New Books
COMING TO LIBRARY
HISTORICAL SOCIETIES EXCHANGE BOOKS.

Over 100 Volumes Have Been Presented by Various Libraries.

Another addition has been made to the large collection of volumes at the State Historical Department. The various historical societies, through the United States, exchange volumes whenever special books are desired. Within the last week over one hundred volumes have been secured from the Library of Congress at Washington, D.C. Among this gift is GalLam's Iowa Immigrant, which is considered a very rare volume. The State Historical Society at Topeka, Kansas, has also loaned several hundred volumes of reports, publications, and historical pamphlets. Among those volumes can be found a large number of the House Laws and Codes of the States of Kansas.

The department now has almost a complete set of the statutes of that state. It may be well to mention that there are only three complete sets of the Modern Laws of our own state that are now accessible; these are kept at the State Printing Office, and the Public Library at Iowa City, the state capital, and the Hotel Del Monte.

For the past five years, Prof. Rand-ham, of the University, has been editing and printing the reports of the different societies, which give opportunity for the old and new members to become better acquainted.

The reports of the different committees show an encouraging breadth along all lines, and the process for the coming year's work are bright.

Special efforts are being made for a large enrollment in the Bible and Mission study courses offered, and these efforts have met with unusual success.

A new feature of this Bible work this year is the organization of classes in the main departments of the State University at the Sunday school hour and will follow the systematic Bible study courses recommended by the associates. It is hoped that through these classes many shall come to Christ, and the church may be brought into closer touch with each other, and thus help to keep up their close union at all times, and fraternize with the associates in interest in college.

The Junior texts held a meeting and arranged entertainment for them- selves yesterday, when the following officers were elected: president, Harry Teague of Cedar Rapids; vice-president, Charles M. Smith of 1907 Hawkey, T. B. Rider of Iowa City.

APPOINTMENTS READ TO BATTALION

A. FIFTH COMPANY IS FORMED IN THE BATTALION.

In General Order, No. 1, Lieutenant Smith announced the appointment of battalion officers for the coming year at the regular drill last evening. Here-terfore, many of the appointments have been made at the close of the first week of the school year. Last year, however, as far as to future officers were given. Accordingly, the list here was a great deal of interest above the list of appointments.

On account of the large increase in the number of men who have carried out for drill, it became necessary to form a new company. It will be known as Company E, and will be under the command of C. E. Emmons, with the other officers as given below. There will be a great number of men who need not, by course, be turned out for drill, and if possible that only one or two company will be formed, thus making two battalions of three companies each.

Following is the list of appointments.

Igorrotes for the Fall Carnival.

In securing the Igorrote Village, the Cedar Rapids Central visitors will have a good opportunity to study at close range a group of primitive wild people, 3,000 years backward in the scale of civilization, and to learn much of their home life, form of government, industries, pastimes and peculiarities. Of the more than one hundred tribes in the Philippines in this area it is remarkable as the Igorrotes. He is a peripheral hunter of human heads, that being his form of warfare. The entire life of these curious people will be shown in their village which covers more than an acre. Their straw-thatched homes, their war dances, tribal songs, dances and sparrow throwing offers a strange and most interesting scene.

Every one, old and young, should see these strange people of which so little is known.

This Igorrote band is the only one in America and will be called home as soon as their engagement with the school ends. They are endorsed by the press and given as the most unusual educational feature.

Only 75c to Cedar Rapids and return all this week, via Interurban. Tickets limited to dates of sale.

Mr. K. H. Harrison, Dent. “Mr. Hopkins” in the city a few hours yesterday was unable to shake hands with his University friends. Mr. Harrison was on his way to Chicago Dental college, where he will pursue his studies in dentistry.

THE PHILosophical club.

As announced in the Bulletin, the Philosophical Club will hold its first meeting this evening. Regular meetings will follow on the first Wednesday of each month. The club is composed of faculty members and graduate students from the departments of philosophy and education. The papers considered at each meeting are read by club members or by visiting speakers. Tonight's paper will be given by Professor Birkhead.

A part of the evening's business will be the election of officers. Prof. Birkhead has been president through the previous year. Room 213 A is the place of meeting. The sessions are open to the public, and undergraduate students are welcome to attend.

A theatrical event of much importance will be the engagement of Mr. Walker Whiteside all the Coldren, Friday evening. Mr. Whiteside will present his new play, "The Magic Melody," a charming story of love and music, finance and flower gardens, and of the artistic ambitions which surround all characters and win both fame and fortune. Beat sale opens this evening.

W. B. Patton, who will be remembered for his excellent portrayals of "The Minister's Son," will be at the Coldren tomorrow evening in his new play, "The Slow Poke." Seats are now on sale.
