Many mornings here
Sioux City Seated Learning Well
Represented This Year at University of Iowa.

There is probably no college within the four corners of the state so much in evidence at the University of Iowa this year as Morningide. There are present twenty halling from the numerous alumnae here among the various departments of the University, and the number of its alumnis and undergraduates coming here to enter the graduate and professional schools shows a decided increase over that of other years. A number of these are from Iowa's Dr. R. B. Wilson, Assistant Professor of Botany. He filled the chair of Natural Science at Sioux City and was one of the most popular men on the faculty there. A college graduate and a no less popular one is Professor H. W. Geiser, who holds the Philosophy of History at that institution. He is here on leave of absence and attending Dr. Shambaugh in his search work in the fields of History and Political Science.

The gymnastics team of the Iowa college are Mr. R. G. Roel, of this city, assistant instructor in mathematics, and Mr. Guy Frary of Sioux City, who has charge of the chemistry room and is pursuing advanced work in that department.

There are also in the Graduates
Mr. Dan Clark, of Sioux City, of Late, Mr. William Vance of Lawton, Iowa, and Mr. Ethel Gaunt of Sioux City.

In the College of Applied Science, Administration, the Forest City, Iowa, T. E. Edwards'70, of. Oswego, Iowa, and Mr. T. B. Davidson, '12, of Sioux City.

Among the 'Medics' are Mr. F. M. Minneman '07, of Beth Iowa, Mr. R. G. Barrick '12, of Sioux City, Mr. C. F. Brooks'11, of Persoon, Iowa, and Mr. R. C. Nichols '07, of Winona, Iowa, who in addition to Medicine are taking advanced work in Chemistry.

Those enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts are Miss Edith Root '09, of Ackron, Iowa, Miss Anna Root of Iowa, Miss Lena Skinner '08 of Sioux City, Iowa, Miss Caroline Smith '07 of Sioux City, Iowa, Mrs. Howard Erickston '12, of Royal, Iowa, on the staff, and Mr. E. J. Wintersteen '07, of Hartford, South Dakota.

Mr. W. W. Wintersteen, Minster the law department upon completion of the College work is participated in every spring by the Morningiders here and serves as a guide to new students.
