A pleasant function, occurring last evening at the Birkby, where Professor Gordon entertained at a six o'clock dinner.

His guests were those who had participated in the inter-collegiate debate and entourage this year together with their coaches, and the members of the new Forensic Council.

The occasion was quite informal in character, and an open program of toasts was followed, on the theory perhaps that in such a gathering of feasters it would be safe to depend upon spontaneous eloquence.

Mr. F. McAllister of Cedar Rapids was a guest at the Sigma Nu House Sunday.

F. C. Byers L. ’94 of Cedar Rapids was in the City yesterday.

THE MINNESOTA TRACK MEET

THE HONORS ABOUT EVEN

Minnesota won by default. Iowa had only ten entries.

Iowa's track team met the Gopher's on the grounds Saturday, and in spite of all that the Gophers could do to prevent it, came back with five points to her credit. Only first place counted in the meet. Riley winning first in the mile and the half mile, Hazzard in the quarter mile, Burkhimer in the broad jump. He entered men in ten events only, and in those ten events she broke every record with Minnesota, but the faster events were won by the Minnesota team by default.

The meet was run over with encouraging conditions. It began at 3 and continued until 4, when the weather began to change to a cold drizzling rain.

The track was wet and slow. It was evident that the elements the men were at first in the scheduled three, and every event was run as though it were run in a fine day.

There was not a spectator in the grandstand; the official starter was not even there, but the men agreed on Coach Williams of Minnesota, and he officiated at the starter. The best of feeling prevailed among the men and in more ways than usual was the meeting to be remembered by those who took part in it. Summary of the events and the results:

120 yard hurdle—Woodrich (M) first, Robinson (M) second, Brown (I) third, Time. 17.4 45 yard dash—Dunlap (M) first, Miller (I) second, Time. 10.5

100 yard dash—Riley (I) first, Bedford (M) second, Cook (I) third, Time. 4.44.

Quarter Mile—Hazard (I) first, Martineau (M) second, Uzel (M) third, Time. 38

4:20 p.m. Iowa—Nebraska Baseball Game.

7:30 p.m. Professor A. A. Wicker will give a lecture and quiz for debating classes on "The Last of the Great Corporations." Room 314 L. A.

8:00 p.m. Library Club will meet at 311 Phi house with Mrs. Nancy Becker Hunt.

7:00 p.m. Important meeting of Newman Society.

DEAN GREGORY AT MADISON

Spoke on George William Curri, before Phi Beta Kappa Society.

Dean Gregory has returned from Madison, where he was invited to deliver the Phi Beta Kappa address. His subject was George William Curtis. He pointed out that Curtis was the logical development of Emerson's Transcendentalism, leading in the battle for negro freedom, and lost forcefully to a Phi Beta Kappa address he had attended, where O. W. Holmes presided, and Ralph Waldo Emerson was the guest of honor.

Dean Gregory also added several personal reminiscences of Curtis, whom he had known.

Saturday evening he dined in the Town and Gown Club, in which he is a governing member, and by the nomination of the President the led the conversation.

PROFESSOR GORDON ENTERS TAILS

Six O'Clock Dinner Given last Evening to Orators, Debators, Coaches, and Forensic Council.

The humorous department of this year's annual will be one of the best in the book. Under the direction of numerous oilers Hoist new many ideas have been developed in the way of "gentle roughing" with presentation of standing up to a variety of remarkable cartoons. A number of effective cartoons have also been used, and these will add much to the General "spiciness" of the joke department.

Death of an Alumna.

The sad news comes from Burlington of the death of Miss Laura Jarvis, L. A. 90. Miss Jarvis had been ill for a considerable period of time, and had gone to Chicago, where an operation was performed. She did not rally from the ordeal, and died in the hospital last Friday. During her undergraduate days, Miss Jarvis was prominent in various student activities, and was admitted to be one of the leading members of her class.

THE OLYMPIAN

STUDENT CAFE

North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Washington and Oregon.

The newspaper leaves nothing to be desired in the way of comfort and convenience to the customer. The menu is varied and suited to all tastes. The cafe is air conditioned and thoroughly equipped for serving meals in all their branches.

The soparation of the dining room from the bar and the large windows give the room an agreeable light and the general appearance is of the first order.

The chief feature of the cafe is the all-day service of meal, and the only type of service that can be obtainable in the city.

The business of the cafe is conducted on the best possible lines. The staff is well chosen and the workmen are thoroughly instructed in the modern methods of cooking.

I heard a drummer say, "There's only one business that can't be helped by advertising and that's a moonshine still." He asked me if I didn't think there was a good deal of moonshine in some advertising, and he said a good many ads read that way when they really were as fresh as 'Mountain dew'. But I want to tell you that our $20 single-barrelled snick shot with the big barrel, nearly straight front and made of the very best grade of black unfinished wood, are not going to require any advertising to make them more. Of course we know that every clothing house tries to put forward the best $20 suit they can get and make a living profit, but it all depends upon how much of a piece of cloth they are willing to put into it and what grade of tailoring they like paying no profit. You know that the same piece of cloth may be given to a workman who will make up a suit for a dollar, and the trimmings cost say another dollar, or it may go to a tailor who gets five dollars for his handwork and the trimmings may cost another five. Now the boss wouldn't tell me what he paid but he said enough to put me wise to the fact that he isn't asking enough for our black suits. I'll give them a tip on that right now.

Miss Alice Wilson visited her home in Waterloo over Sunday.

Miss Berrie Wade of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, is spending a few days with her sister Miss Ruby Wade.

Mr. P. E. Kitz, Law '01, spent Sunday at the home of friends in North Liberty, Iowa.

At the business meeting of the N. O. L. held in Madison Wisconsin it was decided that thereafter no man could compete more than once in the final contest.
