PLAN INTER-FRAT BASEBALL GAMES

GREEK LETTER MEN ANNUAL SPRING TOURNAMENTS.

What Tournament to be Played Thursday, May 21st Table to be the Trophy.

An important meeting of the Pan-Hellenic association was held yesterday at the Kappa Sigma house. It was decided by a vote that the three named teams in the grand tournament should be played off in the following manner:

The teams from Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Chi will meet Thursday ev-ning at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, and the winner of this match will play the Kappa Sigma team at the latter house to determine the team which the trophy of the association shall be awarded. The tournament was definitely decided upon, and will be held on the third day of the axis style with the aim of the winning fraternity receiving upon silver plate the title of champion of the day.

The matter of the Pan-Hellenic baseball schedule was taken up and sanctioned sponsored to arrange a satisfactory schedule on the spot.

The association is endeavoring to secure a baseball diamond when the campus may have practices.

Several sites are being considered and a satisfactory one will probably be secured in a few days.

Work involved is being manifested in the Pan-Hellenic baseball and the prospects are bright for a successful season. A number of the fraternity men have already taken action to secure their teams, and several matches have been elected.

The following rules were adopted in regard to the eligibility of players on the first team:

Rule 1. Any "F" or "A" on the back

Rule 2. Any man who has won Rule 3. Any man playing on the varsity squad is barred. Any man trying for the varsity team, after his out of shape practice is begun, is barred from playing on the battery of the fraternity team.

Rule 4. All players must be active

Candidates for the Pan-Hellenic league shall be

The Senior Play:

Trials for the Senior Class play are being held daily, and will be continued every day until the week begins, at 4:30 p.m. The play will be chosen Tuesday, so all students wishing to try for parts should make arrangements with program director.

The new University power plant was yesterday put into operation for the first time. With the installation of two of the turbines and a 10,000-volt dynamo, sufficient power was generated to carry the load during the day, the steam plant being used, for the present. When full power is required, a 100 kilometer generator will later be installed as well as the other turbines and later installation, which will ultimately make all the power for lighting, running fans, etc. It is estimated that the total power needed will reach the M. P.

It is interesting to note that the low dam at the University power plant was built by virtue of a characteristic while being on the property. In other words, the old

Trenton dam, on the Des Moines stream, and its illustration of which is pointed above, was the predecessor of the present concrete construction. It was built by Walter Trenton in the year 1842. The charter which gave him exclusive right to dam the Iowa river, to obtain the power necessary for milling purposes, was granted by the territorial legislature about ten years earlier. The mill was in operation from the time of its construction, until finally abandoned, with the evolution of a short time in the early eighties. Among other things, Mr. Trenton founded yesterday.

The dam was one of the pioneer mills; it grinds flour for the whole northwestern territory, part of the floor going so far as Iowa City and in some cases to Yankton. Pt. Dodore was depended upon for flour for a number of years. One of the early carding mills was run here for domestic use. This remains intact and is still in my possession as a relic.

The dam was about three years dated to the University, with the provision that if its officials saw fit, to change its location, they could do so.

Iowa City's Grand Army Post held an impressive memorial service Sunday in the city council chamber, which was packed to the doors. Rev.

R. M. F. Fellow, a former instruc-or in Moral and Natural Philosophy, was chaplain of the. Band, offering and presenting the benediction.

Among those whose memory was embalmed were two former S. U. I. instructors, Dr. J. G. Bessel and Dr.

J. C. Shroder. Dr. Bessel, at the time of his death, last year, was professor of Surgery and Surgical Gynecology in the college of Homoeopathic Medicine. Dr. Shroder, who died this winter, was formerly professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women in the college of Medicine. Dr.

Harlevard Cavin, of the school of Veterinary College of Georgia entered in his stead.

At the conclusion of the service, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Class of 1909 through the courtesy of the Iowa City Grand Army Post, present the Memorial Bronze, which will always be on public view, to those who visit the site of the Iowa City monument.

Rushing and Hunt, dealers in the Minneapolis touring car business, have purchased this tract of land which was formerly owned by Henry T. Ramer.

The land is to be used for the purpose of laying out a spacious residential park.

The lots are to be offered to those who may wish to build homes there.

A contract has been signed with the company of the same name, for the construction of the park.

The plan is to build a large hotel, to be named "The Grand Armory.

The site is located on the Des Moines road, just outside the city limits.

The park will be laid out on the lines of a large city park, and will contain many trees and shrubs.

The lots will be sold at a price of not less than $100.

The park will be open to the public for a period of one year, and the lots will be sold at a price of not less than $50.

OUR NATURAL DAY.

Yesterday was the birthday of the University. It is just sixty years since the first Legislature of the State of Iowa passed an act organizing the institution which was destined to be the head of the educational system. Our celebration of that auspicious event is postponed until next June, but the real anniversary was yesterday.

There have been many vicissitudes in the sixty years of the University's existence. Almost her first experience was a calamity, the wasting of her splendid lands by ineptitude, trustees. Forty-six thousand and fifty-two acres had been appropriated by Congress for the school long before the state was admitted, but the magnificent endowment was sold at most for a song as soon as the true Iowa received its power.

The beginnings of the school are to be traced. The first idea was to place branches of the University in different parts of the state. It was not until 1854 that a real beginning was made, in the attempts to gather faculty at Iowa City. Instruction began in 1855. A preparatory department and a Normal department were the first to be established, and a collegiate department was added soon afterward. But the new school was mostly supported by lack of funds, and the collegiate department was suspended for two years on this account.

from 1853 to 1860. The Normal school was continued until 1875, and the preparatory school until 1879. By 1890, the University may be said to have been daily established, and just as it tended to be entering into an era of prosperity, the war broke out. Out of the 172 students, 124 enlisted. Throughout the war period, growth was slow. The first expansion came in 1869, when the law school at Des Moines was transplanted to Iowa City, and became a permanent part of the University. The medical department went into operation in 1876, with a faculty of eight professors, who received from the students instead of a salary. The college of homopathic medicine was founded in 1877, as a department first in 1893. The very slow development of earlier decades is in marked contrast to the rapid but solid growth of our own time.
