NEW ROAD WOULD AFFECT TENDANCE.

The Iowa City-Davenport Transfer Company is rejoicing over the prospect of a successful termination of all the plans; the electric road between Iowa City and Davenport now seems assured. The company has completed all of its present work with the exception of a short strip of land seven miles in length near the Cedar River. Picture Any General Benjamin Hiram Remley of the Iowa City, A. L. C. is one of the promoters of the road.

The company’s construction will mean much to the University. It will con- nect Iowa City conveniently with Davenport, Moline, Rock Island, West Davenport, and other points, many of which are hard to reach from Iowa City. Barriers in the University have stated that the large increase in the attendance of the University during the last two years due to a great measure to the introduction into Iowa City from the states a great increase in the attendance of the University.

Last week the new road would give even better the comparative and southeastern parts of the state, and so increase the attendance still more. The institution would enable the students from those parts of the state to visit their homes more and would add the state to getting students from local schools which need few or no students to E. U.

THE ETHICS OF HEALTH

STRONG COURSE OF LECTURES BEGINNING.

Will Be Given in General Lecture Room, Wednesdays at 8 p. m.

February 27 FOOD ... Clara Clark
March 5 DRINK ... Elbert William Rockwood
March 10 CLEANLINESS ... Henry Albert
March 30 REY ... Edwin Elmer Harbach

March 27 POISE ... George Edwin MacLean.

The above course, which is the sequel to last year’s course of lectures on the ethical standards of science, literature, art, etc., begins this evening and promises to be at- tractive.

The topics are lively and timely.

The drama of University life will be emphasized in a lecture on University versus Health: the drama of social life, Pleasure versus Health; the fumes of tobacco and liquors, Eating versus Health.

In this age of high tension, rapid trans- actions, and great opportuni- ties, health is the most obvious.

The speakers of this course of lectures have been chosen for their technical knowledge of these subjects, for their ability to select and adapt their lectures to the ability of their subject to present a subject well.

There will be no theory, no history, no technical lan- guage. The speakers promise to tell facts, that makes the point of like-mindedness between scientific and general work.

No one is too busy to learn from these lectures; no one is too busy that he cannot afford to attend.

The discussions will be most entertaining.

The ethics of health for the present are the very best re- ception that is accorded to the course last year.

Mrs. Rockwood is peculiarly well equipped for giving this course. She has made a technical study of her subject, has written much on it, has the best magnetism, and has the power of telling a story. The lectures are free.

THE WADING HABIT

Most men think the notion that women or boys are going to win out. They have the eager desire to exist, and seem to intend to have the world saved. The wading habit is in that broad sense but a natural and healthy habit.
