FOOTBALL RULES INTERPRETED

PROF. SMITH, COACHES CHALMERS AND CATLIN RETURN.

They Report a Good Meeting at Which Many Disputed Points Were Settled.

Prof. A. G. Smith, member of the Conference committee for appointing officials says that the officials for the games were selected and reported to the various managers for approval. No list of the same is for publication until after such managers have passed upon the work of the committee.

Coaches Chalmers and Catlin met in Walter Camp's gathering of Gridiron heroes at the Chicago Beach hotel and participated in working out the interpretations. We clip below a few interpretations placed upon the new rules.

None of the five center line men can be pulled back save for the purpose of kicking.

One forward pass is allowed for each scrimmage and this pass does not have to be made back of the line of scrimmage, provided the ball is passed to a player who was behind the line of an end.

If the forward pass goes over the goal line before touching a player of either side, it is a touchback for the defenders of the goal, and not a touchdown.

A ball free upon the ground after a fumble may be kicked if the fumble did not occur from a kick.

If the fumble occurred from a kick from scrimmage, another scrimmage must intervene before further kicking can take place.

In all points not covered by the umpire, the referee's decision is final.

Hard Luck.

The strict interpretation of the rule as to required attendance cuts seriously into Iowa's team. Three most likely men on the 'Varsity team are not eligible on account of not having been in the University both semesters last year. This means that Crow, O'Connor and Seidel are out for the season. O'Connor is a new man doing heady work. Crow has been making good in the back field, is a fast man and would add materially to the strength of the 'Varsity team. Seidel has been doing heavy work at tackle. In yesterday's game he showed up well, gaining good ground when given the ball. These men will have to remain in Iowa another year before they will be eligible.

Dr. Buchanan, D. D. S., of the California Dental school, is taking graduate work in porcelain.

VARSITY MAKES POOR SHOWING

ONLY TWO TOUCH DOWNS TO THEIR CREDIT.

Ragged Playing in Both Teams—Freshman Team Force Them to Do Much Kicking.

Yesterday's game resulted in a final score of 10 to 0 in favor of the 'Varsity. Two touchdowns with goals, and a safety were all the regulars could chalk up against Marc Catlin's freshmen. The game was worth seeing, but decidedly disappointing to those who expected to see the 'Varsity in good working form. Much is lacking. The men fail to know their plays, and get "balled up" on signals and fine fumbles by the 'Varsity were costly. The failure to get the plays off with snap was shown throughout the entire game.

Not more than a dozen times did the 'Varsity make first down and they needed ground often enough to negotiate seventeen kicks during the game. From the appearance of yesterday's game it is evident that somebody must "play ball" if we expect to win a single game on the schedule. Some individual work was good but in the absence of team work it did not count for much. With the ineligible men on the bunch, Iowa will have hard work to fix up a team worth showing. It means that every eligible man must report each night and fill his place.

Yesterday on the kickoff, the freshmen tried to run back with the ball and being downed back of the goal counted two for the 'Varsity. Another good kick by the 'Varsity and ten minutes' play brought the first touchdown. After that what the 'Varsity got, they earned. Twice the freshman team had the ball on the 'Varsity's five yard land and three times the freshmen made a dangerously close kick from the field. At the close of the first half the 'Varsity made another touchdown, but during the second half the freshmen's goal was in danger but once.

The lineup was as follows:

'Varsity	Freshmen
Hastings	Coburn
Nolte	L. G.
Elliot	R. G.
Knowlton	L. E.
Carbury	R. E.
Bemis	Q.
Fritzell	L. H.
Miller	L. H.
Kent	F. B.

During the game on both teams the men were changed giving every available man a few minutes try out.

Referee, J. N. Streff. Umpire, W. I. Atkinson. Time keeper, Art. Edwards.

As Seen from the Bleachers.

- The freshmen were there with the ginger.
- VanMeter got his kicks off in an easy style.
- Seidel raised the noise when he gained that seventeen yards.
- Pete Elliot didn't work hard enough, but neither did he loaf.
- The fake kicks worked good for the freshmen.
- Hurdling don't go!
- "Jimmy" got all the gate receipts.
- Nolte wasn't so bad, was he?

LAWS ORGANIZE NEW SOCIETY

HAMMOND AND FORUM ARE NO MORE.

J. P. Reed Elected First President of New Society—Prospects Good for a Strong Organization.

For the past two weeks the consolidation of the Hammond and Forum societies has been pending. With this purpose in view the two societies appointed committees to meet in joint session to draw up a constitution. The joint committee held its session Oct. 2. It was agreed to call the new organization, "The Marshall Law Society," in honor of Chief Justice John Marshall, who for over thirty years, sat as chief justice in the supreme court of the United States.

Friday evening, Oct. 5, the two old societies met at Hammond and Forum for the last time, and each individually adopted the new constitution as submitted by the joint committee. When the societies adjourned, a joint session was called. At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by J. J. Lamb, president of the Law Debating league. A motion was made to adopt the constitution as drawn up by the joint committee, and was carried unanimously. With the adoption of this motion the new society was an accomplished fact.

The spirit of the meeting was worthy of commendation. Harmony and enthusiasm prevailed.

In the course of the session a motion was made to proceed with the election of officers.

J. P. Reed seemed to be the strongest candidate for president; Mr. Reed's fitness for the office was generally recognized, and he was forced to accept in spite of some reluctance. The remaining officers were elected as follows:

- Vice-president—J. J. Lamb.
- Recording secretary—B. H. Sheehan.
- Corresponding secretary—C. A. Fritzel.
- Treasurer—D. L. O'Hern.

The joint committee appointed to draw up the constitution deserve the warm thanks of their friends. The Hammond representatives were Reed and O'Hern; the Forum representatives were D. H. Sheehan and C. A. Fritzel. The constitution, as it stands at present, allows any student of good standing in the University to be eligible to membership.

The work of this new society will be along the line of moot court trials and other practical application of the law. Series of readings of legal papers by members of the law faculty will be given at the regular programs. The first meeting will be held next Friday night, when an opening program is to be given. The society will welcome all visitors.

The Misses Grace Long and Rose Reeve have returned from a short visit in Tiffin.

NEW TRAINER ARRIVES MONDAY

HAS HAD MUCH EXPERIENCE IN ATHLETICS.

Will Be Valuable Assistant to Coach Chalmers—Cross Country Gossip.

At last Iowa is to have a competent athletic trainer. For years, there has been an effort made to secure a man who could assist the coaches by looking after the physical welfare of Iowa's athletic teams, and these efforts are now crowned with success. Tom O'Brien, of Chicago, is the man chosen, and he will arrive Monday to take charge of the work.

For the last seven years, he has been at the University of Chicago in the capacity of rubber, trainer and assistant coach of the baseball team. His baseball experience has been extensive enough to make him thoroughly experienced in the finer points of the game. For several years he has cared for the physical welfare of the Cubs while in Chicago, and has also played with the semi-professional teams of that city.

Mr. O'Brien will take up his work as soon as he arrives, and will at once assume charge of the training of the football squad. This will, no doubt, overcome one of Iowa's greatest weaknesses, because for years there has been need for some one who could take charge of the team, when the coach had finished his work; and it speaks volumes for the excellent work of Mr. Chalmers when it is considered that beside the arduous work of coaching alone, he tried also to look after the training of his teams. The fact that we have retained the state championship in spite of all this, tells how Mr. Chalmers succeeded.

But it is hoped that in the future this handicap will be removed, and Iowa's supporters can hope to hear fewer calls for "time out," during the rest of this season.

Indirectly, Mr. O'Brien's arrival this fall will affect next year's track prospects. With Mr. Catlin, he is an ardent advocate of cross country running and will help to stimulate interest in that branch of athletics. Great interest is being taken in running at Chicago this year, and the cross country club is larger than ever. At Michigan, too, there is a determination to hold the western championship, and eighty men responded to Keene Fitzpatrick's first call for cross country work.

Yesterday's run, in spite of the cool weather, showed that the interest here, is increasing. There was a large bunch out for the run over the river road, and Coach Catlin and Capt. Burkheimer expressed themselves as well satisfied with the results of the first week.

It was announced yesterday that no one would be allowed to participate in the Thanksgiving day run, who had not been running regularly with the club. So it behooves all who wish to compete in the final run to come out early.

Fred W. Sargent, L. '01, city attorney of Sioux City, recently became a member of the legal firm of Wright & Call, the oldest and wealthiest law firm in Northwestern Iowa. Mr. Sargent has been the leader among the younger lawyers ever since he came to Sioux City five years ago. He was elected city attorney on the republican ticket in the democratic landslide last spring, by the biggest majority given any candidate.

POLITICS RIFE IN THE CLASSES

ELECTION OF OFFICERS THE ORDER OF THE DAY.

Smead and Jones Get Presidential Offices—Junior Laws Honor Memory of William Penn.

The junior laws met Friday for the annual election of class officers. Mr. Breeze was appointed as a committee of one to secure a supply of Buster Brown's stock for immediate use. It was unanimously agreed that each newly elected officer should "set-up" ten cent cigars to the members of the class. The price of refreshments was of secondary importance, and the junior laws gave way to the excitement of the meeting. John R. Smead, a graduate of Epworth Seminary '99, receiving B. A. from Upper Iowa University, '04, an "A" man in the law college, was elected to preside over the class meetings for the ensuing year. Mr. Smead has a record which entitles him to the honor thus bestowed upon him. The following men were elected to fill the regular offices:

- President—John R. Smead.
- Vice-president—M. A. Coughlin.
- Secretary—C. A. Adams.
- Class Delegate—C. L. Ely.
- Hawkeye editor—Dan L. O'Hern.
- Hawkeye manager—H. S. Greenleaf.

Sergeants-at arms—A. E. Seidel, D. G. Mullin.

Chaplain—M. D. Rowland. Following the election of officers, a music and yell committee was appointed consisting of D. L. O'Hern, A. D. Ficke, C. A. Adams, John R. Smead.

E. C. Barrett's resignation as manager of the Hawkeye, was accepted.

The meeting was marked by great enthusiasm and freedom from political strife. The generosity of the successful candidates was nothing short of magnificent, and the great quantity of incense burned will remain for many days a fragrant reminder of how the laws made history.

L. A. Sophomores Elect.

The sophomores of Liberal Arts also got together and saved the country Friday by the election of officers who will resist all the encroachments of monopoly and corruption. A report of their deliberations is not obtainable, but the following list of officers chosen will receive the sanction of every patriotic citizen.

- President—R. N. Jones.
- Vice-president—Alice Manny.
- Secretary—Mae Keiser.
- Treasurer—Chas. Penningroth.
- Class representative—Wm. Carberry.

WATER STATION IS MOVED.

The old engine room of the Hall of Chemistry, which is situated in the extreme northwest corner of the building, has undergone a transformation. The two big, black boilers which had occupied their places there for more than a decade were removed a short time ago, and only their brick foundations remained.

Now the interior is being fitted up for the use of the government expert employed in water analysis.

The room has so many advantages over the present laboratory on the third floor that Mr. Barr is glad to move. There are three large windows admitting plenty of light, which is indispensable to the chemist and analyst. The floor will be of concrete, so that the jars or vibrations which would come from a wooden floor, will not damage the fine and sensitive chemical apparatus used in such a laboratory. As soon as the room is put into proper condition, a work which will probably require at least a month, the laboratory, which now occupies the prescription room of the Pharmacy school, will be removed at once. Many new and handsome pieces of apparatus will be added to the laboratory. Uncle Sam furnishes the best appliances obtainable and the highest grade of chemicals to his employes, who, of course, are men of exceptional skill and ability. At the same time, he makes rigid demands of them in the matter of accurate and timely results.

The local station, which is to continue for a year, is already overwhelmed with work. This is one of the chief reasons why larger space is necessary, for new samples of water, coming in daily from the rivers and other natural sources of the entire Mississippi valley, occupy nearly as much space as the laboratory appliances and desks themselves. On account of the pressure of work, the chemist in charge has been allowed, by the chief hydrographer, two assistants, both of whom are students at the University, specializing in advanced chemistry. It is fortunate that our students are afforded so rare an opportunity, as this work requires the greatest of care and precision. The practical experience acquired from this is in many instances more valuable than class work and the ordinary laboratory work in water analysis.

DEAN VOLLAND RECEIVES.

Yesterday afternoon, from four until six, the Drawing room of the Hall of Liberal Arts was the scene of gay activity. Mrs. Mabel M. Volland, assisted by Mrs. McLean and Miss Gilchrist, received the young ladies of the University. At four-thirty, Mrs. Volland, the Dean of Women, led the way to the auditorium, where the company was delightfully entertained with a short program.

Miss Esther Swisher opened the program with an instrumental solo. This was followed with a reading by Miss Jepson, the new instructor of Public Speaking. Miss Jepson read "The Second Mrs. Jim," and rendered it in a most charming manner. Miss Marguerite Moore next whistled and then Miss Jepson read two little selections from Eugene Field. The program was closed with the school song "Iowa" which was led by Miss Alice Rigby.

Misses Jo Lynch and Sadie Jacobs presided at the punch bowls.
