CLARKE APPOINTED TO BOARD OF REGENTS

Governor Cummins Filled Existing Vacancy

Appointment of Well Known
Cedar Rapids Man Favorably
Received Here

Colonel Charles A. Clarke of Cedar Rapids, one of the leading lawyers of Iowa and a veteran of the civil war, was appointed Monday night by Governor Cummins to fill the vacancy on the Board of Regents caused by the resignation of Regent Will Lamb of Cedar Rapids.

Colonel Clarke's appointment was received favorably in Iowa City yesterday. "He is an ideal man for the position" said one prominent member of the University faculty yesterday. "With a splendid record and reputation and free from the political whirl Colonel Clarke is a wise choice for the vacancy on the Board of Regents."

Colonel Clarke takes the position left unfilled by the removal of Regent Will Lamb to Washington, D. C., where he accepted a position in connection with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Colonel Clarke was born in Sangerville, Maine, January 26, 1841. He finished the common school of Sangerville, then attended three terms at Foxcroft Academy. While he worked on a farm he walked three miles to receive instruction in Latin and Greek from a private tutor.

In 1856 when only fifteen years of age he began teaching school and the most valuable part of his education was received in this work. He enlisted in April, 1861 as a private in Company A Sixth Maine Volunteers. He was successively corporal, sergeant, and second lieutenant. In August, 1862, he was promoted to first lieutenant and adjutant under Colonel Hiram Burnham and remained in that position until honorably discharged because of wounds in February, 1863.

Early in April of the same year he re-entered the army but was compelled to resign later because of ill health and wounds. He received a special Congressional medal for gallantry and meritorious services in saving the regiment from capture in action at Brooks Ford, Virginia, on the night of May 4, 1863.

Colonel Clarke cast his first vote for Lincoln and acted with

PATTERSON ON ACCOUNTANCY

Expert Statistician Speaks — Illustrates From Local Affairs

New York City's expert accountant, Dr. W. R. Patterson, delivered a very interesting address last night on "What We Don't Know About Public Expense." A good crowd attended.

As a definition for an expert accountant, Mr. Patterson gave "a business doctor." Expert accountancy is almost a new profession, but the great combinations and business complexities of the modern day demand it.

In regard to the graft prevailing in many of our cities Mr. Patterson said: "Early strife in politics has not resulted in popular government. The honest man theory has failed. 'Honesty is the best policy,' but an honest man is not necessarily an efficient man. The capable man is hard to find but we have a right to know whether the man elected to public service is efficient. We have a right to trace taxes to the street or anywhere they are expended."

Taking for illustrations the financial reports of Iowa City, Johnson County, the State of Iowa, and the State University, Mr. Patterson demonstrated how little the people at large know about public expenditures. There was nothing in any of the reports to show whether or not there were any outstanding liabilities or the account overdrawn. The State University makes the greatest effort to show actual expense but still the accounts are not true.

Tomorrow night Mr. Patterson will speak on "What We Ought to Know." He may be interviewed at the office of Professor Loos, room 205, Liberal Arts building, from 11 to 12 o'clock, during the next three days. His lectures are open to the public.

HAWKEYE BOARD TO HAVE A MEETING

Will Further Organize the Work on Year Book

Further organization of the work on this year's annual will be the program at a meeting of the Hawkeye Board this afternoon in room 9 of the Liberal Arts Building at 2:30 o'clock. The work is to be reduced to a system and the department editors will start the preparations for filling the year book with material from the various colleges of the University.

The special feature prize offered this year for the best collection of jokes has had its effect already and the Humorous Editor is besieged with many funny offerings already. This will undoubtedly be one of the best features of this year's Hawkeye.

FLURRY IN MONEY MARKET EXPLAINED

Prof. I. A. Loos Lectures on Present Stringency

Overstrained Credit is the Cause of the Present Flurry—Discuss Situation

"Overstrained credit or excessive speculation is the explanation of the recent money stringency," said Professor I. A. Loos, head of the Department of Political Economy, in addressing his class on Currency and Banking. "The arrest of an extraordinary, ascending, cumulative period of speculation has caused the tightening in the money market; the failure of the Heinz Brothers and the collapse of the copper stocks may be cited as an acute incident of the situation."

"Why this speculation, you may ask? Why, good times. There has been an extraordinary production of new gold within the last decade, there has been a reasonably unbroken record of good crops, there has been peace, and there has been an extraordinary development of the active population expressed in extra speculation in land. These have combined to expand credit, to encourage overcapitalization."

"The attitude of the government toward the corporations may have helped to hasten the crisis. But this is entirely different from saying it is the cause of the present situation for in reality it is only an incident."

"How can the rise of prices and expansion of credit keep on indefinitely?"

"Why does this reaction come in the fall of the year is a natural question. This is because of the movement of crops with its unusual demand for money incident to the movements of the agricultural products. In August the demand for money rises, in September a sharp movement is noticed and in October there is the culminating demand."

"The rise in prices will receive a check and will fall somewhat."

NOTED EDUCATOR TO SPEAK

Dean Russell to Address Classes in Education Tomorrow Night

Dr. James E. Russell, Dean of Teachers' College, Columbia University, will deliver a lecture on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the assembly room of the Hall of Liberal Arts. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the School of Education and will be open to the public. All are cordially invited to attend and the lecture will doubtless be interesting and instructive.

The title of the lecture cannot be announced at this time, but it will be upon some general educational topic. Dean Russell is one of America's foremost leaders in educational thought. He received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Leipsic University and immediately went to Colorado where he organized the department of education in the University of Colorado. He was immediately recognized as a man of superior ability and was soon called to Columbia University to become Dean of Teachers' College. This position had been occupied by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler who became president of Columbia University. Dr. Russell has succeeded splendidly in continuing the development of the great Teachers College which President Butler had started, it now having more than a thousand students and a faculty of about seventy-five professors and instructors. It has become a great leader in the work of providing trained teachers for public schools and is doing much to place teaching upon a real professional basis.

WILL REPEAT THE MUSICAL RECITAL

School of Music Will Have Entertainment Thursday

The recital to be given by the University School of Music Wednesday night will be repeated Thursday evening. The number of people wishing to hear the recital being greater than the studio recital room will accommodate, the change was made necessary.

Downey Returns

Mr. E. H. Downey, research assistant in the State Historical Society of Iowa, has returned from Muscatine, where he has spent several days in the operation of labor laws. Mr. Downey is making a special study of labor legislation in Iowa.

Board of Curators to Meet

There will be a meeting of the Board of Curators of the State Historical Society on Wednesday of this week, at 7:30 P. M. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the society in the Hall of Liberal Arts.

MEN ARE PLAYING WITH OLD GINGER

Varsity and Freshmen Have Fierce Scrimmage

Stewart, Knowlton and Hastings not Allowed to go into Play—
Varsity Tries New Plays

Old style "pep" characterized practice last evening on Iowa Field. With both the Varsity and Freshmen teams playing hard and fast the scrimmage took on the aspect of a real game, which was won by the Varsity, five touchdowns to two.

Knowlton, Stewart, and Hastings were not allowed to go into the scrimmage work owing to injuries received last Saturday which still bother them. As a side issue to the bucking on the field, Stewart and Knowlton, both with bandaged ankles, ran a race on the track which was more notable for the variety of motions used by the sprinters in getting over the cinders than for speed.

The scrimmage started with the Varsity kicking off to the Freshmen, who advanced the ball several downs and then lost it. Three touchdowns in rapid succession followed for the regulars before the Freshmen recovered. On receiving the ball on the next kick-off the first year eleven developed alarming strength, and with splendid gains by the back field, Collins, Dean and Thomas, interspersed with brilliant quarterback runs by Captain Boggs, the Freshmen took the oval down the field and over the goal line twice for touchdowns. The Varsity then braced and secured a couple more touch-downs before darkness drove the players off the field.

In order that the Freshmen might not run on signals and so spoil plays before they were fairly started, Bruggeman ran the Varsity plays in series without calling signals, and the result was improved offensive work. Kirk, Gross and White made long gains. Several new plays were successfully worked.

Evening signal practice was held in the Armory, and will be continued tonight and tomorrow.

At the University of Minnesota the students issue a monthly A MONTHLY magazine. This year MAGAZINE a novel method of "boosting" the monthly has been adopted. In the past poverty and dire need has been prevalent among the student publications. However this year's magazine board has evolved a plan to save the monthly from financial ruin. The board is composed of nine seniors. Each member of the board has agreed to secure fifteen subscribers, this will triple last year's subscription list. Last semester about sixty-five paid up subscriptions gave a spark of new life. The additional 135 subscribers is expected to put the "mag" on a firm footing.

Let us, at "Iowa," follow the example of Minnesota and have a student monthly. Although we have The Alumnus, The Middletonian, THE DAILY IOWAN, and other student publications we are sadly in need of a monthly magazine. Such a periodical would be somewhat similar to any current magazine in the way of contents, except it would be all student material. Short stories, essays, editorials on various subjects, and such other articles as usually appear in student monthlies would be given a place. It can be easily seen that such a publication would greatly advance the literary interests of the University.

New Building is Now Occupied by the Various Departments

The Hall of Natural Science is now occupied by the various departments. The basement of the south wing contains the Entomology laboratories, special laboratory, dark room, Zoological lecture room, departmental reading room and office for assistants in Comparative Zoology. The main floor of this wing contains Prof. Nuttiog's and Wickham's offices, the Anthropological Hall, Comparative Zoology laboratory, dark room, photographic room and apartment for preparation of material. The second floor of the south wing contains the "Entomology Collection" and the "Hall of Invertebrates." The third floor contains the Mammal exhibit. This hall will have all new mahogany cases and will be illuminated by electricity. The lighting of this room is quite a feature and will be different from that of any other hall of its kind in the world.

The main part of the building is occupied by the University library and the Assembly Hall. The library has accommodations for two hundred students and occupies the basement and first floor. The Assembly Hall is one of the finest west of the Mississippi and has a seating capacity for 1800.

The north wing of the basement is occupied by the "Alcoholic Reserve Collection," and a suite of rooms for the taxidermist, Homer R. Dill. The Alcoholic Reserve Collection is shut off from the rest of the building by double steel doors for fire protection. The main floor is occupied by the offices of the librarian and Professor Houser's office. The second floor contains the laboratories of Animal Biology which are not yet completed. The third floor is devoted exclusively to "Bird Hall." Above the Assembly Hall is a large space devoted to storage.

Miss Elliott and Miss Swisher In First Annual Event

Last night in the Assembly Room of the Hall of Liberal Arts occurred the first annual recital of the student chapter of the King's Daughters. The first three numbers were harp solos given by Miss Helen Swisher, L. A. '09. Miss Swisher is a talented musician and her numbers were deeply appreciated by the audience.

The main part of the program was given by Miss Ethel Elliott, L. A. '03. Miss Elliott's ability as a reader is well known to Iowa City audiences, before whom she has appeared many times. Her study in Public Speaking has all been under the direction of Professor H. E. Gordon. Since graduating Miss Elliott has been Instructor in Voice Culture at Smith College, Northampton, Mass. She is now appearing on the lecture platform, where she has been meeting with great success. Following is the program given:

- I. Fantasia, Verdalle.
- II. Song Without Words, Dubey.
- III. Oh, Be Not Sad, Oberthur, Miss Swisher.
- IV. The Battle of The Strong, Gilbert Parker, Miss Elliott.

It is hard to tell how much. It is not necessary that banks fail in the present stringency.

"Will the arrival of gold tide over the stringency? Yes. The fact that gold is assured will help the situation materially, has already helped it.

"The mildness of the present stringency is caused by the mutual co-operation of the banks with one another. They will protect each other's reserve. If a man tried to force a bank to cash checks he will receive the censure of public opinion because an enlightened sentiment is against runs, which in many instances would mean bank failures even when banks are solvent.

"The fundamental weakness in our banking is that the government through the U. S. Treasury is in the banking business without banking powers. Another weakness is the concentration of so considerable a portion of the reserve of country banks in central reserve cities like New York; and clearly a third weakness is the lack of an elastic system of bank note issues with quick redemption. In this last respect the U. S. could certainly learn lessons from its own earlier history, from England, France and Germany, to say nothing of other countries.

"The flurries are handled better in these days than when the uneasiness was so disastrous years ago. The present tightening of the money market cannot be so sharp or severe as in the panics of '57 or '73 even if the worst happens."
