ROUTERS' CLUB ORGANIZED

ENGINEERS THE FINEST IN THE FIELD.

One Hundred and Fifty Routers in the Grand Stand Make Things Move on Iowa Field.

Yesterday afternoon the engineers met at 4:30 and organized a Routers Club. Not many efforts were exerted in this club, there being only one prominent position to fill, that of Chief Blender. This place was given to Dick Breitenberger. The meeting of the engineers was a great success, the entire college participating with enthusiasm.

As soon as the organization was placed one hundred and fifty engineer students went to the ground in no hurry and occupied one section of the bleachers, where they whispered the plans throughout the entire practice. The engineers yells were given and good work on the gridiron was rewarded.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

No one, when Allen set out for the fifty yards field around one, heard the same cheer in the fall. No single yells from the spectators this year added so much encouragement to the man as this greeting.

Hartings at center have bought down his 500 with much perseverance. No spectacular work has come his way. It is in the same old job at center. The man in the bottom of the pile gets up fast, goes hard of the pile and squares around for another formation. When "Fast" utilization was referred to a substitute, these good routers gave up.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

No one has a distinguishing feature like the team work in growing still better. Everybody says so.

EVANGELIST SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

ADDRESS IS STRONG AND WELL RECEIVED.

Rev. Harrison is Pastor of First Christian Church in Springfield.

Rev. Charles Clayton Morrison, who is conducting religious services for the Christian church, spoke in Assembly yesterday. His subject was, "Taking Life Seriously." The discourse was scholarly and well received by the multitude. It was a convincing refutation of the old saying, "The world owes me a living."

The speaker began by saying in substance that this universe is given by its Creator to men for their disposal, and that its destiny will be determined by them. In order that civilization and morality may held their place in the world of tomorrow it is necessary to give back to the world something of what has been given to us. The world relies upon the honor of mankind. "The world trusts you before you make good."

The speaker cited the university and the great expense of the state to have a large membership in the school, and as he would be a member of the University and the red of the political academy.

Professor Thomas H. Mackie, of the department of English, is given the charge of the department of Nature Science, and Professor F. C. Enright, head of the Department of Physics and Chemistry, has been appointed to the work of the department of High School methods. Several alumni and former students of S. U. are in active parts in this meeting.

Kappa Sigma will celebrate that night with an informal dance one week from Friday.

Phi Delta Theta are planning to give a Halloween party.

Miss Margaret Pond will soon set sail in Cedar Rapids.

Miss Theresa Wilson, who was formerly the Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in California, is to be in the city next week. Miss Wilson is now the National Secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Irene Gidietz has received the word that her father is very ill with pneumonia.

ANOTHER TEACHERS' MEETING

Southwestern Association will Convene at Atlantic Early in November.

Minutes has already been made in three columns of the annual meeting of the Southwestern Iowa Teachers Association, to be held at Cedar Rapids, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of this week. Another interesting gathering of considerable importance to be held in the near future is that of the Southwestern Iowa Teachers Association. As many of our readers know, the state of Iowa is divided into four districts, and each district has its own teachers' association which holds an annual meeting, and the educators from all four districts come together in the state meeting held at Des Moines during the fall years.

The Southwestern Iowa Teachers Association is to meet Nov. 1, 2 and 3, at Atlantic. It is expected that several hundred teachers will attend. E. L. Todd, chief editor of The World, is expected to speak before the various schools, and the political academy.

Professor Thomas H. Mackie, of the department of English, is given the charge of the department of Nature Science, and Professor F. C. Enright, head of the Department of Physics and Chemistry, has been appointed to the work of the department of High School methods. Several alumni and former students of S. DAM FINISHED LAST TUESDAY

WATER WILL NOT RISE BEFORE NEXT WEEK

Gates Cannot Be Shut Until Complete Hardwood-Work Has Continued Eighteen Months.

The new power dam is an established fact. The finishing touches were put upon Tuesday evening, when the main work upon the central section was finished. A few days will be allowed for this to harden, when the piling and gravel will be removed, the dam will be closed, and the water backed up in its new level. The height of the water at the power house is such that it will be so much in old level in that part of the river between the boat house and Coralville.

Though the spigots on the west side of a dam will be built, extending fifty feet down the river. This will afford, special boards for engineering students in the study of navigation and water management. On the east side a wing will be in used as high as a water tower. The power house, which is to be one story in height, will be running order with its four turbines after Christmas vacation.

The original water right was granted by the legislature about 1943. Under this right the old dam was built, and the lake, being for many years one of the harbor landmarks of this part of the state. On September 24, 1903, the dam and the water right were conveyed to the University as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders. Instead of rebuilding the old dam, the Board of Regents chose to have the water right in the University, where the power delivered can be handled more conveniently. The Board of Regents is to have the power delivered to the University, where the power delivered can be handled more conveniently.

GIL THE DYNAMO.

Almost anyone will go to give advice to college students. Reformers almost unanimously have the habit and opinion that papers are rarely good. But the readers just want something to do.

The beginning and the end of most of these appendices is "College Spirit." That is the doctrine upon which the student must work out his salvation with ease and freedom. He must have it large, and have it at all times. As a text the theme is rather true—to the multiplication table. But both are pretty big and important facts.

No arguments are needed to persuade us; we are ready to come and the students are about the only people who are ready to pursue these ideas.

If anyone doubts that we have a love for Iowa let him attend the weekly Assembly. The mingling of the college, the interest of the students, the excitement of the students, and the coolness of the students are all significant.

University spirit is an energy that cannot be generated in single and separate individuals; it is a self-consciousness of the mass and comes from getting together with a common interest.

We will have all the conditions right—now the common interest is defining Missouri. How many votes are we going to get?

Wednesday evening, Oct. 7th, the sensational comedy drama, "Nobody’s Bride," will be at the Coliseum. The producing company is adequate. Seat sale opens Monday evening.

6. Miller Kent, underfoot, the foremost personality of romantic character will tread the boards of the Coliseum Theatre Monday evening, Oct. 22, in the title role of a play which is the season’s theatrical sensation; "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman." The coming of the handsome and gifted romantic actor is in itself an event to look forward to and it is made of double importance in consideration of the delightful character of the play and of the remarkable cast with which he is surrounded. Mr. Kent’s role, that of the gentleman-burglar-philanthropist, is picturesque in the extreme and calls for all the physical grace and subtlety of which this actor is well known to be possessed. Seat sale opens Friday evening.

Students’ Boarding Club at the Continental, 87% per week. Corner of Market and Linn.

A production of "Julius Caesar," as Charles B. Hanford will offer at the Coliseum Theatre soon represents an extensive study of incidents and detail, one which commands the attention of the artist and archeologist. Among the historical pictures are the Grand Square in Rome, Bruin’s Garden, the Roman Senate, the Tent scene, and the palace of Philippi. Mr. Hanford is being surrounded this season with a production and a cast which surpasses any that he has before had. It is a production which represents the highest traditions of the stage, combined with its most complete modern resources.
