concert and "I" Men Receive Sweaters.

The S. U. I. band will give a concert this evening. Judge McClain will speak and present the sweaters to the boys who have earned them. The band is a worthy student organization, and every one in school ought to assist. The band is expected to come out upon every occasion and play gratis. Now you have a chance to show your appreciation of their work. Come, bring a friend and help the boys.

HOW GOOD FOR BRETHREN TO DWELL IN UNITY!

Grinnell and Cornell are doing a lot of talking these days. A few days since we gave a clipping from the Cornellian. The following is from Scarlet and Black:

"The editor of the Cornellian has been having hallucinations and 'seeing things at night' for several weeks past. It all began because Grinnell defeated Cornell in football; the same as we have been doing for a decade or so. At that time the Cornellian editor found comfort in the thought that Cornell had always won in debate except once."

"The next outburst came when Grinnell withdrew from the state oratorical association, and now it is bemoaning the fact that Cornell has no intercollegiate debate this year with Grinnell, but after making sev-
