Will Coe Be Able to Score?

COE GAME
CAME AT 2:30

PRESIDENTS COMING WITH STRONG AGGRESSION.

Vanity Takes a Bump, and Chances are That the Game Will Be Exciting.

From recent indications, the game tomorrow will be much closer than has been anticipated. Since the Win brings quite a name for themselves this year, and the State players have been put to the test, which means that Coe will not take the game for granted. Be-cause the game is to be played at the University, the rain will not preclude the attendance of the fans, five thousand or more. It is probable that Coach Carruthers will put a number of students in the lineup, for their performance has been so excel-

The Medic War Goes On

Second battle fought last evening.

Sophomores and Freshmen Mix It Up in Front of Anatomy Building.

TODAY'S NEWSLETTER

The Medicine are good "warmers." The Sophomore-Freshman campaign has started and has been all time.
Another "fire" in the general engagement, began at the Medical Quadrangle yesterday afternoon about ten. The Provost, dissatisfied with the results of the day's scrap, planned to ridicule the home of 10, and wipe the earth with the insulting Soap. The second-year men were in the dissecting room when the battle began. They both had their hands like gentlemen, and scrambled down stairs to continue dissection upon the anatomy of the class of 38.

The Provost proved to be very brave and popular. They outnen the Sophomores with cursing of the greatest fights ever put up in the classic state of 5:30.1.3. More to man, they fought to the ground; noted and began all over again. One bleeding Sophomore who was seeking to give up the earth with the none of the adversary discern-ent at all that the victim was his long-nosed nemesis. Both shot the horrors of war. The Sophomores flagning, the Sophomore with his mouth, the Sophomore with his face, the Sophomore with his touchdowns and will mean that the coach for the current year will ultimately appreciate 2009 students. Though a great many have failed to realize what a splendid rec-and the institution has been making which it was compared with the records of other institutions in another, similar circumstances, yet the fact is that the year's gain is but a continuation of the growth the University has been expanding during the past three years.

At the rate in 1913, the records show 618 students enrolled. Since then the enrollment has steadily continued to rise until the total registration in 1919 shows a growth in three years of over 64 per cent.

The largest gain this year in reference to numbers is recorded in the Library of the College of Liberal Arts, where 60 students were reported to be enrolled.
In the second year of the College of Liberal Arts, where 360 students were reported to be enrolled. The registration in the College of Liberal Arts will have increased from 360 to 600 of the registered student is now.

Lectures in Practical Ethics

Philosophy Department Announces New Course.

The Application of Science to Daily Life is General Theme.

"The Ethics of Health," that is the sort of topic in one week and think twice. The Department of Philosophy and Psychology announces that a course of lectures upon life subject will be given during the next semester. The lectures will be based upon the fundamental proposition that it is as much a duty to be healthy as to be good, that being well is a matter of practical ethics. The bearing of ethical open health will be discussed by Professor Franklin in a preliminary before the following:

The sportsmen will take up certain aspects of hygiene which have been treated in a purely scientific way, and apply them to daily life. The first lecture will be given by Professor Franklin in the State Hospital Laboratory. Both the public and private who are interested in the subject, being favorably disposed toward it, will be asked to join in the discussion. The second lecture, on "Food," will discuss modern studies in the chemistry of food, and what diseases are due to the food that is taken. The third lecture, on "Clothes," will be given by Dr. Albert. Not only personal cleanliness but public sanitation, will be considered. Dr. Albert's experience as a bacteriologist in the State Hygiene Laboratory qualifies him especially for this subject.

"Best" will be the fourth subject. Professor Starck will give the lectures and will consider modern inventions of fashion, and mental comfort. The concluding lecture is to be delivered by President MacLean, his subject being "Poise." The object will be to show how health may be improved by changes in the habits of life, and the manner in which they are enjoyed.

"Lecture on Hygiene" will be the subject of the next meeting of the class. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Hall next Tuesday evening. It is expected that the meeting will be well attended.

"The proper way to make a meal" will be the subject of the next meeting of the class. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Hall next Tuesday evening. It is expected that the meeting will be well attended.
