CONVOCATION IN NEW HALL

New Members of the Faculty Introduced

Most Interesting Convocation in Years—Tribute Paid to Dean Currier by Prof. Eastman

Probably the most interesting convocation ever held in the history of the university occurred Wednesday forenoon in the new Hall of Natural Science.

This was the first gathering held in the new Auditorium and the large assembly hall was completely filled. The strength of the instructional staff of the great State University of Iowa was shown off to better advantage than ever before. The large platform was not of sufficient size to accomodate the faculty.

The exercises were opened by a piano solo by Mr. Ralph Lawton, a new instructor in the School of Music.

Rev. A. B. Leamer, chaplain of the day, then read the twenty-third psalm and offered prayer.

After the hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," was sung, President MacLean presented the new members of the staff of instruction, There were forty-four in all and they were presented in the following order:

Mary Wood Chase, Piano Forte and Musical Instructor.

William P. Christy, Public School Music.

Chas. A. Clark, Lecturer on Law.

Sarah E. Cronin, M. S., Ia., Instructor in Mathematics.

Arnold V. Dahlberg, B. S. in C. E. and M. E., Wash. & Lee, Inst. in C. E.

Homer R. Dill, Taxidermist.

Chas. W. Dutcher, L. L. B., Ia., Lecturer on Law.

Frederick C. Eastman, M. A., Baldwin Univ., Prof. and Head Dept. of Latin.

FROLIC FOR THE NEW GIRLS

Y. W. C. A. Gave Novel Entertainment Last Evening in the Girls' Gymnasium.

The Young Woman's Christian Association entertained the Freshmen girls last evening at a "Freshman Frolic" in the Girls' Gymnasium at eight o'clock.

Miss Gilchrist, the secretary of the association, and Miss Landon, the president, received the guests very informally and then the evening was given over to the "Frolic." A field meet was the chief feature of interest and it proves very exciting indeed. As the new girl arrived they were asked to register in any one of five prominent colleges,—and for each event one gir from each of the five colleges was chosen to enter.

The events were as follows:

1. High jump.
2. Voice vault.
3. Drinking race.
4. Mile talk.
5. Turn, stand and draw.
6. One-half yard dash.
7. Relay, all enter.

The medals given for prizes were sticks of red and white candy. The contest was exciting and caused much amusement. An unusually large number of new girls attended the party.

HESPERIAN ELECTS A VICE PRESIDENT

Meeting Held to Fill the Vacant Office

At a meeting of the Hesperian society Miss Laura Lynch was elected to fill the office of vice president, a vacancy having been caused by the absence from school of Miss Maude Morford. Miss Morford was elected vice president of the society last June but she did not return to the University this semester.

FIRST YEAR MEN AT WORK

Freshmen Have Fair Football Prospects

Morrie Kent Will Coach the Large Squad of New Candidates for the Eleven

Responding to the call for Freshman football candidates issued by Marc Catlin, a squad of likely gridiron material from the first year class has been practising each evening on the Athletic field. Last Saturday afternoon was the first day for the new men to report, and eight candidates answered the call Monday evening, however, found the number swelled three fold, and two full teams ran signals up and down the field under the direction of Morrey Kent, who will coach the Freshman team this year. Last night witnessed the first scrimmage, and although the new men are a little crude yet, a few weeks of consistent practice is bucking the 'varsity will put them into fit condition for working-out the first-team men every evening.

Several high school stars appear in the Freshman line up who may be reckoned to play fast ball. McDonald, a West Des Moines player who has not yet reported, has the state high school punting record. Hyland, another West Des Moines man, is a backfield player of considerable ability. Brockman, who has been playing full back during signal practice, is a speedy halfback from the Ottumwa high school, and something of a booter also. Kirk Boggs, ex-captain of the Oberlin Academy eleven, has been working at quarter and shows evidences of a comer. The following are the names of the Freshman who have reported:

T. Jacobs; Seth Weeks, Guthrie Center, tackle; Arthur Wallace, Des Moines, quarter; Kenneth McDonald, Des Moines, backfield; Mark Hyland, Des Moines, halfback; Floyd Thomas, Ottumwa, end; Roy Clarkson, Albia; W. A. Borcharet; Charles Brockman, Ottumwa, fullback; John Whaley; H. Phelps; Ernest Abrams, Oskaloosa, lineman; Carroll Thornburg; Tom George, Monticello, halfback, a Morgan Park outfield base ball player; George Allen; R. H. Parish, Cedar Falls; S. L. Sherman; Carl H. Spanun, of Nora Springs, a recruit from Yost's Michigan eleven, played part of the game last year against Pennsylvania, a halfback; C. H. Pike, tackle; Andrew Federson, Waterloo, tackle; A. R. Bowie; Horace Faye, Clinton; D. K. Thompson and Lee Bell, Washington, tackle.

Remember the special football edition Sunday morning.

CLASSES PREPARE FOR SCRAP

Have Called a Meeting to Get Ready for Great Push Ball Contest Saturday

Class meetings have been called by the sophomore and freshmen classes and preparations will be made for the push ball contest next Saturday morning on Iowa field when the two under classes meet in the annual struggle to settle which is supreme.

Clarence F. Coulter, president of the freshmen class last year, has called the meeting of the sophomores for this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Liberal Arts assembly room. The freshmen have announced the time of their meeting for a half hour later and the first year men will assemble at Unity Hall at 3:30 to plan for the scrap and to elect officers.

The official for the contest has not been decided upon as the committee found difficulty in getting any officer from Fort Des Moines. Telephonic calls by Commandant Weeks revealed the fact that only three officers were at the fort, so the army officer idea was abandoned. The committee is now making every effort to locate some outside party.

LITERARY SOCIETIES TO DO ENTERTAINING

Parties and Social Programs Given for New Girls

The season of the literary societies has started and a round of parties and programs for the new girls is now in order. The freshmen girls are urged to attend the parties and become acquainted with the members of the organizations during the next two weeks.

"The new girls should come out to the parties and programs of our societies" said a prominent student worker in the literary circles yesterday. "They should decide from which society they will receive the most benefit and the most pleasure and join that one if possible. Every one should do society work."

The Octave Thanets open their season with an afternoon tea Friday from 4 to 6 o'clock at Octave Hall. The same society has a literary program Saturday evening October 5 at 8 o'clock. This will consist of readings, papers, dramatizations and all girls are cordially invited.

Among the men's societies the Philomathian will have their first program Friday, October 4, at 8 o'clock when the question of the annexation of Cuba will be debated and discussed.

On Saturday, September 28, there will be a joint Philo-Octive party for new students.

The Erodelphian literary society will have a supper for the freshmen girls this evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Branson, 619 E. Burlington st., from 4 to 7 o'clock. The Hesperians and the Zetagathian societies combine with a general reception to the new students on Monday evening.

HARD WORK FOR ELEVEN

Catlin Gives Squad Half Hour Scrimmage

'Varsity Does Fairly Well and Freshmen Show up Brilliantly in Spots

In one of the most strenuous early season practices seen on Iowa Field for several years the varsity bucked into the freshmen eleven to the extent of four touchdowns in a half hour's hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon on the practice gridiron before a a big crowd of five hundred students.

Substitutions were freely made owing to the stiff work-out, but the men came through the fray none the worse for wear except left tackle Gross, who had his ankle severely wrenched in carrying the ball. "Squint" O'Brien's services were called into play for a few minutes and after tightly lacing the shoe the husky forward was told to limp around the track before going to the gym. He will be all right in a couple of days.

Not satisfied with the strenuscrimmage practice, Catlin sent his varsity candidates through a twenty minute signal practice to wind up on and at the same time assistant coach Griffith was handling the scrubs in the same fashion and Kent was giving the first year men similar stunts. The forty players were a tired lot when they were finally ordered to end the afternoon with a one lap around the two-fifths mile track. Captain Roy White had the most ginger of the fellows at the end and showed his splendid condition by a good sprint before the gate was reached.

Team Work Ragged.

Owing to the earliness of the practice the team work was ragged and the fact that many men were tried out on the various varsity positions did not help the smoothness of the mechanism. Two or three of the new plays were easily stopped by the freshmen after one or two attempts but on one occasion a long forward pass to Captain White netted thirty-five yards. However shortly after, Boggs, the clever freshman quarterback, leaped in front of the tall Iowa leader and nabbing the ball made a substantial gain and obtained the ball for his team.

The defense of the 'varsity was fairly satisfactory but occasionally the fast freshmen backs tore into the first team favorably for a few yards. On the whole the showing was what would naturally be expected at this early date.

Captain Roy White, Seidel, St. Clair and Murphy were the only

No "pull" is necessary to obtain a job on the DAILY IOWAN. Ability and faithfulness are the two qualities most likely to gain promotion on the staff. It is the aim of the management to make the IOWAN a leader in all lines of university interests and in order to do this it is necessary to develop the most proficient staff possible. There is always room for a good man or woman on the journalistic ladder and many a famous writer has received his or her first training on a college paper. Whether you have had newspaper experience or not come out and make a try for the staff and we will do all we can to help you. The IOWAN is simply a course in practical journalism. And in addition it has other advantages besides giving the college student an insight into newspaper methods because a college paper is a valuable medium for putting one in touch with the men and affairs of the University. If you have any inclination toward newspaper work do not let the opportunity slip to see the editor at once and attend the meeting of the staff tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Tribute to Dean Currier

Professor Frederick C. Eastman, who succeeds Dean Currier in the Latin department stated that the spirit of initiation was everywhere evident and it was a pleasure to become acquainted with the Faculty and student body of Iowa. Prof. Eastman defined University spirit and the good uses to which it could be put. In closing he paid a beautiful tribute to Dean Currier. "I am to succeed Dean Currier," he said "not to take his place. No man in the world can take Dean Currier's place."

Professor George F. Kay, who comes here from Kansas to fill the chair of Economic Geology and Petrology then gave a short talk on the value of Geology.

"There are two places which are dear to a man, said Prof. H. Claude Horack, "and those are his alma mater and his real mother." Prof. Horack comes back to Iowa after gaining distinction both at Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Dr. Peck, who gave the next response, is an Iowa alumnus and President MacLean introduced him as one of his "own boys."

Mr. Merton L. Ferson gave an interesting little talk in behalf of the seven thousand alumni Mr. Ferson is now editor of the Alumnus and an Assistant Instructor in Jurisprudence. Mr. Ferson made a plea for a loyal, enthusiastic Iowa spirit.

Mr. Edward G. Schroeder and Miss Alice Wilkinson, both of the Physical Training department, gave short talks.

Miss Mary Chase, the new head of the School of Music predicted an encouraging outlook for the coming year.

Professor Bolton, who is the head of the new school of education, gave a few remarks concerning his department. Dean Macbride of the Graduate College made a short talk and also Dean Weld of Liberal Arts paid his respects to Dean Currier.

President MacLean then announced several bequests and prizes to the Universiiy. Among which was a prize of $100 offered by Mr. Arthur Cox and the $75,000 bequest of Mrs. Ranney.

President MacLean also announced that a special Convocation would be held at the time of the dedication of the Natural Science Hall.

Principal Address

The principal address of the day was given by Miss Mary Mills Patrick who is the President of the American College for Girls in Constantinople. Miss Patrick gave a pretty description of the college of which she is the official head.

President MacLean then called attention to the new rules recently passed.

The Convocation closed by the singing of the National hymn. It was a most enthusiastic gathering and gave great promise for a prosperous year at Iowa.

ALUMNI COMPLIMENT THE DAILY IOWAN

Write Letters of Approval to the Publishers

During the past few days the DAILY IOWAN has received letters from alumni giving encouraging words of praise on the early issues. Following is a letter from Geo. D. Graham:

THE DAILY IOWAN,
Iowa City, Iowa.

Gentlemen:—

I am highly pleased with the initial number of the IOWAN which came to me yesterday. I am enclosing you subscription price for the ensuing year. There is a notable spirit of progress in this issue not to be found in former IOWANS. My best wishes are with you. You will have accomplished no small thing if only to assist in killing those provincial and antiquated titles, "State" University of Iowa and "S. U. I."

Yours, etc.,
GEORGE D. GRAHAM, '07.
Sept. 23, 1907.

Elbridge H. Sabin, '86, the writer of a new Christmas book for children has the following to say:

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 21, '07.
THE DAILY IOWAN,
Iowa City, Iowa.

Gentlemen:—

Enclosed herewith please find my check for $2.25 which pays my subscription to the IOWAN for the current year. I am pleased with your first issue, which reaches my desk today. You deserve all manner of success and the united support of alumni, as well as students.

Yours very truly,
ELBRIDGE H. SABIN, '86.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

A chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was voted for the University of Illinois at the same time that a chapter was recommended for Iowa College. The act was taken at the recent convention held at Williams and Mary's college that President MacLean attended.

The University of Michigan is looking forward to the struggle against the University of Pennsylvania in football as the big game of the year. East and west will again clash when the Carlisle Indians meet both Minnesota and Chicago.

The motor service at Ames between the college and the down town districts is causing the students much trouble and inconvenience owing to irregular schedule especially at the noon hour. It is said the trouble is due to the indifference of the Newton and Northwestern railroad.

Journalism received a set back by the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota this year when recommendations of the faculty to add a journalistic course to the curriculum were turned down. A leading journalist of Minneapolis was to be hired to lecture once a week for a salary of $500. The Minnesota Daily takes exception to the action and editorially says that if Wisconsin and Chicago can support such a department, Minnesota should.

RESULTS OF RIFLE SHOOT

Iowa is in Sixth Place in the Competition

U. of I. Riflemen Did Well, Considering Weather Conditions —California Won

The result of the Intercollegiate rifle shoot was received a few days ago by fhe Military Department from Judge William Waste of the Superior Court of California.

The 1907 team made a score of 341 points out of a possible 500. This score places Iowa sixth.

A year ago the Iowa team took third place in the shoot, and the failure to make good this year was probably due to very unfavorable conditions. Below is the report in full:

"Pursuant to your request, and compliance therewith by the organizations concerned, I have received the score sheets and bulletins in the intercollegiate rifle competition, 1907, from the seven rifle teams hereinafter named. In announcing the results of the competition I desire to congratulate the respective competing rifle teams upon the excellent scores made, which are above the average for such competitious. These contests no doubt have a stimulating effect upon target practice at the Universities and Colleges participating therein, and the creditable showing made should be an incentive to increased activity, along these lines.

"The Rifle Team of the University of California stands first in this competition with a total score of 402.

"The best individual score was made by Mr. J. M. Montgomery of the University of California team, whose total was 43.

"The full result of the competition follows, and I transmit to your office for proper filing the entire returns and correspondence in the matter.

FRESHMEN ISSUE BOLD HANDBILLS

New Class Makes Reply to the Sophomore "Procs"

Handbills replying to the "proc" issued by the sophomores on Monday were scattered by the class of '11 far and wide through the city Tuesday night. With glaring headlines of "Sophomores Fade Away" the slang vocabularies of the underclassmen were exhausted in attempting to outdo the second year men in the number of large words used. The message is ended by the expression "We are out for business" and is signed by the "Class of 11".

Wilson Improving.

A letter received yesterday morning from Mrs Wilson gives encouraging news regarding the condition of Prof. C. B. Wilson, head of the German department, who is ill in Newark, New Jersey.
