BACONIAN MEETING.

There was no formal paper presented at the meeting of Baccalaureate at Friday night. Instead of the regular paper, there were voluntary reports. Professor Houser gave a report in which he discussed chemical changes as they affect the internal cell, when such cell is subjected to certain environment. Mr. Pore reported on the advantages and disadvantages of chemical compounds. Dr. Albert told of the advantages and disadvantages of each of the many medicines in disinfecting a house, after contagious disease. The reports were good, and the evening's program was a valuable one.

Program:

1. Mr. Stephen's Literary Society
2. Music Piano Solos—Miss Dehnert
   Recitation—Miss Barry
   Solos—Miss Linnae White
3. Recitation—Miss Charlotte Barlow
   Debate—Question: “Resolved, That Thomas Edison be Adopted in Iowa by Amendment to the State Constitution.”
   Affirmed by Mr. Lavelle, Mr. Gibson.
   Denied by W. J. McMillin, M. C. Cogheon.
4. Vocal Solos—Miss Julia Wade
   Recitation—Miss Agnes O'Leary
   Music—Mr. Druece.

Dr. Franck Hovar has been requested by the program committee of the American Political Science Association to take part in the discussion of the advisability of Governmental Regulation and Control of Instruction. The meeting will be held at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Thanksgiving evening the Y. M. C. A.

The Women's Yacht Club gave a delightful dinner-dance Friday evening at the K. P. Hall. The affair was thoroughly informal, music and gaiety being the entertainment of the evening. There were about a hundred present, and all had a thoroughly good time. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Some of the Phi Delta who stayed over for Thanksgiving, gave a little informal party at the chapter house Thursday evening. Miss Nellie Showalter was the only on-duty guest.

The Women's Yacht Club had a delightful dinner-dance Friday evening at the K. P. Hall. The ball was attractively decorated in white and blue, the club colors. Covers were laid for twenty-six for the dinner and the table decorations were pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Magruder chaperoned the party.

Plaques at Mr. Green's.

F. H. Falckere and C. A. Granbeck spent Thanksgiving at their home in Cedar Rapids.

Solat Gold B. U. I. Seale at Mr. Green's.

I. P. Hamson and Harvey McCall spent Thursday at Oxford.

Iowa Falls, Iowa Pico and Iowa Bettas at 50c to $1.00, at A. M. Greene.

Miss Grace Woods is a Des Moines visitor this week.

Cary and Cyril Camp spent Thanksgiving at their home in Gladbrook.

FOUR ATTRACTIONS THIS WEEK

Good Plays Coming to the Coliseum Theater.

Tomorrow evening, at the Coliseum, one of the best attractions of the week will be presented. This is Mr. Whitney's big musical comedy success, "The Show Girl." The company includes two famous people and includes Miss Julia Dumas and Mr. Lei Hee. Those who fall to see this will miss one of the best shows of the season. The show is now open.

Thursday evening the Black Creek Jr. Horticultural will hold forth at the Coliseum. The concerts is composed largely of girls and the announcements are said to be very funny. They will present two burleques, "What a Night," and "Almost a Supper." Theoria between the burleques is composed of fifteen high class costume acts.

Wednesday evening the relighting of musical comedy success, "Everybody's Hate Flower," will be at the Crema. Good seats are still available. As an encore a chain of musical comedy and funny comedy. The company numbers people, including all of the pieces through the season. Rat open Monday evening.

Julian Mitchell's elaborately magnificently produced "Windsor," is without doubt, one of the largest and grandest productions on the road. The company, which is sprinkled by Little City and Mary Martin, numbers people in the audience. The show is produced by C. A. Abram and is now open.
