INTEREST GROWS ON IOWA FIELD

Varsity and Freshmen Continue Struggle.

All the Players are Improving and Show Better Form as the Game Continues.

The Varsity defeated the Freshmen yesterday who were reinforced with Crow and Seydel, the Varsity men declared ineligible by the year's attendance rule. The addition of a speedy back like Crow and the heavy line work of Seydel made a noticeable improvement in the Freshman team. Halves of twenty minutes were played and the Varsity shoved Law over for the first touchdown, just 30 seconds before time was called in the first half. The second touchdown came about ten minutes after play commenced in the second half, the ball being carried by Allen. Washburn and McFadden made good gains from their positions at tackle. Thompson for the Varsity made two or three heavy gains around the Freshmen's left end.

Seydel played a fine defensive game for the Freshmen, breaking up the Varsity plays with great regularity. Van Meter, the Freshmen quarter, and his successor, Bemis, did some great open field tackling.

The Varsity failed to show the form expected, but with a little more determination and confidence in themselves they will begin to show the true form.

Capt. Allen played a good game, his interference for his teammates being of the highest order.

"Chick" Kirk's absence from his position at full back was keenly felt by the Varsity.

"Bobby" Miller, who has been playing quarter for the regulars was absent with a sprained ankle.

The line-up taken was as follows:

Varsity.

Gross, Coburn, C. Hull, R. G. Seydel, R. T. Warren, R. E. McLaughlin, Comly, L. G. Jewel, L. T. Hanlon, L. E. Van Meter, Bemis, Q. B. Barrick, L. H. B. Crow, R. H. B. Rahn, F. B.

Freshmen.

Hastings, C. Elliott, R. G. McFadden, R. T. Carberry, R. E. Nolte, L. G. Washburn, L. T. Thompson, L. E. Brugeman, Q. B. Kent, Willcutt, L. H. B. Allen, R. H. B. Law, F. B.

SOX TRIMMED AGAIN YESTERDAY

The World's Series is Growing Close.

The "Cubs" representing the National League, and the "White Sox", the American, are in a great struggle for the championship of the world.

Today's game may decide the series. If the Sox win it will be the final game. While the great collegian "South Paw" will probably pitch for the white Sox, pitted against him will be Piester, who fared so badly with the Sox on Thursday. The "sox" are great favorites with the majority of Iowa students and comments from many of those best posted may be heard on all sides.

THE ENGINEERS ARE BUSY

More Time for Work than for Politics.

New Electrical Machinery Being Installed... Myers First Man to Finish a Course Under New System.

Class elections are rather slow in coming off in the College of Applied Science this year. Only one has been held so far, that of the Juniors, which was held the latter part of the week. The meeting was uneventful, there being no particular contests of any kind. The following officers were elected to serve this year: President, Ralph C. Puckett, Iowa City; Vice President, John Scherner, Akron; Sec. and Treas., H. G. Vollmer, Burlington. T. J. Clark, of Clinton, was elected as business manager on the Annual Board and Fred J. Poyner, of Cedar Rapids, was chosen Department Editor.

The Sophomore class expects to elect its officers some time this week. The Freshman class, owing to its being divided and seated in two buildings, has not yet arranged for its elections.

The special section for the Freshman class taking the special course of Individual Instruction are showing most gratifying results in their work. The first man has finished the course in chemistry and will start on mathematics on Monday morning. He is Ralph C. Myers, of North Liberty, and is trying to take the course in three years. His start promises much for his success. Many of the division are close behind him and will finish in a few days.

Some new apparatus has been purchased for the Electrical laboratory. It is a lecture outfit and consists of standard machines of small sizes suitable for lecture purposes. It includes two alternators, direct current motor, one direct current generator, and one induction motor. These are all of different makes to show the different manufacturing methods. They are all of 110 volt to connect with the University power. Some standard switch boards are in course of construction, showing the usual method of wiring in power stations. The new equipment will add greatly to the efficiency of the electrical part of the laboratory.

The Engineering societies are getting many new members and they look for a year of great benefit to everyone. The first regular program will be that of the Electrical Engineering Society, and will be given Monday night. The meetings of the other societies have not yet been announced.

The Monday night program is as follows.

The Edison Co. of New York... John Scherner I. and E. of S. U. I. Leroy Quigley Chicago's Electrical Industries... Mr. Bregler.

The program will be given in the lecture room of the Engineering Building.

Graduate study at the chemical Lab. is progressing slowly but surely, say the graduates.

Mr. Remington is pursuing special work of water analysis.

W. J. Morgan is studying M'Xylene derivatives under Dr. Karslake.

A. L. Tatum is doing special work on solubility products under Dr. Von Ende.

On Friday afternoon the graduate club met and extended elections of membership to many new members of the graduate college. The club decided to hold its next meeting Halloween night. The nature of this meeting is not to be published as yet.

B. C. Banquet.

Last night the B. C. 1905 Club gave their annual banquet. The banquet was progressive and the soup course was served at the home of Miss Jo. Strange 714 N. Linn street. The meat course was served by Mrs. S. Bush, 216 E. Fairchild. From this home the banqueters proceeded to 903 Iowa avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Volland had the salad course in readiness. The last course was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyer, Bowery.

THE FACULTY RECEPTION.

President and Mrs. MacLean Entertained Friday Evening—Nine Brides in Receiving Line.

One of the notable social events of the year was held at the home of President and Mrs. MacLean last Friday night. President and Mrs. MacLean were at home to the members of the various faculties of the University in honor of the new members of the faculties. This reception is annual, and, as usual, it was attended by practically the entire instructional and administrative staff of the University.

Over fifty new instructors of various grades, together with their wives, were in the receiving line with the host and hostess. Among the guests of honor was Prof. Davidson of the University of Nebraska.

Several hundred guests were present for the whole or part of the evening, and the time flew swiftly as they greeted former acquaintances and friends after the summer's separation, or formed new bonds of acquaintance and comradeship with the recent additions to the University teaching corps.

President MacLean, with his usual geniality, and Mrs. MacLean, with her well known gracious manner, made these new-comers feel at once that they were already as completely a part of the social life of Iowa City and the University as if they had been here for years.

One feature which especially drew attention to the rapid advance on the part of S. U. I. instructors was a group of nine or ten brides of but a few weeks. No count was kept of the number of times that these brides, in dainty and pink confusion, introduced themselves by their former names of Miss Anna Doe, instead of the more recently acquired one of Mrs. Roe. President MacLean cheered the hearts of some of the disconsolate looking bachelors present by quietly assuring them that the same bay window in the parlor would be capable of accommodating another group of brides next year if it should be needed.

Anyone who has ever enjoyed the hospitality of Pres. and Mrs. MacLean knows that an evening at their home cannot be otherwise than an evening of pleasure. This faculty reception was certainly no exception to the general rule. It will be remembered by many as the time from which they date the beginning of associations and friendships such as make life and work together in an educational institution most enjoyable.

John Leeper of Clarksville, who has two sons in the Engineering College and one in Liberal Arts, is here visiting them and looking over the University.

The Whitney society will soon announce a course of eight public lectures on the beginnings of great world literatures. The lectures will be given on Monday afternoons at 4:30. The date set for the first lecture is Nov. 12.

HONORS TO BE WON IN ORATORY

Four Contests Open to Undergraduates.

N. A. Crawford will Represent Iowa in the Hamilton Contest—N. O. L. at Madison This Year.

A few weeks ago this paper called attention to the debating work of the University, especially as determined by intercollegiate relations. Many of the students, however, do not care to enter this line of public speaking. To such students work in oratory especially commends itself. The purpose of this article is to call attention to opportunities along this line.

Four of the alumni of the University who have won out in local preliminaries for the intercollegiate contests have offered a prize of twenty dollars to be contested for by first year students only. These men are Messrs. E. K. Brown, of Seattle, Wash.; Otto Brackett of the same city; E. J. Shannahan, of Kansas City and Henry Walker of Iowa City. First year students in all colleges are eligible for this contest, provided they do not hold a collegiate degree.

Another one of the alumni, George Egan of Logan, Iowa, provides a prize of $20 for the second year students on the same condition.

These two contests serve as training ground for students who desire inter-collegiate contests. There are two in number and occur annually, the Hamilton Prize Oration Contest, which takes place before the Hamilton Club in Chicago, Jan. 11; and the Northern Oratorical League Contest, which occurs at Madison, Wis., May 3rd next.

In order not to crowd the students who participate in this work, the preliminaries have been placed one in each semester. The N. O. L. occurs Jan. 26, and the Hamilton on May the 31st. The Freshmen and Sophomore contests occur in the second semester, the exact date will be announced soon.

THE DAM IS NEARLY FINISHED.

Work Begun on Power House—Machinery Here Next Month—Four Turbines for Power.

The new concrete dam across the Iowa river below the Burlington Street bridge is nearly completed. The work is progressing rapidly and will be finished next week. The cause of the delay in the construction was high water, and the trouble experienced in keeping it back. But this obstacle has now been overcome by the use of a pumping engine which removes the leakage.

Work has begun on the superstructure of the power-house, the machinery for which will arrive here next month. It is expected that the plant will be in operation by Christmas.

There will be four turbines. A great benefit will accrue to the College of Applied Science from the completion of the new power plant.

The first appropriation was $10,000, made two years ago by the legislature. Last year $30,000 more was added to this amount, making a total of $40,000 for the dam, machinery and equipment. Iowa can well be proud of her new power plant when it is finished.

Miss Florence Marshall, A. B. '06, is to travel abroad the 20th of next month. She will visit her sister in London and study in Paris.

LET US HAVE A MASS MEETING.

Less than two weeks, and Missouri comes. Much is to be done at Iowa before we are ready to receive them. We need to organize this University into one big reception committee. Let us have a mass meeting and begin the preparation. Call the entire student body out, and let the band play. The yell masters need practice. Give them a chance. Songs for Old Gold must be learned. Speeches will be in order and first on the program will be "Prexie" with that convocation address. Prof. Byers will read a section from the Code, Capt. Allen can tell us about the formation of the Varsity team. A half dozen others will be called upon to stir up the college spirit. The boys on Iowa field will be ready to meet Missouri, and let us do our part. A mass meeting is the most effective means of producing the college spirit. Some night early this week may we not have a mass meeting?

LIBRARIANS ADJOURNED FRIDAY Did Not Adopt 300-Word List—Meet Next Year in Council Bluffs.

The three days session of the Iowa State Library Association came to a close Friday, and the university delegates have returned to their regular work. Mr. Wyer reports the convention a great success. A report has been circulated to the effect that the convention adopted the "Reform List in Spelling. This is incorrect. An informal vote was taken to see what portion of the delegation would be in favor of adopting it. No action in an official way was intended. Those present were divided in their opinion as to the advisability of adopting such a list.

One of the social features of the convention was the Library School Refavor of adopting it. No action in an Tuesday evening. President McLean arrived in time to participate in the festivities.

Miss McLone, of Des Moines, city librarian there, has been elected president of the association for the coming year. The next meeting will be held at Council Bluffs next October, 1907. This will be a joint meeting with the State Library Association of Nebraska.

The principal address of the convention was given by Professor Clark of Chicago University. In the coming convention other prominent men will be secured to speak along the lines of library work and general subjects.
