ELLIS SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

President G. E. MacLean gives extract from President Roosevelt’s Speech

"The man who does things is the one most admired in the world today," said Arthur F. Eliot, the international Y. C. A. secretary who addressed the Iowa College of Liberal Arts student body yesterday morning. "He who has the strength to hold his convictions, stick by his beliefs is the one who is succeeding."

Mr. Eliot further told of the opportunities in things to do in the world emphasizing the fact that a chance is given to everybody to obtain the benefits of his abilities. He cited the instance of a man who carried ability from the Iroquois Indians and finally when dying in the hospital from pneumonia secured the hospital pledges that the sea opportunity to do the right thing had come to him.

President MacLean, instead of reading a test gave an extract from a speech by President Theodore Roosevelt delivered to Iowans.

As unusually large number of students attended the services in the large auditorium which was a seat capacity of several hundred. Many students were in the balcony while there was not nearly so many as the usual first week.

President G. E. MacLean made the usual announcements calling the attention of the students to the new law which the Liberal Arts faculty printed elsewhere in this paper and repeating his previous warnings in regard to the tempestuous conditions.

FIRST REHEARSAL OF MENS’ GLEE CLUB

Concert Tomorrow in Liberal Arts Assembly Room

The first rehearsal of the University Men’s Club Band will be held on Friday, 7 p.m., Liberal Arts Assembly Hall. All of the new men who have enrolled and all new men wishing to try for places in the club are urged to be present. From previous indications the club this year will surpass the organization of the previous years.

Improve Reception Room

The reception room of the Y. W. C. A. at College Hall is being re-stocked and redecorated and will undoubtedly be greatly improved for the fall semester. Besides the usual large supply of candy and cake there will be a large selection of a great deal by the women students of the University. The new improvements will be greatly appreciated.

Rules Concerning Absences

Faculty of College of Liberal Arts Has Decided on New Regulations for Deducting Credit

The faculty of the College of Liberal Arts has made the following rules in regard to absences:

1. In reporting credit or class standings at the end of each semester, the professor under whose control the work was taken shall mark after the symbol indicating the standing of the student, the number of semester hours to which the student is entitled; such number of hours' credit in each case to be determined by deducting from the total number of hours attending regular attendance required of regular credits, the number of hours in which the student was required to attend in the required number of hours for two weeks' work in the regular courses in which they are required to attend in the required number of hours for two weeks' work in the regular courses, and the number of hours in which they exceed three weeks' work; thereby justified. When these limits are exceeded the professor to be notified accordingly.

Absences for the day preceding the regular day of the final examinations will be treated the same as absences of the entire week. No make-up examinations will be given for absences in the regular courses, and the student's record shall be counted double.

In case of absences beyond two weeks' work in any course, and in case such absences are justified by the petition of the professor and the students' examination by the professor, the hours may be granted from the total number of semester hours granted for the work in that course. When the semester hours of the regular credits, the number of hours in which the student is entitled; such number of hours' credit in each case to be determined by deducting from the total number of hours of the old credits, the number of hours attended in the required number of hours for two weeks' work in the regular courses, and the number of hours in which they exceed three weeks' work; thereby justified. When these limits are exceeded the professor to be notified accordingly.

YESTERDAY afternoon the students of the College of Engineer- ing met in the lecture room for THE PRACTICE full leadership and analysis of the material taught. At a very early hour the players noticed it and remarked that the band, nomenclature, and material taught was made in the quarters after the hard hours of sermoning practice on the field. This sort of thing is what will make the team and it will move the downtown into a championship-class as fast as anything the student body can do. Watch for the open practice next week and go down to Iowa Field to root and sing for the Old Gold.

AMES TEAM IS DEVELOPING SLOWLY

Coach Clyde Williams trying Out Many Candidates

The slow development of the Ames football team which the Des Moines papers have been talking about seems to be due to the fact that Clyde Williams, the coach, has a wealth of material. He is also endeavoring to find the hitters that have almost vanished from the scene. "The half back that can put the opposing end completely out of business three times out of five." The Aggies are not worrying over the kicking proposition which seems to be causing the local coaches a good deal of worry. Janson, Lambert, and Thayer are all boating the ball well.

Choral Society Reorganizes

LINE-UP OF THE VARSITY RIFLES IS ALMOST THE SAME THIS YEAR

Through the efficient work of Commandant O. W. Weeks this organization attained great skill is drilling last year. The first call for a meeting was made yesterday and a large number of last year's company reported for the first drill. It is probable that competitive drills will be held with similar crack organizations of other universities later in the school year.

Story of "Egyptia"

To hold the interest of any audience of the present generation a play must have some human sentiment and strong motive. "Egyptia" possesses both to a reparative degree. There is the mother's love for her babe, the tender affection of a strong man for a dainty maid, the dignity of a great prophet leading his drooping people out from bondage, the subduing of the pride of the mighty against the sons of time, the great business of Egyptia. To the thrilling story is added the sublime strains of music from the pen of the greatest masters of melody the world has ever known.
