MILITARY REVIEW
BY ADJ. GEN. THrift.

GOV. CUMMINS NOT PRESENT TO REVIEW BATTALION.

Annual Military Drill Took Place on Street on Account of Wet Grounds. Prizes Given

Yesterday afternoon at 4.00 p. m. the battalion held their annual review for the Governor of the state, but on account of pressing business the Governor was not present, and the review was conducted by Adjutant General H. H. Thrift, of Des Moines, Iowa.

The parade formed at the armory at four o'clock and marched up to Clinton street where the review was conducted, and the prizes awarded. The dress parade occupied at least one hour after which the following prizes were announced, and gifts awarded.

In the company competition, first prize cup won by Company D, and awarded to Capt. L. H. Hastings. Second prize, gold medal won by Company A, and awarded to Capt. R. C. Kramer.

Individual Competition

The senior captains of the battalion were given their swords to keep after leaving the university.

The following commissioned officers of the Battalion received their commission in the State Militia from Gen. A. B. Cummins, as follows—Captains, R. C. Kramer, Capt. C. C. Rynburger, Rendell Glass, J. H. Hastings, Olin J. Emmons, E. E. Bech.

CLASS OF '07
MAKE HISTORY

RAIN DRIVES SENIORS TO COVER.

Poets, Prophets and Historians Celebrated the Fame of '07 yesterday.

The weather, a new precedent yesterday, according to all the canons of academic history, class day ought to be a beautiful June day with a clear sky and pleasant sunshine, and the class day exercises ought to be held on the front steps of Liberal Arts Hall. But at the appointed hour yesterday there was a heavy downpour, black clouds and floods of rain that drove the seniors and their friends into the armory, a very good audience assembled, and was entertained with class songs and all the other features that belong to such programs. President Cunningham gave the opening address, Miss Givens followed with the class history. Mr. Hrbek was class poet, and invoked the muse quite successfully. Miss Alice M. Edwards undertook to look into the future, and found, much to their encouragement and inspire their classmates. The presentation of the class memorial was next. Future generations will be reminded of the class of '07 by large stone gateposts at the Iowa Avenue entrance of the campus. Professor Calvin made the response, and accepted the memorial on behalf of the faculty. Mr. Bornes then delivered the farewell address, and the seniors closed the meeting by singing "Old Gold."

THE '07 CLASS BREAKFAST.

Graduates Partook of Good Cheer in the Armory Yesterday Morning.

The first event of Class Day was the breakfast enjoyed by the members of '07 in the Armory yesterday. The tables were arranged in the form of a huge "U," and the menu cards were of the same shape. The tables were decorated with pink carnations. The guests were seated at 7:45. A short program of toasts followed the breakfast, Miss Katherine Hodge presided as toast mistress. Mr. Butterfield indulged in "Reminiscences," Miss Addie Smith expressed her views on "Teddy Bears," Mr. Churchill talked about "Jummers," Miss Buckley about "Seventh Book," Miss Edith O'Brien described "Brain Storms," and Miss Adna Bracewell closed the program with the subject "Experanto."

There was dancing after the speaking, and the festivities lasted until about ten o'clock.

THE UNIVERSITY SIXTIETH.

This is Anniversary Day—Distinguished Guests Will Help to Commemorate the University's Birth-day.

This University was sixty years old the 24th. of last February. In 1847 the first General Assembly of the new state of Iowa passed a law providing for the establishment of a State University.

Although it was not until some time afterward that the school was actually organized, "Iowa" began existence officially from the passage of the act. And this was the occasion that will be celebrated this day.

The Armory was packed almost to the limit Sunday afternoon. The procession entered at four o'clock in academic costume. O"chestral music opened the program. Several of the local clergy took part in the devotional exercises preceding the sermon. The preacher had been heralded as one of the most eloquent discourses of the country, and his address amply satisfied the expectations of his audience. "The Interpretation of Life" was his theme. The keynote of the whole sermon came in this sentence: "In our interpretation, therefore we strike these notes: litorines, helpfulness, divinities, unity, humanities, oneness. They must strike together. The harmony will be lacking if any is absent. The final note is the note of divine power!" President MacLean followed with a short address to the candidates for degrees.
