HISTORICAL SOCIETY PUBLISHES THE SUBJECT LUCAS JOURNALS

An Account of the Hull Campaign, War of 1812,Edited by John C. H. Buel

Under the title of the Robert Lucas Journal, of the War of 1812, Durand, Chief Justice, of the Circuit Court, Chicago, the Historical Society of Iowa has published a volume which makes a valuable contribution to American history. The book, which is in the nature of printing and binding is a model of the bookbinder's art, is edited by Mr. John C. H. Buel.

The original is to be preserved, and it is expected to play an important part as an advisory and social leverage force.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEET AND MADE APPOINTMENTS.

Utmanian Church Building to be improved and used as Mental Hall.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Regents was in session here Friday. In addition to the transaction of routine work, they provided for the installation of steam heat and electric lights in the old Chemical building. The interior will also be painted and papered. The upper floor will be used as a temporary home for certain student organizations.

Appointments were made as follows:

OTHER APPOINTMENTS:

C. H. Cogswell, M. D., assistant to Surgery, College of Homoeopathic Medicine.

Mary Louise Wood, scholar in Botany, vice Collier resigned.

John C. Parish, assistant in Political Science.

Morton L. Parsons, assistant in Political Science.

J. H. Heats, scholar in Geology, vice Stokey resigned.

H. S. Greenwell, assistant in Law Library.

H. O. Rogers, assistant in Law Library.

H. Haney's name was changed from Acting Instructor in Economics, to Instructor.

Miss Wilbur National, student Secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, has just completed a very successful week in Iowa City.

Each of the local W. C. T. U. is visited by one of the three National Student Secretaries of the association.

J. P. Root, assistant during her visit here, helped the girls arrange their plans for their student secretary. This year Miss Gingles has come as secretary.

Miss Wilbur has devoted her time to Evangelistic work and to meeting the college and high school groups of the association and advising with them. Immediately upon her arrival Miss Wilbur met the executive board and discussed plans for raising the years budget.

Miss Wilbur's meetings have been very strong and helpful and the assistants felt that this has brought them just the needed inspiration.

Miss Helen Swisher returned yesterday from a visit in Chicago.

Thick and stubborned as theMissouri team. But the behavior of the crowd was less commendable than that of the team. In some respects, it grated severely on the nerves of one who loves the game more than he loves his team. Such tactics as "grunting" a player of the opposing team because he chose to signal for a "time out," when perhaps he might have "run back," the hall are more than unsightly. So too are personal remarks of a ribald nature addressed to the player of the opposing side who comes "inside" to get the ball. Other illustrations of low grade humor will occur to some of the Iowa's readers.

Mind such crises as "Eat, on the field, you eat," or "Every man to his station to deliver,Height, weight, and "homework." The result is that the alumni and undergraduates are often heard to comment on the excellence of a commonfornial feeling on the field or in the stands are worse than unbecoming, and harm the University's good name. Let us watch with constructive interest the future games of the season.

The winter зрения wishes suc- to our team—he will be on "outside" for Iowa—but he hopes for victories untold. It is "on to the students of S. C. U."

As a last request the writer would remark on his missing the lover group by crow and players at the end of a game for the rival teams—defined or otherwise. This is a pleasant custom and leaves "a good taste" in the mouth.

Miss Wilbur and Mrs. Wilson of Lincoln, Neb., were entertained at dinner by the Kappa last Friday.
