THIRD NUMBER OF COURSE A SUCCESS

Edwin R. Weeks Pleases Large Audience

Ably Assisted By Misses Lucia Gillespie and Martha Alexander

The concert given by the Edwin R. Weeks Company in the Hall of Natural Science last evening was attended by a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. Weeks, the musical humorist and impersonator, made a great "hit" with his audience. "The Man with the Wooden Arm" and "The Grasshopper and the Turkey Gobbler" were exceptionally humorous and pleasing to his listeners. "The Sod House in Heaven," dealt with the more serious side of life and gives him a place in the front rank of reciters.

Miss Lucia Gillespie, the pianist of the evening, exhibited talent of a high order and was heartily encored.

As an entertainer, and one that appeals to the heart of the listener is Miss Martha Alexander, the concert violinist of the company.

PROGRAM

Introductory Monologue—"The Man with the Wooden Arm"—Mr. Weeks.
Violin Solo—"Souvenir de Bade"—Leonard—Miss Alexander.
Recitation—"The Sod House in Heaven"—Mills—Mr. Weeks.

FORMER COMMANDANT WITNESSES DRILL

Was Head of University Battalion Long Ago

Brigadier General Calef, U. S. A., retired, was visiting in Iowa City last week. General Calef was commandant of the University cadets here about twenty years ago. He expressed great satisfaction in the great growth of the military department and he was especially pleased with the battalion drill.

Phi Chi Again Initiates

Last Friday evening Messrs. Earl Wilmouth, Alvin Kohl and J. Albert Pierce were initiated into the Phi Chi Fraternity of the College of Pharmacy.

Allen to Referee

Mr. George Allen, captain of last year's football team, will act as referee in the Morningside-South Dakota game on Thanksgiving day.

TO BEGIN WORK ON PLAY

Dramatic Club Will Start Next Week on Preparations for Annual Production

Work on the play "Twelfth Night" to be given by the Dramatic Club in February will start next week and rehearsals will be pushed rapidly.

The play "Twelfth Night" which is be the annual production of the club this year will arouse the greatest interest and enthusiasm among University students. It represents Shakespeare at his best and in his rarest and richest humor.

A curious intermingling of fun and delicate pathos, "Twelfth Night" is one of the most beautiful of all the Shakespearean plays.

It is a play that is distinctly worth while and will certainly keep up the high standard the club has set in the matter of plays.

The comedy characters in the play will be taken by members of the club already well known for splendid work, and Mae Kiser, Leo Oakes and Lawrence Morrissey will make an inimitable trio as Maria, Sir Toby and Sir Andrew.

Mr. Hunt, who is perfectly familiar with every phase of the play, will assist the club in the staging of it.

CARROL KIRK HAS A FRACTURED RIB

Will Require Two or Three Weeks Complete Rest

"Chick" Kirk when asked what the medical examination revealed about his side which was injured by Reppert's hard dive wouldn't say much except that "there were some tendons and cartilages torn loose." The examination was made by Dr. Van Epps and it was found that fortunately no ribs were broken as was at first supposed. However, the torn tendons have been giving Kirk a great deal of pain. But with two or three weeks rest the All Western half back will be well again.

Juniors vs Sophomores

Next Thursday morning the Sophomores and Juniors mix in a game for the championship of the Liberal Arts college. Both teams are composed of men who have played the game in high schools and an interesting contest is expected. R. E. Smith will head the junior team. The soph captain has not been elected as yet.

Library Club to Entertain

The Library Club will entertain Wednesday evening at Miss Abigail McRaith's home in honor of Miss Webber, who recently resigned the position of librarian of the Public Library.

GREEKS ADOPT AN INDOOR SCHEDULE

Initial Game is December 4th in University Armory

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma Clash First—Schedule to End March 19th

The Pan-Hellenic delegates met at the Sigma Chi house yesterday afternoon and adopted an indoor baseball schedule which had been prepared by the schedule committee. The first game between the Sig Alphs and the Kappa Sigs will be played on the evening of December 4th at the Armory and the remaining twenty-seven games will be played at suitable intervals between December 4th and March 19th, which will end the season.

The fraternities expect the indoor baseball league to be a great success and most of them are already practicing in anticipation of a close fight for the pennant. The trophy committee has selected a large hall clock as a suitable reward for the winning team.

In regard to the eligibility rule it was decided that every active fraternity man could play. Physical director Schroeder expressed himself as greatly pleased with the idea of an indoor baseball tournament for the fraternity men and promised to do all in its power to see it through successfully.

The schedule will be published this week.

WASHBURN WILL LECTURE TONIGHT

Will Deliver First of Series on Fine Arts

This evening at eight o'clock the first in the series of illustrated lectures under the auspices of the Department of Fine Arts will be given by Professor F. De W. Washburn in the Assembly Room of the Hall of Liberal Arts.

The title of the series is "Great Periods in the Development of the Fine Arts." The lecture this evening covers the "Period of Beginnings," and will be illustrated.

Y. M. C. A. TO START A NEW CAMPAIGN

Efforts to Be Made to Add More Members

Plans will be made for the instituting of a campaign for new members of the Y. M. C. A. at a meeting to be held at Close Hall this evening at 7 o'clock. The membership committee has been active the past few days and notices have been posted for all University men interested in the new campaign to attend the meeting this evening.

Weather Forecast

For Iowa City and vicinity—Fair today and cooler.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET

Contract for President's House Let—Undergraduate Instructors Appointed

The executive committee of the Board of Regents held a meeting Friday at which considerable business of importance was transacted.

The matter of erecting the President's house was acted upon definitely. The contract for its building was let to B. A. Wickham. The structure is to be of brick and will not be erected at less than a cost of $18,000.

Work will not begin upon the building until next spring, but it will be completed in nearly a year. January 1, 1909, is the date at which it is estimated it will be completed. The edifice will fill a long felt want and will add materially to the already imposing array of University buildings.

The resignation of Jno. T. Padgum, undergraduate assistant in Physiology in the College of Medicine was accepted, and in his place was appointed Merle B. Call.

Chas. C. Brink was also appointed undergraduate assistant in Animal Biology.

SOPHOMORES WILL SELECT BOARD TODAY

L. A. Sophomores To Complete Hawkeye Board

Official notices have been posted announcing a meeting of all Sophomores of the College of Liberal Arts to be held this afternoon at 3:30 in the Liberal Arts Assembly room.

The purpose of the meeting is to complete the Hawkeye Annual Board, and to transact some other important business.

Two meetings have been called recently for this purpose, but, owing to the inclemency of the weather or a disregard of the posted notices the number in attendance was not sufficient to constitute a quorum, and therefore no business was transacted.

It is probable that steps will be taken to issue an official summons and thereby compel the students to attend unless a quorum is present today.

Holds Important Meeting

Edda, the Scandinavian society of the university, held a business meeting in the Scandinavian library Friday evening. The usual program was dispensed with on account of important business. A program will be given next Friday evening.

Liberal Arts Students Attention

For the benefit of the Collegiate students the Registrar wishes to emphasize the fact that absences on the days immediately before and after Thanksgiving will count double.

Pharmacy Dance Tomorrow

The Pharmacists will entertain at Majestic Hall Wednesday evening.

HIGH RANK GIVEN HAWKEYE ELEVEN

Record Herald Places Iowa Third in Big Eight

Kirk Given Left Half Position on All-Western Team—Seidel Guard on Second Team

In giving to Iowa fourth place among the nine big Western Universities, or third place in the "Big Eight" conference, and in placing Kirk, the Hawkeye's star half-back, on the All-Western eleven, distinct recognition was given to the Iowa football team by the Chicago Record Herald Sunday. That the Hawkeye's have been remarkably strong during the past season has been clearly evident to all who have seen them play, and the high rank accredited them in western athletics by gridiron authorities is felt to be fully deserved.

In giving to Kirk a place on the All-Western eleven no more than due recognition has been made of this player's exceptional abilities on the football field. In the words of a football writer in the Chicago Record-Herald: "Kirk is a scoring machine in himself, being, besides a great man with the forward pass, one of the most accurate drop-kickers in the west. In all other departments of the game he qualifies as a star." In addition it may be said that he is a sure ground gainer and unsurpassed by any player seen this year on Iowa Field in helping a team-mate for long advances.

Seidel is also placed on the All-Western eleven at guard, a position well deserved by this heavy but fast forward. Seidel has been an impregnable spot of attack in the Iowa line and a man much feared on offense by opposing elevens. After the Illinois game Van Hook is reported to have said on Iowa Field that although he was not in condition that day that he had never played a game like Seidel did against him. Van Hook was picked by both the Chicago Tribune and Record Herald for a position on the first team. During the first of the Ames game Brugger, and McElhenney, as well as Thayer, paid most of their attention to Seidel.

Sunday's Cedar Rapids Republican printed a story that has caused universal comment among the University students and with other wild rumors concerning the foulest piece of dirty football playing ever seen in Iowa has formed the principal topic of conversation in Iowa City. It has caused a quiet investigation to proceed but the athletic authorities are mute on the subject. However, the students are demanding explanation, being especially anxious about the charges made against Clyde Williams, L. A. '01 and D. '03, heretofore one of the idols of the University athletic followers. The statement is said to be common that the Ames coach was concerned in the alleged conspiracy and made a bet with "Sioux" Jones on the Kirk incident.

EXPLANATIONS ARE EXPECTED

Following is part of the account which has caused a natural question to rise in Iowa City. It should be explained or conclusions must be drawn that the message phoned to the Pilgrim Hotel at Marshalltown Friday night was founded on the truth. It reads as follows:

"There is a nasty story in circulation regarding the rough play in which Kirk was hurt. Friday evening a certain individual in Des Moines called an official at Iowa City up by long distance telephone and told him that he had learned a big bet of $500 had been put up in Ames by some one connected with athletics and that in order see the bet through it was planned to put Kirk out of the game during the first half. Kirk was himself informed of the rumor but refused to believe that such an attempt would be made.

It is a fact, however, that some of the Ames rooters were betting in the grandstands that Kirk would be out of the game before the end of the first half, when they were not betting on the outcome of the game itself. Whether the attack on Kirk was premeditated or not, it is the most regretful thing that has happened in Iowa football circles in years, and will not help to in any way increase the feeling of friendliness between the two schools that the alumni of the institutions have been laboring to bring about for the past two or three years."

In another part of the Republican is the story of Reppert's action on leaving the field:

"As a matter of fact, the fellow actually started to leave the field, as soon as he had felled Kirk, and another Ames man walked on the field to take his place. This gave substantiation to the report that had been prevalent before the game—and which had reached the boys while they were still in Marshalltown—that a conspiracy was on foot, and that the cabal involved a criminal attack on Kirk to put him out of the game."

The DAILY IOWAN welcomes any communications that will throw light on the above unfortunate story and which will set at rest the accusations heaped on one of Iowa's graduates

NEXT YEAR'S PROSPECTS

With this yeaa's football game's practically over, everybody is counting up the chances for next season's football teams. If the predictions are right every one of the western teams with the possible exception of Michigan will be much stronger than they were this fall. Starting with Chicago it will lose two backs. Iddings and De Tray, and Hewitt at end. But with strong freshman material and a veteran line the Maroons are again counting upon a championship team.

Illinois will be practically intact next year losing only an end. Wisconsin will not lose a single one of their backfield, but Messmer, Dittman and Huntley valuable line men will be ineligible. Minnesota has all but Case of their present team to count on.

In Iowa, Ames will probably suffer as much as any team. The Aggies will loose their captain and star man McElhinney, Willet, fullback, Brugger and Nelson linemen and Jaenson the quarterback. Drake and Grinnell will lose but few men and they will have fast teams next season.

NOVEMBER ALUMNUS OUT

Second Number Under New Management Contains Many Interesting Features

The second number of this year's Alumnus has just been issued from the press.

Among the special articles is a long appreciation of Governor Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota, by Hon. J. F. Clyde, L. '82, B. Ph., M. A. '81.

Prof. H. G. Plum has a very interesting article entitled, "Impressions of French Universities," which he prepared while doing special research work in Paris the past year.

Considerable stress is laid upon the meeting of the Presidents of the Middle Western Universities which was recently held here. A large page cut of the visiting presidents occupies a very prominent place.

A cut of Governor Crawford occupies the front page of the November number.

This number of the Alumnus is especially rich in spicy editorials and alumni news.

SUGGESTION FOR IOWA MAGAZINE

"Iowan's" Idea Approved by Member of Faculty

Editor DAILY IOWAN:

Sir:—

The belief that your columns welcome communications in regard to anything for the good of the student body of the University leads me to give the following suggestion for a university magazine, recently agitated in your editorial columns.

The literary societies are best able to have charge of the running of a magazine for it is directly in the line of their work. Then let each society in college elect one member to a board of editors and let the board of editors elect an editor in chief and business manager. The magazine should properly contain short stories, poems, articles of a popular nature on science, art, literature, politics, religion, etc., and every student in the University should be asked to contribute his literary efforts.

The University of Iowa should be able to support a first class college magazine and the lack of it is a distinct want to our budding editors, poets, politicians, statesmen and literary folk generally.

Trusting that the magazine will be recognized as a good thing and that it will be pushed right along, I am

Very truly,
W. H. D.

SPLENDID STORY OF SATURDAY'S GAME

Cedar Rapids Republican Gives Impartial Account

Favorable comment was heard on every hand in Iowa City from students and supporters of the University on the impartial and well covered story of the Cedar Rapids Republican Sunday morning on the Ames-Iowa game. Not only did it give a full and accurate account of the detailed play but a far different tone in the attitude of the paper toward the University was evident in direct contrast to most of the prominent papers of the state.

The Republican says that "while 'Jobby' Jeanson played a great game, Kirk easily outclassed him. Seidel also played a star game."

The fact is also mentioned that there were hundreds of the spectators who saw fit to cheer Reppert's fouling Kirk.

PRESS ACCOMMODATIONS WERE POOR AT AMES

Cedar Rapids Republican Criticises Conditions

In striking contrast to the facilities afforded press representatives on Iowa Field, Ames has almost no accommodations whatever for newspaper writers who are sent by their papers to attend the big athletic events held on Ames field. The fact is commented on by the Cedar Rapids Republican in the following article:

"While Coach Williams has a team of players, the state college at Ames comes a long ways from having accommodations equal to handling a good sized crowd. Of the 3,500 persons who crowded onto the field many had to stand up, while the press accommodations made anything like a full detailed account of the game, simply an impossibility. Coach Williams has schooled his team well, but the managers at Ames could do a whole lot worse than take a trip to Iowa City and see how the University people take care of the press men when a game is pulled off in that city. There is a striking contrast not only in the accommodations themselves, but in the attitude of the managers in securing possible accommodations."
