LINING UP FOR BASKETBALL

PLENTY OF MATERIAL AVAILABLE.

Three of Last Year's Team are Back
—Fifty Men Volunteer for the Team.

It is none too early in the season to comment upon the prospects for basketball this year. Mr. Rule and Capt. Barton feel confident that with three old men back, and an abundance of new material on hand, a strong team will be chosen to represent Old Gold.

Definite plans for practice have not been arranged, but the first call comes for today at 7:30 p.m., when the strongest candidates are expected to be out for a preliminary practice.

Capt. Barton will anxiously watch the relative ability of the new men, who try out for a place on the team. Mr. Rule and Capt. Barton are planning on very consistent training for the final team.

Bucker, who played guard last year, will probably play center this year. Ramsell, the well known basketball giant, will not be back this year. Griffith, of the team of 1905-06, is an instructor in Blees' Military Academy in Missouri. Morrissey, the old guard, will be out for practice. Burkheimer and Johnson, both subs during the past season, will compete for places on the team.

As to the new material, it certainly looks good as far as numbers are concerned. Some fifty men have expressed their desires to enter for places. Among these are Heath, captain of the Oberlin Academy team for the last two years; Stuart of Des Moines, and Norton of Grinnell.

THE VERSATILE MEDICS.

Just because we are Medics is no reason why we should be excluded from other lines. We are very proud of one of our number, a leading member of the junior class, who has distinguished himself as a musical composer. Mr. I. N. Crow, assistant in the department of Histology has recently published a march and two-step. It has been pronounced as "great" by some of the leading musicians of the city and is likely to attract the attention of the public. Mr. Crow also designed the cover for this publication. The design consists of an auto and four occupants speeding along a country road. The music is now on sale in all the music stores here.

Dr. Brisbine, Medic '06, reports that he is well located at Atalissa, Iowa.

The '08 Medics have elected officers. Everything went off harmoniously, and with good feeling. There were a few groups scattered about in the early morning that seemed to be holding conciliation meetings, but when the hour came the boys all gathered about, not as rough necks, but as civilized men and each put in his ballot. When the mill had been turned the proper number of times, and the fumes of H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> and Br. had blown away, the man at the handle pressed down and the following pack fell out: president, Chas. Edwin Butts; vice-president, DeWitt Baer; secretary and treasurer, Ira (Pat) Crow; Middletonian Representative, John Andrew Devine; class representative, Harry M. Ivins.

L. A. SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

OLD PARTY LINES ARE FOR GOTTEN.

Lion and Lamb Lie Down Together
—Dove of Peace Broods Over All.

For the first time in the history of the University, Irving and Zettagathia joined forces in the senior election yesterday. For years the two societies have opposed each other for every class office, and it was to the general surprise of all that the two societies were lined up for this election. Had old Zettagathians seen their men nominate Irvings for office, and the Irvings, in turn, place the names of Zets before the class, they would have doubted their reason. But it happened and the machine worked perfectly through the ticket until almost the end, and then came the storm.

When the Zets nominated Fred Cunningham for president, Carrie Watters for vice-president and John M. Woodworth for class treasurer, and then made their election unanimous, the Irvings, not to be outdone, returned the compliment by electing Katherine Hodge for secretary, and R. W. Hanneman for delegate.

But in fixing up the slate, the office of sergeant-at-arms had been entirely overlooked, and when the call for nominations came, the Zets sprung a surprise by nominating Philip E. Ritz to run against J. G. Bridgens, the Irving candidate. At this juncture, the Philomathians threatened to interfere, but by skillful maneuvering the nominations were closed.

Everyone feared a deadlock and another session such as had followed the Junior Annual election two years before. But after a few impressive speeches a vote was taken and the returns showed Mr. Bridgens to be elected. The only thing that prevented a deadlock was Mr. Bridgen's popularity with the leaders of the independent vote, for their vote decided the issue.

ELDER DAUGHTERS MEET.

The Elder Daughters of the University held their first meeting of the year last Saturday evening. The meeting being devoted to business, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Miss Ella Sanders.
Vice-president, Mrs. Abner Bradley.

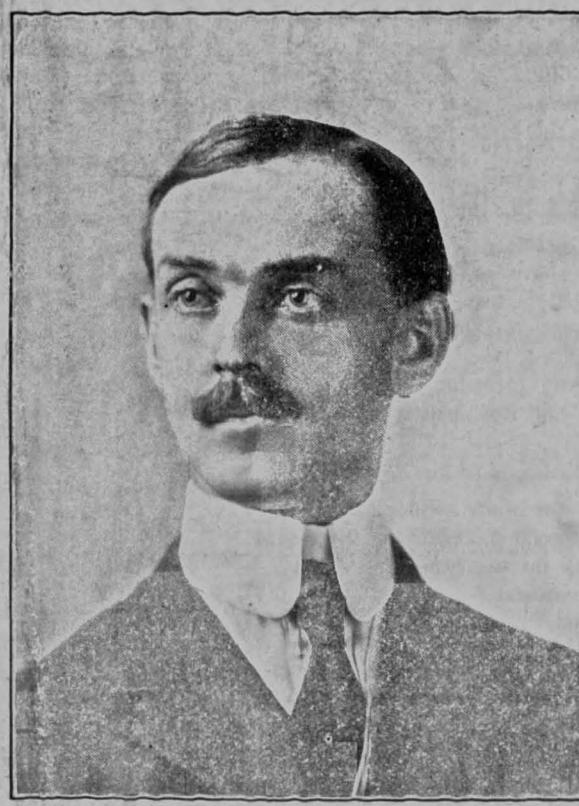

Recording secretary, Mrs. G. A. Bartholomew.

Corresponding secretary, Miss Ella Wilcox.

Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. W. Koontz.
Custodian, Mrs. Will Goodrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Walker arrived on Friday night from Lake Minnetonka, where they have been spending the last two weeks. During their absence, a number of friends entered their home and decorated it with hearts and posters, also leaving some very valuable gifts. When Mr. Walker left for Minnesota, he thought he had his new home securely locked, but to his surprise, he found out otherwise. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will be at home to friends on and after October 1st.

Dr. Decker, L. A. '95, and Med. '97, has been in the city for a few days. He has brought his sister here to attend the 'Varsity.

FRANK DEWITT WASHBURN

HARVARD MAN IN CHARGE

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS HAS AUPLICIOUS BEGINNING.

Large Classes Hear Opening Lectures—New Professor Comes Here From Boston.

One of the newest members of the faculty family is Frank DeWitt Washburn. Professor Washburn's native city is Taunton, Mass. He received his B. A. degree at Harvard in 1900. He comes to Iowa from Boston, where he was curator of Fine Arts in the public library.

Western universities have ignored the fine arts, as part of a liberal education, until quite recently; the recognition of them in our own institution is part of a general movement in the west to give University students an opportunity for their study. Professor Washburn comes here well qualified by his sympathies and training to inaugurate the movement at Iowa. It is worth noting that S. U. I. is one of the pioneers in the west in establishing a department for fine arts alone.

In addition to some special courses, three general courses are presented:

Course 1 (2) is general and introductory. At the beginning it is historical, being illustrated with lantern slides. Later the different forms of art are discussed. The class meets every Saturday morning at eleven, and is specially adapted to the requirements of those who desire a general view of the subject.

Course 3 (4) is a study of the art of ancient peoples. M. W. F. at 9 o'clock.

Course 7 (8) takes up the graphic arts. It includes a study of nature from the artistic point of view, and aims to cultivate the eye as well as to train the hand.

Other courses fitting in with and completing these will be given next year.

The work has aroused considerable interest in the city as well as in college circles, and Professor Washburn has a right to feel much encouraged over the prosperous begin-

A LARGE MASS MEETING.

Clayton S. Cooper Addressed Large Audience in the Armory.

About six hundred men listened to the Cooper address Sunday afternoon. After a short song service Mr. Sleeter, the Y. M. C. A. president, called upon President MacLean to preside. Rev. Clark delivered the invocation, following which Mr. Cox rendered a violin solo. Then Mr. Cooper was introduced, and held the attention of the men for an hour, with an inspiring address in which he described the growth of the Bible study movement in other Universities, and showed its possibilities here. At the close of the meeting opportunity was given for enrollment, and about fifty men signed the cards, in addition to the four hundred already in line.

Mr. Cooper spent part of his time here in organizing classes in the fraternity houses, and met with considerable success.

By the time the campaign is closed there is little doubt that the hopes of the association will be realized, and seven hundred men will be enlisted.

OBITUARY.

The sad news has been received by University friends, of the death of Miss Ruth Ella Parish, who was last year a student in the College of Liberal Arts. She was a sister of Miss Jessie Parish, who was graduated last June, and who is now teaching in the high school at Pella, Iowa.

Soon after leaving Iowa City this summer, Miss Parish was stricken down by typhoid fever, and after she had suffered for some seven weeks, death came to her relief. She was well known in the University and Iowa City, and news of her untimely death comes as a shock to all. Her bereaved sister and other relatives have the most sincere sympathy of students and faculty members alike.

MONDAY WAS PLEDGE DAY

THE SORORITIES ANNOUNCE THEIR PLEDGES.

Large Number of Freshmen Girls Will Join—News of the Sororities.

Yesterday was the official pledge day for the sororities, and it came as a relief to both the sorority girls and the new girls, for the "rushing" season just passed has been the most strenuous in the history of the local sororities.

There are more new girls at Iowa than ever before and consequently each sorority has a goodly number of pledges.

The pledges are as follows:

Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Helen Seerley, Cedar Falls.

Caroline Mabry, Albia.

Ora Cook, Shelby.

Helen Letts, Columbus Junction.

Pi Beta Phi.

Clara Stoltenberg, Davenport.

Francis Beem, Marengo.

Delta McDonnell, Ottumwa.

Agnes Pheney, Council Bluffs.

Elsie Remley, Anamosa.

Jessie Thomas, Burlington.

Delta Gamma.

Florence Mayer, Iowa City.

Blanche Ashton, Fort Dodge.

Ethel Barber, Chicago.

Katherine Berryhill, Des Moines.

Marjorie MacVicar, Des Moines.

Margaret Marshall, Des Moines.

Delta Delta Delta.

Ethel McKnight, Iowa City.

Lydia Heary, Clarksville.

Alice Clark, Burlington.

Edna Harper, Burlington.

May Wright, Cedar Falls.

The Phi Deltas entertain at an informal this evening at their chapter house.

Thursday evening Phi Kappa Psi will give a dancing party.

Delta Gamma entertained at a super-spread last night in honor of their new pledges. The affair took place at the Lyon home.

CROSS COUNTRY.

The Second Regular Practice Showed Interest.

The second regular practice run of the Cross country club was held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 from the gymnasium, over the river course, and was well enough attended to show that cross-country work is taking the place it deserves.

Capt. Burkheimer led one of the largest bunches that has gone out for some time and stated that he was very well satisfied with the aspect of things in general. He emphasized the fact that cross-country work would prepare the men for the fall meet and advised more men to come out.

Coach Catlin said that the fall meet would come in the middle of October and would not be preceded by any preliminary training. Instead, cross-country work will be the means of putting the men in condition.

With this ideal fall weather, and the interest in the coming meet as stimulus, the runs should be unusually well attended.

Dr. G. V. I. Brown of Milwaukee, gave his first lecture on Oral Surgery before the dental classes Friday. He also performed two operations for cleft palate at the University hospital before the junior and senior dental classes.

THE FINE ARTS IN IOWA.

A student has time for things. The outside life is narrowing, in great degree, one is obliged to neglect everything but the main issues. But in the four favored years of his college life a student has opportunity for athletics, for study, for general reading, for everything that contributes to development. If anyone can live a perfect life, it ought to be the student.

The University has recognized this fact, in offering the new courses in music and the fine arts. There has always been a lively interest in music here, as is proved by the reputation of our band, and the constant attempts at choral and oratorio work in spite of discouragement. The Junior Annuals often show a considerable amount of talent in drawing. The interest is here, all that is needed is the stimulus of instruction. Though we are western, it does not follow that we are Philistine. In the many-sided, vigorous life of this institution there is an esthetic phase, and it is to have its share of attention. The results that flow from this quiet beginning cannot fail to show in the general tone of the school, to say nothing of the probable effect upon attendance and the prestige of the University.

The Register and Leader of last Sunday commended Professor Shambaugh's work on the Executive Journal, in an editorial something over a column in length.

CORRECT STYLES

Men who buy fall clothes are usually very particular about style. They study the "trend of fashion" almost as carefully as do we, who must invest thousands of dollars in clothes to sell to men who dress with care. That our styles for fall are correct is demonstrated by the usually large business already done since their first showing—spite of weather such as we usually expect in mid-summer.

But we are equally careful in choosing the fabrics and seeing that the tailoring is done skillfully. It's an easy matter to set up snap styles from smart patterns and sell them at a popular price. Good clothes, however, must be made from good material and by tailors who know how.

Light Weight Overcoats and Business Suits.....

Some departures are being made in the lines of long 43 inch coats which will still hold their place in Fashion's favor during the fall and winter seasons. Coats coming from the best tailors show slight moderations in the form-fitting lines. We show a complete selection in the popular GRAY and medium DARK MIXTURES. The prices range from $12.00 to $28.00. In suits, the 32 inch coats are being shaped to conform more to the form-fitting lines of the overcoats--patterns are mostly invisible black, dark gray--prices $10.00 to $28.00. We invite inspection of our Furnishing Goods and Hat Departments, which we feel satisfied are the finest in the city.

For the past few months Mr. Baugh and Mr. Putnam have been putting forth every effort to increase the number of volumes in the Library. It is their hope that the historical library will be as valuable and as complete as the state library.

Combines Business
Members Ge
Ma

The Y. W. C. A. has monthly business meetings in the Hall with about 100 members in attendance. After the month's work a general meeting is held to plan for future activities. The members have been given opportunity to speak and report as states.

The reports of the committees show an increase along all lines of work and prospects for the coming year are bright.

Special efforts are being made to increase the enrollment in the Mission Study classes. These efforts have been successful so far.

One new feature this year is the organization of a class in each of the courses offered. Classes meet at the Sunbeam Building and will follow the systematic course recommended by the Association. It is hoped that the new classes, the association with the other churches may be increased and church work, while continuing their own interests in the community.

The junior Department is enthusiastic about the new year and when the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Cedar Rapids; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Cedar Rapids; secretary, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Cedar Rapids; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Cedar Rapids.
