EDOEPLIUS IS THE OLDEST

Pres. G. E. MacLean, M. W. Rich and Mrs. L. H. Haney Addressed Women’s Club

That the Edoepliun Society is the oldest women’s society west of the Hudson River was the statement made by Mrs. J. W. Rich, ’84, B. S. ’85, M. A. ’88, before the meeting of the Thirteen-District of the Iowa Federation of Women’s Clubs held in the Ethical Arts Auditorium.

Mrs. Rich explained the history concerning the early club life of Iowa City.

Mrs. Haney, wife of Dr. E. H. Haney, of the Department of Economics told in a pleasing and interesting manner of the N. N. C. S. A. study of consumption in the upper class last year and the change in its present work with Greek philosophers.

President G. E. MacLean extended to the visitors the University’s welcome. He also spoke of the relationship between the University presidents and the women’s clubs.

Music for the occasion was furnished by University talent. The meeting closed late yesterday afternoon.

FIRST BASKET BALL GAME

Vanety Defeats the Freshmen Team in Contest Past for Age of Season

In the first basket ball game played by the Vanety this season, the Freshmen team was defeated Tuesday evening by the rather decisive score of 56 to 24. The Vanety players showed speed and accuracy lacking for the length of time the men have been in training.

The Freshmen team gives promise of working up into a fast aggregation, worthy of notice by most basket ball teams in the state. Especially will it be strong in forwards. Both of the forwards, Ryden and Hyland, from last year’s championship, Des Moines Y. M. C. A. team are in the University, and will be our stars but are sure of a position on the Freshmen nine when the gridiron season is over.

The line-up and summary of the game are as follows:

WILL STRENGTHEN HAWKEYE DEFENSE

Catlin Has High School Team Play Against Varsity

President C. B. Van Hise Unable to Speak at Mesa Meeting—J. G. Griffith Added

Work on the defense was the feature of yesterday’s practice when Coach Catlin led the high school team onto Iowa field to oppose the Vanety. The same performance will be tried this afternoon and the close formations for the protection of the kickers, Kirk and Captain White will be thorough.

Tomorrow the final touches will be added to the preparation for the season as the excitement up the river and all will be rediness for the great contest.

In the first ten minutes scrimmage practice was given against the high school men who were substituted for the freshmen eleven.

The first year men knowing the signals became too proficient in anticipating the Vanety played and spoiled the effectiveness of the new forward pass formations. The coaches soon interfered and the team was divided into two squads.

In the second half the first team was laboring and decided to leave the high school eleven in the game. Ryden played last evening and Hyland referred. Hyland is playing football at present but is sure of a position on the Freshmen nine when the gridiron season is over.

ROY A. WHITE

In the Drake game last Saturday at Des Moines the Hawkeyes were defeated by the Drake football team, tearing up the Blue and White Interference and on the offense dragging the man with the ball with good gouge.

COME LECTURING HIGHLY Praised

G. G. Horton, Poet of Grecian Life, Receives Flattering Mention

The Michigan Alumnae, 1906, contains an interesting review of “The Monoic Treasures,” by Gustav G. Horton, who is to lecture here next Saturday night. The review is as follows:

“Since the days of Lord Byron has the modern Greek life had as sympathetic an interpreter as George Horton. Whatever theme, Mr. Horton’s background is always the Greece which the traveler loves — the mountain sides with houses of a straggling village smouldering against the rocks, a decadent monastery, a ruin of a castle from the Venetian period perched on a height, spray of the sea, a touch of bustling sand, and minor touches of nature everywhere.”

“Mr. Horton’s stories contain plot and incident, with a strong love element, brevity and intensity. The Greek, Greece and myths, the monk, the missionary, the American, the college bred sentinel, and an Englishman or two are brought into kildebolopoic relations and justified into situations as conspicious that even the skill of the novelist is taxed at times to effect a rescue.”

ZET PROGRAM POSTPONED

There will be no program by the Zetagamian Society next Thursday evening, owing to the initiation of new members.

ALUMNI ACTIVE IN SCHOOL WORK

E. R. Jackson, L. A. ’94, new superintendent of the schools of Putnam County, has issued an educational directory for the teachers of the county. A copy of this to the teachers of the county. A copy of this, is a manual for the making out of the reports, records, blanks, etc. The directory will be of great help to country school teachers as it contains much information concerning examinations, certificates and registration. The frontispiece is a cut of John R. Hyland, a prodigies of public instruction. A cut is also given of Clarence M. Parker, superintendent of the land, Iowa schools. Mr. Parker was a Freshman in the College of Law last year.

That athletic field is a part of the campus, they fill the girl's rooting section with the hearty support of the co-eds. The influence of the old English. Increased attention to this is due to a fuller recognition of the importance of our football game. The subject of his lecture will be "Norse Mythology."

Subject Will Be Accomplishment
Regina Next Week

Dr. W. R. Patterson, head of the department of Scandia's in languages and literature, has received invitations to lecture from St. Olaf College of North Field, Minn., and from Luther College of decorum, Iowa. Both lectures to be given in the month of November. Prof. Flnch has accepted the invitation of Luther College and he will lecture there on Nov. 29th under the auspices of the Muusical Historical society. The subject of his lecture will be "Norse Mythology."

Dr. W. R. Patterson to Deliver Lectures

While there is no girls' routine section at the Wisconsin football game the move is to meet Nebraska and we would like to encourage the attendance of the co-eds, and their cooperation in the yelling should be seconded. The Nebraska has the following to say of the matter: "There has been a movement started to encourage the students in attending the football games. Not that many of them have not made it a point to go to the games in the past, but special emphasis is given the subject at this time because it is generally felt that not enough of them are present. It has been suggested that a mistaken notion of the role of conventionality is responsible for this state of affairs. That is, that the co-eds feel a little delicate, not to say backward, about attending football games without a masculine escort, especially when the girls are undergraduates and that mistaken notion should be dispelled and the girls given the same line of work as the boys and accounts are being kept for everywhere.
