Men Are Recovering From Missouri Conflict

Real Football Will Begin Again

Tonight—Freshmen Team

Bucks the High School

Football practice on Iowa Field has been suspended since the opening of the season. With most of the Varsity men still more or less bruised from the conflict of Saturday with Missouri, fast work on any sort of the question, so to simplify a rehearsal of sig- nificance. However tonight, however, real football will again be taken up and the team whipped into shape to meet Drake at Des Moines on Saturday.

While none of the men re- ceived serious injuries in the Mis- souri game, several of them are still rather the worse for the wear. The game against the Tigers was a good one and the linemen are all still and unable to move with their wonted speed. In order toumber-up-lightened muscles sev- eral laps around the track were taken yesterday at a slow gait. As no scrimmage could be held on Monday the Varsity men contented themselves with playing with the Iowa City high school eleven. Tricks and straight football mixed in advisedly gave the practice to the freshmen by the uniform side-score, but the team was still and unable to move with their wonted speed. A game was played at the field and the tiger, who were scarcely recovered from their game at Davenport last Saturday, were soundly beaten.

“Today” O’Brian, Varsity trainer, has inaugurated a new system to go into effect after the next game regarding the care of the first team men. In order that no injuries may be overlooked for a time and cause trouble later, every man who participates in a game must present himself the following morning at the gymnasium for a thorough phys- ical examination and rubdown. O’Brian intends to have the squad in superb condition in time for the next game.

CONSUL HORTON IS TO LECTURE HERE

To Appear in New Auditorium November 2

Has been honored by President Roosevelt—Lecturer is Well Known Novelist

Consul without George Horton of New York state, a well known novelist and lecturer will deliver an address in the auditorium Wednesday evening November 2, on "The Greeks of Today," admission being free.

No matter what the present year will be better appreciated by our people than the illustrated lecture of Consul General Horton on the Greeks of today, which will be given Saturday evening of next week, November 2, as the consul said, Prof C. H. Weller yesterday.

The lecture is given under the auspices of the Iowa Society of the Archaeological Institute of America. It is a notable fact that so distinguished and prolific a novelist, editor and public man comes to give us one. Honored by President Cleveland and doubly honored by President Roosevelt, it will be something for this to hear him speak.

But besides his fame as a novelist he will give additional interest to his words. Any one who has read "The Monk's Treasure" will appreciate Mr. Horton's skill as an author and his profound and sympathetic insight into the spirit of the representative markable people whose life is portrayed. The lecture is provided at the expense of the Institute and no admission fee will be charged. The auditorium will undoubtedly be filled to the limit of capacity.

Consul General George Horton, Litt. D., is a native of New York State, and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1879, at the age of nineteen. His higher graduation he devoted himself to newspaper work; as equal recognition of his promise as a writer and his efficiency. President Cleveland appointed him United States consul at Athens in 1893. He remained in Athens four years, becoming locally distinguished for his command of the modern Greek language. In 1897 he wrote a novel—Returning to the United States he became literary editor of the Chicago Times-Herald. In 1914 he was again appointed consul at Athens, and served more than a year and a half in this capacity, in recognition of the high order of his services, he was promoted to the rank of consul general.

The following is of Mr. Horton's books is taken in behalf of the Dues: Who's Who in America's; Songs of the Lowly; In Unknown States; Armstrong; Conviction; A Fair Beggar, 1878; Unlike Another Helen, 1901; Modern Athens 1901; The Tempting of Father Anthony, 1901; The Long, Straight Road, 1902; in Argol, 1902; and The Monk's Treasure 1905.

After Dr. Horton's lecture the annual meeting of the Iowa Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will be held, and officers elected for the coming year. The secretary of the society is Prof. Charles H. Weller, of the University, and Dr. Louis C. W. Weld of the College of Liberal Arts is a member of the executive committee. It is hoped that later announcement will be made of certain projects which the society has on hand for forwarding work in the archeology of Iowa.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

The eastern intercollegiate golf tournament was played last week on the grounds of the Nassau Country Club, Glen Cove, Long Island. Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Yale were the only competitors.

The senior captain at Princeton has practically put a stop to the selling of caps, chapel tickets, etc., to the freshmen by requiring that the softhanders first secure signed permits stating the prices at which the various articles are to be sold.

Some of the difficulties of getting two college papers have been eliminated at the eastern schools. At Syracuse university in Syracuse, N. Y., the Syracuse Daily Orange has recently erected a two-story building which will serve for the exclusive use of the paper.

The law course of the University of Minnesota will probably be increased from four to five years, on the recommendation of the law school faculty of that institution. Candidates for the bar will be required to take two years work after the two years spent in the course of the paper.

The University of Wisconsin now has a medical department by the authorization of the legislature of that state. Only the first two years of the course will be given, the plan being to allow the students to enter as physicians or to pursue studies in the tutional arts and sciences.

In spite of the hopeful hopes which has been coming from Princeton the freshmen are getting their share of the consciences of the world, the university. With this in mind the first team is weak or that the freshmen are unusually strong will be seen in the results of yesterday's game.
