FIRST CALL FOR TRACK MEN

COME OUT AND LEARN WHAT YOU CAN DO.

Good Men are in Strong Demand; One of the Key Reasons of Material.

Captain Will Riley, of the Track team, wishes to announce through the Iowan that next Monday, March 30th, at 2:30 p.m., there will be the first meeting of the track men at the gym. Every track man, freshman or upperclassman, experienced or inexperienced, should be there. Coach Max Callin and Captain Riley have none very important announcements to make in regard to early spring training.

The Freshmen, especially, although not eligible for the varsity, should not one casually on the track this spring as they did for football last fall. There are two reasons for this: first, there are three meets with school states already arranged for the Freshmen; second, next year is coming and if a man wants to do good track work all through his college course he simply cannot afford to miss a whole year's training.

On paper, it does seem as if level was rather up against it for material, both in track and baseball. But a winning track team can be turned out if the fellows will get out and work. That is the whole secret of a model: it is in the adrenalin of the effort; it is in the amount of work and the natural beauty of the team, not in the uninitiated, unpracticed men or the cruel weather. In the afternoon, in the gym, put on a track suit and find the team when part of a model. He is, anyway. The work won't hurt any one. Coach Callin and Captain Riley are not slave drivers, and no one knows just what he can do till he gets out and works and his head off. While it may be that there isn't "make good" ability in his team, let him be a good loser, help him, help those who are making good. It is all for S. U., no way.

If a man will go down to the track and train a little after he has taken a shower bath and a good rub out he will realize what it means to really "feel right." He will go back to the hill and by the campus on his way to supper with his class sticking out a foot and that little boyish feeling in his lungs that it works more than dollars.

So every track man ought to be here next Monday afternoon. There will be no practice the first few days but until the weather permits the use of the track, out doors. A man that won't come out just because of pure laziness is worse than lazy, he is lazy. Come and help a little.

THEIR'S MUSIC IN THE AIR

PROGRAM TONIGHT PROMISES TO BE UNUSUALLY FINE.

In the Result of Months of Preparation Four Musical Organizations to Take Part.

The concert tonight in the Armory will be one of the best musical events of the whole year. The concerts which take part have been rehearsing for it ever since their organizations last fall. About eighty or ninety people, in all, will appear. The entertainments will be provided in character, although the music in all of high grade, as may be seen from a glance at the program printed above. This is to be the first concert of the orchestra, which has not appeared before in public. The other organizations participating are the women's little chorus, the men's choir and the Choral Society, which comprises both the former societies and other members as well.

The promoters of tonight's entertainment very naturally wish to see a good attendance, especially so as the size of the crowd will go to show how much real interest in music there is here. A thrill of the enterprises of the concert will do much to encourage those who are laboring to put our musical affairs on solid foundations.

The Choral Society was founded early last fall, and has been hard at work ever since. The society is distinguished for its varied nature. The membership is as follows: First Altos-Misses Sibson, Cates, Clark, Hickey, Jones, and Mrs. H. G. Cox; Second Altos-Misses Jones, Estes, Stewart, Vanbeek; Third Altos-Miss Hickey, Misses Stewarts, Mrs. H. G. Cox and Mrs. R. McElroy, Misses Jones and Misses Williams; Tenors-Miss Hickey, Misses Estes, Misses Hickey, Misses Sibson, Misses Cates, Misses Clark, Misses Hickey, Misses Stewart, Misses Williams; Basses-Miss Hickey, Misses Sibson, Misses Estes, Misses Hickey; Conductor-Mr. Hickey. THE WAITING HABIT
Most men cherish the notion that sooner or later they are going to win out. They have the caper desire to excel, and they imagine it is only a matter of time before the luck of the draw will make them successful, and give them the opportunity to reach their aims and success. If resolution were as common as ambition, the world wouldn't stand still for you while you worked your way up. You have to start fighting for your position instead of merely wishing for it, civilization would no longer be after awhile. The waiting habit is all that stands between a lot of men and a corpse.

What have you done to realize your ambition?
