DEBATERS IN THE FINALS

List of the Men Who Participate Next Week

To play the debates for Dec. 13 to be Chosen by Five Judges - Group of the Debaters

As the week for the final debate approaches the interest is heightened. Thirty-one men will be pitted against each other in an effort to secure a place on the faculty of the University. There will be three men in alternate on each team.

Although several of the old men are not going in this year, Prof. H. E. Gordon stated that the outlook was exceedingly bright and that Friday, December 13, would be an unacknowledged day for Nebraska and Illinois.

Dakota is the only state who was on the Wisconsin team last year and Fred Cunningham, the director of the Torrey Debate team, are out of debate with 306 men, as also are Oller, Holter, and Gutsinger, all of the Kansas State College.

Next week the tryouts will be held. Each contestant will be given twelve minutes to discuss the role of corporation control. Three will be five judges who will be chosen by the Torrey Council. From present indications most of the Iowa men are taking the affirmative side of the question.

Word received from Minnesota states that the affirmative side of the question will be taken. Ten men from the judges of the Louisiana courts will be selected. They are from the faculty of the University of Nebraska and the Omaha bar. All are students of the university and have served as judges of debate before.

The committee on Debate met in the office of Prof. C. F. Amsler last evening and discussed a question which can be worked up this year and submitted to the Quinquennial League next spring. The question will be announced in the week of the tests.

The new constitution of Oklahoma was again to the literature rating to the subject yesterday. This document is very radical in its station in corporation.

Two states have already been loaded in the N. O. L. The N. O. L. content will be held in Iowa City this year on May 8th. The Lecture course announces

Captain Johnson Will Arrive Friday Morning for the Game - Varsity Defense Improved

Preparations are rapidly being completed for the alumni game Saturday and according to a letter received yesterday from Capt. A. C. Johnston of Ida Grove, there will be a good collection of old timers in the侵入. The former star center has written to all the men on the list forwarded to him last week and has received favorable replies from several of them.

An important announcement was made yesterday by the athletic manager in regard to the season tickets. The sale is to be discontinued Saturday noon and students are urged to buy the tickets before the time limit has expired.

In the open scrimmage practice yesterday the varsity did good work against the strong Freshman nine, the impression left being that all the players of the regulars on the defense being the principal feature of the first three minutes of scrimmage with their star ground gainers, Spaulding and Bender, and thevanished Freshmen. Constituted Conditions of His School Days With Present Opportunities

"No man can be a good lawyer unless he is a good man and a good citizen," said Governor Cov'.

His speech was of his own college days and a comparison of University life when he was a student with the much improved opportunities now offered. He referred to the excellent scholarship and the many opportunities and said that he believes there is an insurmountable barrier to the advancement of the law.

College Great Who Is Unusual

Governor Crawford graduated in the University of Iowa in 1877 in the same class with Judge Clyb. Osage. In a class of one hundred and thirty, he was one of the three selections for alumni honors. At that time graduates were obliged to deliver orations and speeches on "Due Process of Law." Although Gov. Crawford has long been in political life, he is still a son of the bar and an admirer of the law. He believes in the law and believes that the study of law makes better citizens. COX TELLS OF THE MUSICAL CLUBS

Explains the Opportunities in Musical Lines

Iowa City being a community of almost ten thousand inhabitants, there is no reason why we should not be developing a musical activity in the state. No city can claim higher general culture than can Iowa City and it is for general hope that this fact will be appreciated and that organizations may have great development. The University Orchestra and Choral Society are open to the people of the city and it is for general hope that this fact will be appreciated and that these organizations may have great development.

The University Orchestra. The performers on wood, wind and brass instruments are selected largely from the S. U. B. but some vacancies exist, notably for additional oboe and trombone players. There is a growing need for, and appreciation of, the last named instruments, and I should be pleased to confer with talented young people in regard to qualifications for membership.

There is also a need for additional viola, cellos and string bass players. I should be pleased to meet all desiring to enter the University Orchestra. An opportunity will be afforded for the study of Chamber and orchestral works.
