COE GIVES IOWA CHASE ON WET FIELD.

COE 12-Iowa 5, and Ten Minutes to Play.

CHAMPIONSHIP THROWN DUBIOUS, BUT IOWA POUNDED OUT TEN MORE, MAKING THE FINAL.

S. U. V. 15, COE 12.

Surprises do come, and Iowa got her here yesteryear. The election results are not worth reading when you can read one of a book-case game or one where Iowa fifteen. Sioux was the result; or the game was played yesterday. No one can say that the game was not worth seeing, for in fact it was electrifying. Everyone who saw it in his money's worth, if he did have it in the 50 yard stand in a dreamy seat.

The Iowa roots were not pleased with their play, as they saw, but in failure and piling they had full measure. Throughout the first half the crowd of spectators, watching the ball, the ball up to Coe's ten yard line, only to lose it back to Iowa near the center of the field before she could pick the bug sign. When the game was reformed, the game went away from her goal line. The ball went out of the field with the Iowa, but lack of possession by the Iowa Iowa kicked to Coe, who kicked out of bounds, and Coe again kicked to Iowa. Two more points for a loss, and then called a forward pass.

The Iowa, Iowa didn't do.

In the first half, Iowa took five three yard lines from the ball, from the third line of the field to the other for a touchdown and tide up and down. It was, however, the final ball out of their hands. After this touchdown, and in the last ten minutes of the game, no record was made, but because of what was done in that half. It was a reign of terror. The Center of the field was blackened up. The pop-eye waited for his ability when we were done.

James B. Beem, who sat in the rain and wrote, is a very near thing. Only the sight of the field and the sight of the Iowa, Iowa kicked to the Iowa, Iowa, who kicked out of bounds, and Coe again kicked to Iowa. Two more points for a loss, and then called a forward pass.

Marshall Law Meeting

Dean Gregory Reads Article on International Law. "States with Kin

xe May Be Held.

The members of the Marshall Law Society, at its meeting Friday evening in the Old Capitol building, were honor ed with a scholarly paper on The Question of International Law in the Investigation of Crimes. The paper has been published as the leading article in The Law Review, and which has since been copied and published by the London Law Times. The interest of the members of the society throughout the lecture. The discussion dealt with the question of an alien, after being deported and after passing the three-month limit, entailing valuable information to the law students on a question in which Professor Gregory has specialized as an author.

The organization of the program consisted of an unexpected surprise, one of the paper's leaders, an article on The Last Election," by T. W. McCornack, and a debate on the question. Resolved: That the International Federation Should be Established for the Definite Settlement of Questions of Crimes. The affirmative was addressed by Dr. E. B. Morse, and the negative was upheld by D. S. Thomas, and that D. S. Thomas was declared winner.

The discussions have been opened with the University of Kansas for an intercollegiate debate this year. The new members of the society are in every way a far stronger group than last year, as the moves were made February last, and the debate is by C. C. Overton, acting efficiently as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Houston, of Fort Madison, was the guest of Harry T. Woolson, on Saturday.

"She played a good game, especially in the second half, Iowa was aided by the good in the second half, Iowa was aided by the good...."
SPECIAL MEETINGS THIS WEEK

V. M. C. A. WILL OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

This feature of Association Work has been observed for Forty-One Years.

The second week of November, beginning with today, is the annual week of prayer for young men. This observance of this week was instituted by the Christian Association of North America forty-one years ago, and has been regularly kept apart ever since.

The call, which was issued by the International Committee a few days ago, after briefly review the greatly increased growth of the Association, states that, "This progress gives us abundant occasion for thanksgiving to God, whose blessing has been given to us, to set forth to him for association work, that they may grow in fidelity, piety, and every Christian perfection, and lift the work, that its quality and efficiency may be steadily improved for the coming year."

1.1.1 In holding the movement for youngmen. Christen, the Association has not neglected the more desirous practically spiritual side of its work. This has saved it and made possible all its other activities. This week, in connection with this call, the University Association with the other 1868 Associations, city. national, interdenominational. civil. army, navy, country, and sexenial. will meet for the purpose above stated.

This afternoon at 2 p.m. in Chase Hall, the opening meeting, will be held under the leadership of Rev. L. C. Clark, of the Methodist church, whose subject will be, "Prayer Receptacles," which is the general theme for the week.

Half-hour meetings will be held at noon every afternoon from 1:00 to 1:30, and Chase Hall, with the following leaders:

All members, regardless of Association membership, are asked to join in this meeting.

Our County Telephone directory will be closed for new names in a few days. Is your name in the book?

Miss May E. Pettit, a teacher in the public schools of Holden was the guest of Mr. W. W. White at Smith and Cilek.
