Great Exhibition Given of Open Play

Hawks eye Ranks with Chicago—West—Critics Highly Praise Catlin's Machine.

It was the most magnificent football game ever played on Iowa Field, the University of Iowa vs. Illinois yesterday afternoon. Both teams, paraded in the colors of their respective states, were at the head of every department of the gridiron. Indeed, the Hawkeye eleven proved as popular as its opponents in the stands.

The open style of play and the central diversity of attack characterize this game. Haskell, the greatest star of the Hawkeyes, and Seidel, the signal, was swept off in the forlorn effort on the part of the Iowa team to make one of the greatest gains in the game, and the little quarterback was helpless in his work. Both teams played with the ball as though to play the game of open style ever played on Iowa Field.

The play was fast and the running backfield was heavily covered with players, leaving the passes free for the receivers.

Iowa's defense again proved a "wall to line streets," and its offense for epsilon Illinois' defense. It was Iowa on the offensive and defense. It was fast and accurate, leaving the Iowa team with a clear advantage in carrying the ball and succeeded in scoring touchdowns. They were successful in the last ten minutes of the game. It was a great exhibition of open play by Stinson and Conner, both of whom playedcreditable roles in the game.

Our Line is selected from the products of two great houses whose goods are recognized as standard model. Every suit shows not only the careful selection of fabrics and the "know how" of the tailor, but also our own experience in making up a stock of clothing.

We have suits for men of all sizes. The slim and the stout suits which we have not only fit their wearer but they conceal the peculiarities of his stature to a degree seldom equalled in ready-to-wear clothing. These facts account for our being able to satisfy the man who has often been disappointed elsewhere in his attempt to secure a correct suit. Our prices on these suits range from
