Iowa will have to play under two different sets of basketball rules this year. She has games with several universities who play under the Collegiate rules, and also with several schools who play under the A. A. U. rules. For this reason a player's style of play will be of two distinct kinds. The rules themselves are very similar, but the interpretation of them is quite different. The best of the A. A. U. rules is that there shall be no personal contact of the players. On the other hand, the Western League Colleges have instructed their officials to be very careful in calling fouls, their principal object being to prevent unnecessary roughness or any progression of the game with the intent of bettering the player's position on the floor.

Following is a resume of the principal rules governing Collegiate basketball play:

A player shall not—
1. Run with the ball.
2. Hold, knock, push or trip as an opponent.
3. Use unnecessary roughness.
4. Delay deliberately the game.
5. Strike the ball with the fist.
6. Enter into a scrimmage in which two teams of opposite sides are playing with the ball.
7. When trying for a basket from behind the line, pass the ball to another player. As honest attempt must be made to keep it.

Penalty for violation of above rules is a free throw for the foul from the free-throw line, or, if the player's team is in the lead, a foul for the game, as the case may be.

1. Throw for basket after a dribble.
2. Bolling or batting the ball.
3. Cross the foul line while a player is taking a free throw from the free line.

Penalty—if basket is made, it shall not count.

11. Carry or pass the ball out of bounds.
12. Carry the ball from outside into the court.
13. The ball after passing it into the field of play shall not be picked up by another player on the ground.
14. Hold the ball more than five seconds when out of bounds.
15. Have any part of his person out of bounds in attempting to interfere with a player who is passing the ball into bounds.

Penalty—ball is given to opponents out of bounds.

The A. A. U. rules are very similar with the following exceptions:

1. Ball out of bounds: because to the opponents of the player claiming it go out.

2. If a player while attempting to throw a ball, he is fouled by an opponent, he shall be awarded one point in addition to a free trial from a free throw line.

3. Using both hands (and if simultaneously dribbling it is a foul. Some schools of basketball consider fast, rough, vicious, or dishonest, but probably it is a tactical serve an incident, or a misjudgment of the officials in regard to play.

Penalty—foul for player.

Friday evening, Jan. 11, Iowa will play Cup at the University fair.

A BURY FORTNIGHT.

Builders Did Not Take a Vacation— Much Unfinished Work in New Structures.

The past two weeks have been anything but a holiday season for those engaged in the various buildings. In the addition to the new buildings a great deal of the new work has been put into the places and the whole interior painted white. The completion of this work gives splendid citi des for the Science departments and the students who have already come.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lee, of Des Moines, are guests of friends in the city.

H. E. Jackson was one of the numerous alumni visitors this week.

E. R. Jolliff, Eng., '04, now of Des Moines, is a prominent lawyer in Kansas City, has been greeting his numerous friends here the past few days.

Miss Mary Helen Latta entertained a few friends at her home 111 Jewison a house party, which began the day after Christmas.

Professor Charles Randy Wilson has not returned from his holiday trip but will be here to meet his Mon day classes.

Miss Leo Sheffield, ca-06, spent the first of this week with her aunt, Mrs. Cotlin, 12 E. Market street.

ANNUAL BANQUET WELL ATTENDED.

LARGE GATHERING OF ALUMNI AT DES MOINES.

Said to be the Most Successful Yet—Alumni Rejoice Over Our Prosperity.

The annual Alumni Banquet was held in Des Moines the evening of December 27th. The time was rather unforgiving in some respects, but some other college alumni were held the same day, and the Thomson Association was in session at the same hour. Then the company was not seated until 9:35, and as the street cars were running at 12:30 the time was cut rather short. Notwithstanding these circumstances, the banquet was the largest and most enthusiastic yet held. About 120 guests were present, some of the classes represented during high time of the seventeen. Harvey Jordan, editor of the Register and Leader, was master of ceremonies. President MacLeam made the first response: his theme was the growth and prosperity of the University. Comparing U. W. with other distinguished colleges, he said remarkable progress had been made within the last few years. Regent Cooper D. Wright followed with a tribute to the administration under which progress had been made. An effective address was made by Mr. Haneh, who spoke of some of the distinguished men who had been educated here, and of the duty resting upon the alum tum to support the institution actively. Mr. Secretary told of the need of a woman's building, and that the registration of women has reached 452. Dean Cor ner followed with a hearty endorse ment of Mr. Secretary's representa tion.

In attempting to escape from the guard house at drill last evening, Major Stu"eney was scratched over the eye by a bayonet in the hands of the guard. Mr. Secretary then made his report on the work. at the programs. The member of the police systems of the United States, the other an inquiry into methods of teaching ethics in High Schools.

Mr. Arthur Dean has resigned his position at Fort Dodge.

CONVENTION SEASON OVER.

Faculty Members Return from the good for Naniboujou to the Treatment Board.

The Iowa faculty has returned to the field, after having been widely scattered in distant pastures. Most of the attractions were in the west. The American Association for the Advancement of Science met in New York, and other learned bodies, whose work is more specialized were in session there at the same time. Professors Calvo, Man efield, Weed, Rockwood, and Beecher attended. Most of these have re turned. The A. A. E., and the Nat ural History, of which the American Phy sical Association is a branch, will meet in Chicago next December.

The four societies devoted to Pol tاقة in the United States, and allied subjects, which met at Providence during the holidays, will meet next time at Madi son. The Providence meetings were addressed by Dean Gregory, Professor Shambach and Horace and Professor McPhee, all of whom participated in the program. The Political Science Association is un derwriting two enterprises of a very important kind. There will be travel ights of police systems of the Unit ed States, the other an inquiry into methods of teaching ethics in High Schools.

AMUSEMENTS.

Laughing gas, a new and witty pastime with bright spectators are promised by the management of "A Polly American Play," which comes to the Colored Theatre Monday, feast mode tonight.

When Jessie Busley presents her new play "In the Bishop's Carriage" at the Colored Theatre tonight all broad theatre-goers will be given an opportunity to see one of the most talented of characters of modern fiction, Namee Oenstein, the girl thief of Benford Michaelson's famous novel. In this character Miss Busley has achieved one of her greatest characterizations from all accounts and her appearance evidences a managerial enterprise that is pleasant of consequence.

Mr. Wyer's brother from Toronto, Canada, is visiting here.

Mr. R. F. Osceillant, the famous news paper cartoonist, will appear at the Colored Theatre Tuesday, January 2, in the jeans Grimes. Mr. Osceillant has made a world wide reputation by his creation of such characters as "Horse Brown" and the "Yellow Kid" and his appearance here will be one of the events of the season. Seat sales will open Saturday at 10 a.m. 14
