CLASSS IN the University will be Suggested by Ten Gt. Seniors Giv- en Today.

Mr. Henry Smith of Princeton, L.L.D., arrived in the city last evening and attended a meeting of the twenty-five Seniors yesterday. His visit has been awaited with great interest, and it is expected that he will be a great success. He is expected to address the students at 10 o'clock on this evening.

In regard to the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, which Dr. E. R. B. is president, a member of the faculty had the following to say: "The Foundation has been in existence for some time, but the number of members has not been reduced. The Foundation has been so successful that it has been able to raise a substantial amount of money, and we are justified in believing that it will continue to be successful."

If You Don’t Want to Buy, Come in and Look Around

The University has always, including the present semester, been something to couple with the University Dinner, to the successful existence of the University but at the same time it would be a factor that would do things for the University. And this factor that looks in simply when it becomes a formal means of bringing the whole University, faculty and student body together in a spirit that is the true University spirit.

Parties won’t do this for obvious reasons and dress suits. Football games and mass meetings won’t do it because they are centered around interests that are not broad enough to include all of what makes real University spirit. Weekly assemblies are in their way the means and circumstances present entire student body participation.

Therefore, it is up to the University Dinner, at the Armony, January 19th, to do something in the way of putting us all together. We want to crystallize this Iowa spirit so that we will do it so fast as possible. To make this University Dinner a success and an annual affair every student that can scrape together the money should do in his all or her glory. We want this University Dinner to accomplish something. Most any old plan looks good on paper but the real test comes in the results produced.

The Dinner will be informal. To mention natural things, the dinner will be good and the price very reasonable. We are going to have and see pictures of the county club banquet thrown on the screen, we will have a fine show what was accomplished at the banquet and we will have good bands. There will be dancing and Iowa yells will be given. There is lots of pleasure in every dining.

Iowa has just entered on a policy of state charities that will surely bring much condemnation. We ought to be more finely tuned than ever before. We need a lead.
