Art, Rule’s Classes Engage Work in Open—Getting Class in Quite Large.

With the new outdoor swimming schedule in effect, the classes of Physical Training Director Rule are indeed enjoying the sunny weather. Some of the classes are still in the process of toning on concrete, off the chilly weather, but if the weather man is not making in the future all the men will have an opportunity to get out of the Army and end the blue sky.

The swimming float, which has been 120 feet of construction for some time, is now nearing completion and will be ready to Another within the next few days. The float will be anchored just off the athletic field, so as to be convenient to the Robinson for the classes and the members of the athletic teams. Mr. Rule anticipates that the classes will swimming will be the most popular during the hot summer days when the cool waters of the river entice swimmers to its banks.

Thus far the class in rowing has been the best liked. This class has been conducted on Saturday mornings and at each session there have been more boys in attendance than could be accommodated with the limited number of boats. "Some boys have a chance to go out and have enjoyed the work, and have profited by the instruction."

The crossing-cross country has recently been delayed by the rigorous weather, but hope is out in the very near future. Some of the men are taking tennis work for a change of pace, and others have been playing the game.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity has entertained at Uhler Gymnasium for Miss Jacobs and Miss Mackerle of Clinton.

Miss Mary George returned to her home in Monticello yesterday, after spending the week with her sister.

Miss Alice Mullar returned today from Grimshaw, where she has been attending the opening of the new few days.

We'll Ramble Down the Hill
This will remind you that there is to be a band concert and hop Friday evening, and if you have not already made the appropriate arrangements it is high time you ask her.
We assume that you are going, of course. The band is a bunch of pal- lers that has got out and rented fer his country on all sorts of occa- sions this year. Its cheerful note has diverted our worries through all the vicissitudes of football and de- fense. It has been loyal to the sty- lysts and to the school. It is now up to us to be loyal to the band. There have been years when formes- bands could furnish excellent goods in the music line, but the demand was away ahead of the supply. No one accuses the band this year of being "light" with its music. Its good will has set an example for fu- ture generations. The free open air announcement will begin at seven, and everybody knows that they form one of the most pleasant features of the coming year. We have just one way of showing our appreciation, and that is by our presence on mains Friday evening. The crowd should be right up in the matter, as you can ascertain by an interview. Everybody climb into the band- vans.

Whiteley Society.
The regular meeting of the White- ley Society was held in the Hall of Liberal Arts last evening. The leading paper was read by Professor sym, the subject being, "Phonetic Alphabets and systems of notation." The paper dealt with the various "phonetic" schemes that have been made for establishing a universal alphabet. The writer reviewed the work of Bell, "Visible Speech." The work of international punctuation was also considered, particularly the proposal of the International Conference call- ed by the University of Boston in 1904. The last subject treated was Jefferson's alphabet.
Professor Peirce also reviewed a book entitled "The Gaitian," a trade language.

I took a good long look through the catalog today and in addition to ordering a new suit, clothes, and shoes, I also ordered some books. The suit is coming now, and I hope it will fit. I also ordered some new shoes for the next college year.

The catalogue lists many new products, including new suits, shoes, books, and other items. I plan to order them now so that they will be ready when I need them.

The catalogue also lists many new books, and I plan to order some of them. I am looking forward to reading them in the next college year.

I hope that the suit and shoes will arrive soon, and that I will be able to wear them when I need them.
