ENORMOUS SEAT SALE
AMES-IOWA GAME WILL BRING A RECORD BREAKING CROWD
Two thousand seats already taken out of twelve hundred reserved. Reservations are free.

Iowa City, Nov. 21, 1906.

From every direction it is present that there will be a record crowd in Ames, on Saturday next, that will equal any that have worked without a contest on Iowa field.
The out of town crowds will be unprece- dented. People from the surrounding towns and country will take a big day and see the big game. At Cedar Rapids, the excitement game is played in the foregoing so as to give the crowd there a chance to come in a body in the University Armory.

Word is coming in each day from alumni and old students over the state for the continuation of the game day arrangements to be made for them. Destinations will come from the following towns in Iowa:

William Normand from Ottumwa
O. A. Lambert from Cedar Rapids
H. B. P. from
St. Louis
John Robb from Chicago

The reserve seats are being taken up

A NARROW ESCAPE.

The Ames students are planning to have a banquet in the near future. Arrangements will need to be completed for the coming event.

The arrows of the Iowa girls, his wife, Prof. Stein, has been his home for the past few weeks, and we cannot be expected to receive him in the large gymnasium, because of the rooms occupied by the men. In the same gymnasium, as well as in the women's gymnasium, there are many other places that can accommodate more people.

Mr. Hoyt has returned from Oxford, where he attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Hoyt.

E. P. Buckingham, of Marion, on a visit a few days in the city.

The C. E. of the Christian invita- tion to its friend, a man of the church parties taken.

L. M. Morrow came to the city Sunday, on his way home to Ottumwa, from the hunting trip north. L. M. Morrow will stay over to see the game.

It is a matter of interest to the Iowa University for Commersial purposes, which the Department of Economics has been making for several years.

A considerable increase of interest in the study of commercial geography has been shown within the last year. Through the efforts of Prof. Morrow, many additions have been made to the material used for this course. One of the latest acquisitions is a fine specimen of a large soapstone, captioned by Mrs. E. E. Chisholm.

Miss Maud Robb of Albia will be at the hotel from the Phi Phi house to the last of this week.

MISS MANNY MURPHY of Ames will be the guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson.

MISS MADGE BUCK of Algona will be at the hotel from the Phi Phi house to the last of this week.

MASS MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT
FINAL PREPARATION TO BE MADE.

Professors and Lists Will Speak in Central-Church, Request Everyone to Attend.

Plans are now being completed for the final mass meeting at the University Armory Friday night. This is to be the final prize, before the Ames game, and it will be a fi- nal coordination of the department mass meetings being held this week.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m., and will be a final rehearsal of the new girls' and men's courses, and in which we are to help lead the Aggie to the front. There will be speeches—some long—that are intended to make us realize what Saturday's game will mean, not only to the football team, but to the student body and to the University generally. Dr. Praying will request the Medin to call for the Iowa with the University Armory, and every man will be made to realize that it is all for Iowa.

Miss Matt has had an operation upon her ear at the University Hospital.

The day, and in the evening the climate came. Our base drum was steamed and unstuffed, bell was stretched and refined, stones and other piplines were thrown through the car windows, and such a general exhibition of yelliness was given as would disgrace any state institution—an exculpating University wide.

How are we going to treat the Ames victims?

It is safe to say that we won't suit them. The standards of this school are too high for such a cheap sort of retaliation. But if we have top understanding among ourselves, we can make them feel very small.

Ames is old to have something of a reputation for the sort of thing above. Our students last year. It would be ad-ifying for them, or for those who are to write and prepare them, that we refuse to have the game. Iowa is now used to expressing itself in that way. But it has not been false to begin, we wish that we refuse from having it.

to confess that we play some conspicuously not because hospitality is called court, but because the contrast must fall to be noted. Why not kiss them at the track, with the best? And the rehabilitated basin drum; give some Ames yells, and convince them that we are glad to see them. That would be a good thing and well-begun in half time.

Lost!—The (4) keys, or a . In the east side of Capitol street between College and Burrington. Find it, and it will be returned. Lost!—The key to house at 13th street and Washington. Please return. P. 0. Box 295 at the town, or found.

Meadow's End, Carle Place.

John S. Jones, Manager

Clyde Williams, who is the best football man in the University of Iowa town turned out. Possibly we may be defeated by the brains we have produced. This year Ames has a good chance to win.

In regard to this championship content, Professor Lowe said—

"Let us not forget that we are both state institutions, that we are both for Iowa. Although we have a chance to distinguish ourselves. There is a good deal of satisfaction in keeping our minds on the Iowa, now let every man support the game for Iowa."

The football players are not the only students who have an opportunity Saturday. The rest of us have a rare chance to distinguish ourselves. There is a good deal of satisfaction in keeping our minds on the Iowa, now let every man support the game for Iowa.

"Every man should think of the game as one for Iowa. The University is in the contest. Thirteen years ago we did not think of ourselves as Iowa, now let every man support the game for Iowa."

Clothes don't make men but they go a long ways towards making a good impression. If a young chap isn't pleasing looking, he is handicapped. Nowadays the College Man has the call. He is energetic, bright, a wholesome looking type. And the man who even looks like a College man has a decided advantage.

College Brand Clothes

Dresses and suits are of such very many men's reach, but merchant tailoring styles are not.

COLLEGE BRAND CLOTHES distinguish men. They hold them out from the crowd. They are not like the ordinary sorts of ready-made clothes. The chap who wears them is always well groomed. The merchant tailor's clothes are just for young men and men who want to look young—made and priced young men want.
