HARD GAME ENDS THE SEASON

FIFTEEN THOUSAND SEE THE IOWA-VS. LOUIS GAME.

Hawkay go down in defeat before St. Louis Glenns-Weak defense the cause.

(Special by The Iowan, by Will Stiley)

St. Louis, Nov. 29—The Iowa team, unsurpassed in size and strength, 150 people were looking on, went Iowa in defeat before the Glenns of St. Louis today for a second of 23 which they were unweighted 15 to 14 pounds per man.
and their opponents played seven.
freshmen, mostly old Wisconsin playners. The Glenns was the most important on the St. Louis schedule, and they held Iowa to make a steal.

A withering array of double games, fortord passes, and contrasting plays of brilliant precision was the wealth of Iowa's light and experienced line, and while they played as they never planted with a starting lineup in the strong half, their efforts were untrivialized.

First Half.

Kent kick-off and St. Louis was in the first half

I. C. HARTING, Center. Spendor
Iowa. A Special student in the Libral Arts college. Played on the Iow-na high school team, and entered Iowa's freshman team in 1906.

A good man at center. Born in positing the ball, and strong in defense.

This is the great reason for the existees of football. Matched sport and but taste of experience in the sport not the sport itself.

Second half. St. Louis was the offense, Iowa's was the defense.
The players thus have sacrificed and maintained the balance of the season.

We should record as we always honest: that Iowa has not passed sufficient skill for the sport.
Not one day was ever a man put in study hours upon the Griffiths in order to stake a star in the contest.

A majority of all players were coaches and captains among a class of football player, who were in the game for the serious value.

Thus with so great a class record
The game has concluded as it was men, on the gridiron in a great moment in Iowa's athletic circle.
The players have won their personal standings for the team.

Flights and experiments which figure out the best in history. At present we cannot state anything but an appreciation of the Iowa offense which is so great.
Hawkay's defense will be wiped out, with a comfortable balance on the remainder.

The last and greatest success was scored in creating college spirit.
Foot ball is the greatest generality in field which love, for the college is revered.

The students at Iowa are in mass meetings and at the game housed for Iowa and for the team and before.

This was a benefit to the team, the students and to the University

REMELY WINS.

Cross Country Season Ended: This Meeting With An Exciting Contest.

Just before the struggle at St.
Louis, a very important phase of ath-esics was being carried on at Iowa field. In spite of the cold and threat-ed rain, over a hundred enthusiasm gathered to witness the companion run of the Cross Country Club.
Training for the past two months, waited the student's work to come up on the first mile. The course consisted of two lape around the conter track, then north across the Iowa avenue bridge, then the Coralville road, then back to the Iowa

Avenue bridge and south along the Great Western on to the Coralville avenue, then back to the Coralville

W. L. CARBERRY, Right End.
Prairie, Iowa, sophomore in 1. A class of '97. Played a good game this year in the freshman team. Speeded with the ball, and starred in Wisco-sin game. Will be in the best of form in season of '97.

CAPTAIN GEORGE H. ALLEN,
Hill Rock, Harlem, Iowa. In the college of Mederic '97, will be his third and last year in football.

A good and earnest player, always keeps his head in the game, and is eager stands in good favor with all the men.
G. L. FORBET, Right Tackle, Marion, Member of the class of '05. College of Engineering. This is his first year's work on Iowa's football team. As a sub tackle he has played well. Always willing to do his best.

IOwa's lineup this year. Acker returns kickoff in for Iowa. His first fumble is strong. Filled our offensive line at Iowa.

K. M. Hazard, Left End. Iowa City, Iowa. A Lineman Engineer. Played on Iowa City high school team, and member of Varsity football team in 1905. A consistent player at all times. Strong candidate for the team of 1907.

ARCHIT M. HAZA R D, Left End. Iowa City, Iowa. A Lineman Engineer. Played on Iowa City high school team, and member of Varsity football team in 1905. A consistent player at all times. Strong candidate for the team of 1907.

ROY B. WASHBURN, Right Tackle. Tomah, Iowa. Senior Class. Has not played three years on Iowa's team. This season has been his best. Made good gains in advancing the ball and held his place on the team.

How Do You Like YOUR FIGURE?
We mean you—the young chap in college or wishing you were there. Do you think you're broad-shouldered enough? Do you look big, staunch and impressive? You know the tricks of the tailor—how he can keep on where nature left off? You won't understand how this can be done until you see They're the swaggerest togs that ever went on a young chap's back. Noticeably different from any others. The patterns have a distinctive appearance—the whole style of the garments is altogether unlike 99 suits out of 100 that you see around.

Once you could only get such clothes at a merchant tailor's—but he used to ask you twice as much as College Brand Clothes cost. Made right-in, out and throughout.

“He enjoys much who is thankful for nothing;
A grateful mind is both a great and happy mind.”

TO OUR PATRONS:
No more fitting is the opportunity than the proclaimed day of thanksgiving to express to you our thanks for the generous favors shown us during the past year.

Our gratitude carries with it a due sense of appreciation, and a pledge, that we shall in our future relations, ceaselessly strive by “act and deed” to retain your confidence, good will, and patronage, so that we may be permitted again, and frequently, to send you our greetings, and give evidence of our gratitude.

We trust that you, too, may have good cause to be thankful for a year of prosperity, that you may resume calmly and uninterruptedly in the embrace of success, and enjoy, “many happy returns of the day.”
