PATIENTS AT SANATORIUM

Four Entered Yesterday—Many Applications For Admissions Are Received

Four patients were received at the state tuberculosis sanatorium yesterday. Many applications for admission have been received but of those degrees of entering the hospital are in the advanced stages of the disease. Dr. Kircher who is in charge expresses the opinion, that the near future provisions will be made for accommodating advanced tuberculous patients as well as those in the first stages.

The sanatorium is located seven miles northeast on the Iowa City & Cedar Rapids railway. The commissioners in charge of the undertaking decided to locate near Iowa City in order that the hospital work might have the benefit of the bacteriological laboratories in the University. The cost of the whole institution amounts to about $125,000. Besides a two-pavilion for the use of patients, a spacious administration building and a cottage for accommodation for the superintendent and assistants.

The work of the hospital is heating and electric plants and a laundry. The site of the institution is situated so that in addition to being provided with a supply of fresh milk and eggs.

sports of team work shown by the squad at intervals Thursday night in the game with Missouri demonstrated the fact that it was in the team to play magnificent football and now in it will be worked to the limit.

It was again shown that the weak point of the team was their inability to throw goals but as Coach Griffith stated yesterday, "If we can get the team wind the goals will come fast enough."

The Minnesota team won in the first half but did not come out of them before tomorrow night. Coach Buckner was kined at the side and was faced a little more yesterday but he will be in condition this week. One feature of the game which delighted the students was the peculiar goal throwing of Capt. Buckner.

Suffice it to say, they are all good players going down under kicks do.

The important change is the one that I think is cut out considerably by the new game of football that has been introduced, which will have the influence on the gentle than the old game. The forward pass is introduced, which will have the quality better than the old game. It has been made more open, the ball is made more open, the ball is taken to the goal line, and is looked up to as the "Grand Old Man of the University of Iowa."

DEAN AMOS NOYES CURRIER
Dean Amos Noyes Currier, Dean Emeritus of the College of Liberal Arts, was born in Canaan, New Hampshire, October 13, 1812. He received his earlier education in the grammar schools of Hampton, and later attended the Kimball Union Academy. He entered Dartmouth in 1832, and received the degree of A.B. in 1836. Following graduation he was elected Professor of Ancient Languages at the Central College, Pella, Iowa. This period of teaching was interrupted by his enlistment with the Union forces in 1861. In September, 1867, he was honorably discharged.

In 1883 he was elected Professor of Ancient Languages at the University of Iowa. Between the years 1876-1879 he also served as University Librarian. In 1871 he was elected to the Chair of Latin. Professor Currier in 1877 became Dean of the College of Liberal Arts Faculty. In 1886 after the death of President Shaeffer, he was appointed President and filled this responsible office until the closing of President MacLean.

Dean Currier was the first president of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, and upon his fiftieth anniversary of graduation he was elected President of the Dartmouth chapter. Both as teacher, scholar, and personal friend, he has always held the highest esteem of everybody, and is looked up to as the "Grand Old Man of the University of Iowa."

This is a general good time planned as a relaxation after a hard week of classes," said one of the promoters yesterday.

We Challenge Anybody
In a good assortment of games that can be found here. We don't talk about business because it has a pretty high label and we don't want to give. Gamebooks we handle have got to have quality back of the label, so we can confidently recommend them to you, knowing you cannot fail to be pleased.

The intercollegiate football rules committee, which recently made some new RULES in New Rules York, produced several important changes in the rules that are making the football world a better place and up and take favorable notice.

All these changes have appeared in the newspapers and it is unnecessary to give a detailed list of them here. But three of these changes, which will have the biggest influence on the gentle game, are as follows. The only man on the field making a forward pass, who may recover the ball after a fumble until it has been touched by an opponent, is the man who first legally touched the ball. This eliminates the wild scramble for a ball found on a forward pass which happened so often last fall. The new importance of the defensive team and the object of the offensive plays are to generate. A forward pass in the air, to use their hands or arms on the opponents except to get at the ball. The third change allows the players, eligible, to receive a pass of the side making it, to use their hands or arms in the same way that players going down under kicks do.

It would be out of place to go into a technical discussion of the probable results of these rules. Suffice to say, they are all good and in the right direction.

The element of chance is cut out considerably by the first of these changes. The game is made more open, less liable to exceptional violations of rules.

The forward pass is a feature of the new game of football that it will take years to successfully develop and embody in the rules. The right start has been made.

Jubilee Before Exams
On Saturday evening, February 9, a "post-examination" jubilee will be held in Clare Hall for all University men and women.

FRANK O. LOWDEN

Hon. Frank O. Lowden, president of the Illinois Alumni Association of the State University of Iowa, was born at St. Anns City, Iowa, in 1865. Mr. Lowden received his early education in the common schools of Point Pleasant, Iowa; attending school in the winter and working on a farm during the summer. In 1881 he entered the State University of Iowa and soon attracted much attention both in scholarship and in oratory. Four years later he graduated as valedictorian of his class, receiving the degree of A. B. In 1885 he graduated from the University of Law, Chicago, where he won many prizes both for scholarship and in forensic lines. The same year Mr. Lowden was admitted to the Illinois bar and began to practice law in Chicago. Mr. Lowden won soon entered on a brilliant career in Chicago and won the friendship and respect of some of that city's most prominent and influential men.

In 1896 he married to Florence Pullman, daughter of George M. Pullman, the millionaire president of the Pullman Car Company, of Chicago. As years went on Mr. Lowden became more and more popular in Chicago law circles, and in 1898 he was honored by the American, Illinois, and Chicago Bar Associations. In political lines he has also become a prominent and influential man.

Mr. Lowden is the founder of the well-known Lowden prizes in the common schools of Iowa; attending school in the State University of Iowa has an active, having been connected with the American Bar Association, and of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The Hyperion Club is a member of numerous clubs, and of the American Bar Association. In Frank O. Lowden the State University of Iowa has an alumnus in whom it may well be proud. Although he has led an active life and has risen high in the scale of popularity, in a neighborly sense he has never forgotten his Alma Mater and is deeply interested in it.
