GREATER UNIVERSITY MOVEMENT LAUNCHED

Action Taken by Students at Assembly Yesterday

Motion Carried to Have Greater University of the underfoot; the University

A greater University boom was auspiciously launched yesterday at assembly when the students with an unanimous "aye" passed the following motion: "Moved that a Great University Committee be appointed by President MacLean, seven to be chosen from the students and three from the faculty, to take a public vote to be held to power to effect an organization union itself as it shall seem fit for the purpose of improving and bettering the University."

The above motion expressed the sentiment of the underfoot areas which promises to commence a movement destined to secure the student power for the permanent welfare of the University.

The speakers of the morning were: Fred Cunningham, professor of the Y. M. C. A., Herbert Marwood, editor of the IOWAN, Miss Pond, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Fred Cunningham, formerly head of the county club movement and well known orator.

The first speaker, Mr. Heine- man spoke on the needs of the University in the way of a central meeting place for the men, the necessity of better advertisement of the University beyond the campus of the state, the desirability of sending the girls clubs and other organizations. He closed with a plea for a central student council of student spirit, and student power.

Fred Cunningham, in his resolution for the problem of directing the student power in proper channels was given by Mr. Marwood. He advocated a Greater University Committee, explaining the details of the proposed method of directing the student power for the benefit of the University.

The Women's building forms the subject for Miss Landon's speech and she ably told of the efforts of the University in starting similar movements.

Fred Cunningham cited incidents of the exercising of student power in the right paths and after telling some good stories concluded with remarks on the university.

They're "spiffy!" Some people don't know what we're talking about—well but we'll warrant that most young men know exactly what we mean.

Yes, the last lot of Fancy Vests that have arrived are "spiffy"—just the kind that will appeal to snappy young men.

Big variety.
