DEAN CURRER HAS RESIGNED

REGENTS ACCEPT AND MAKE JIM PROFESSOR EMERITUS.

Withdrawal will not take effect until End of Year—Close of Forty Years of Service.

Dean Currier presented his formal resignation to the board of Regents yesterday. It is acceptable by them closes a term of near-ably half a century of faithful service in the theater organs of Iowa. It has been currently known for some time that after the completion of his fortieth anniversary Dean Currier intended to retire, yet the announcement of its resignation comes with something of a shock; it is difficult to imagine how there can be a University without a Dean Currier.

The Board of Regents after accepting the resignation immediately elected their Professor Emeritus of Latin and Historiograph of the University. While his connection with the school will be no longer active, it is good to know that his influence and advice will still be available in support of the institution which he has helped to establish and uphold.

The Board of Regents on Wednesday, and in session the afternoon and evening. Almost the full board is in present; the members attending are Gov-

The summer session of the University offers special advantages to the teaching profession and to the student, and this year its popularity among the teachers will be increased by the special arrangements made for them. The University will make a special effort in the line of special supervising and a one-week course along this line will be-give in by Calvin N. Kendall, supervisor of the history of Latin and Indospicuous. Ind. Mr. Kendall is an authority on his subject, and has taught in the summer sessions of Yale and Columbia. W. H. Crifford of Cornell Bluffs, will also be hear.

Certain courses will be offered for the first time, and will be of value to those who wish to qualify for the new certificate in law school, elementary civics, elementary economies, commercial geography, bookkeeping, elementary history, and special courses in history. Many inquiries are coming in cerning the summer session, and on account of the increased allowances of all kinds many students planning to work the attention will be unusually large. As a result of the new order law many students are planning to remain during the summer and complete the semi-urricular ity in education and psychology, so as to obtain a state certificate.

LAST DAY OF GRACE.

For Hamilton Grories—All must be Submitted Today—About eight contestants expected.

The Hamilton preliminaries comes on the 24th of next month. Pupetition to that time. four contestants may be selected, out of the umber of those submitting petitions, and for some who have not in the line of the order the four men are chosen in thought and composition. Today is the last day on which any may be submitted for this year's contest, according to the constitution. About seven or eight contestants are expected to try this year for the honor.

I was up on the step-ladder yesterday polishing off the windows and rubbing at the ladies when what do you think—I got called down. That was the second time in one day, too. Really in the morning I got a little sore at a fellow who tried to get me for what I had said in last night’s ad, and I was just about to take a full out of him when the boss called me over to where he was standing. He told me, if I had a good temper to keep it, and if I had a bad one not to lose it. He said it never pays to lose your head, and you’ve as good as whipped when you do. When I was listening to the boss I noticed that same fellow buying a house jacket for $2.50, a Dunlap hat for $100 and three neckties at 50c each. Then I got on to myself and found out that was kidding but you bet I’ll be wiser next time and not getully till I K.L.
