The following is a list of games which will be played by the Judging Iowa college during the coming football season, arranged according to the date on which they will be played:
The table is instructive from the fact that it shows to its best possible manner the way in which the class for the Iowa championship will be divided.

The heaviest schedule of the season will be played the last three weeks of the season, ending on Thanksgiving. The games have the lightest cumulative contributing of time.

CAPTAIN CHALMERS LEAVES.

Anonymous Chalmers left for Philadelph·ia yesterday afternoon at $2.00, so as to be present as a lawyer for a holding and contracting firm of that city. Mr. Chalmers as an athlete had ended when he found it impossible to remove a condition which made his participation in football this fall impossible. In his departure the University lost one of the greatest defensive halfbacks, one of the greatest sportsmen, and one of the best gentlemen, to take part in student life and activities in the past four years. The team is now faced with a crisis, as the loss of Chalmers cannot be made good from any of the material which the Iowa athletic authorities have at their disposal.

"Andy" Chalmers entered the University from Capital Park High School in 1910. He was one of the star events. He had already attracted the attention of the Iowa sports writers last spring when he entered the Capital Park High School football and track team and in the state high school meet held here the preceeding spring, he had shown exceptional ability on the discus and the hammer. Immediately upon entering the University he won his place on the "Varsity," and throughout that entire season and the succeeding one, he proved the lightheartedness of his life.

During the preliminary training last spring, Chalmers suffered a severe strain in his right ankle which should have kept him out of the game for the entire season. Yet in the most critical contests, and against Chicago, he proved himself, his work of defense, white hardly able to walk on account of the injury suffered, made him valuable in the extreme. During the past four years of Iowa football, no Iowa athlete has shown the same ability in solving offensive formations of opposing teams, and no athlete has shown such signal ability in breaking up passing plays. During that period in which Chalmers has been in the University, he has not devoted himself to football, but has participated in all other sports. Every spring he has taken a prominent part in the work of the track team where he proved a point man. In both his seasons in University football, he has been a part of every winning team in which he has participated. He was one of the star members of the Iowa football team two years ago and last season he proved himself a star. Another year would make him a weight man in both his seasons in University football. He was reconciled with by the westerners.

His election in the position of captain of the football team last spring of a time when it was understood that Chalmers would be eligible under the new rules, was a tribute, not only to his remarkable ability as a player, and natural leadership, but to the popularity of the man himself. Chalmers entered the University three years ago on a scholarship without any money, and every dollar which he spent in Iowa City during the time he was here, he earned himself. The heavy demands on his time made by his outside work and the prominent part he took in the athletic life of the University, preceded the possibility of his ranking high in the University work. But despite all this, Chalmers was far from being a poor student, and the fact that three years' work in the University with only one condition against him, speaks well for his scholastic ability.

"Andy" Chalmers left Iowa City, the friend of every man and student of the student body with whom he came in contact. In every contest he ever entered in the athletic life of the State university and the city of Iowa as well, he was never below the passing of the man. Chalmers deserves well of every man and student of the student body with whom he came in contact. In every contest he ever entered in the athletic life of the State university and the city of Iowa as well, he was never below the passing of the man.
