LAFAYETTE YOUNG WILL SPEAK TODAY

To Address Thirty-Sixth Convocation

His State-Wide Reputation as Statesman, Orator and Newspaper Man

Illustrous Lafayette Young will speak at the thirty-sixth Convocation this afternoon, at the city at noon. While he has been a guest of President and Mrs. George E. Mac- Lennan since 1905, Mr. Young has been a publisher of the Des Moines Daily Capital, one of the leading papers of that city. For twelve years he was a member of the Iowa State Senate. While occupying his responsible position he rendered much of his valuable service to the cause of the University of Iowa. He has a wide reputation as a politician, orator and newspaper man. In the 1908 Republican convention, held at Philadelphia, Mr. Young was secretary of the State delegation. He was then, as formerly, a public orator in his own right, for State vice-president, and in a martial speech, in which he addressed the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, nominated our present president for the vice-presidency, he delivered his famous speech of McKinley nomination.

As an orator, Mr. Young is one of the best of the day, and is constantly regarded as a leading publicist in his capacity when business permits. The following will be the program, which starts at 3:30 O'Clock.
1. The Doxology.
2. Invitation and Scripture Reading. The Reverend J. Rob­ er Harrington.
3. Hymn: "O Worship The King.
4. Announcements.
5. Address: The Honorable Lafayette Young.
8. Benevolence

SIGMA XI LECTURE FAMOUS

Professor Chittenden is Eminent Physiological Chemist — An Extended Talk

Russell Henry Chittenden, who will give the annual banquet of Sigma Xi at this evening, is one of the most eminent physiological chemists in America. He is only fifty-two years old, but these years have been rich in achievements. He graduated from Yale in 1882, receiving the degree of B. A. and obtained his degree of Ph. D. from the same institution, among his honorary degrees are those of L. L. D. received from the University of Toronto in 1903, and L. L. D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1907. In 1882-83 he studied in Berlin.

Professor Chittenden has held the presidency of the American Society of Naturalists and of the American Physiological Society, and is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, and the American Philosophical Society. In 1896 he has been directed to the Sheffield School at Yale. He is an extemmate writer, his best known work being the "Physiological Economy in Nutrition."

While in Iowa City, Prof. Chittenden will be entertained by Mr. Rockwood, head of the chemistry department. The banquet will be given in his honor Sunday night by Mr. Rockwood and one by President MacLean Saturday evening.

Professor Chittenden was to have been here yesterday, but as he put up the meetings in connection with the World's Fair, he will not arrive until Monday. He leaves here Saturday evening.

S. Balayat Made Battalion Adjutant By Commandant Weeks— Honor For Foreigner

S. Balayat, a Filipino student and secretary of the Alpha Laval fraternity, was appointed Battalion Adjutant by Commandant Weeks. To fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Balayat's advancement, an examination will be held on Saturday, February 1st. This examination will be open to all Sopho­ mores in Co. B.

Several weeks' vacation is planned as an incentive to the use of the cadets. The danger incurred by the use of the fifty foot range indoor target outfit is considered too great to be risked another year. The candidates unanimously voted for the practice march in the spring. If the petition is granted by the faculty the march will take place in the latter part of May and will be of four days duration.

It is said to be the hope of the cadets and the commandant that the faculty will act favorably on the petition. The University band will give a popular concert on February 16th in the Auditorium instead of the Army as was announced formerly. The concert will consist of popular pieces.

GRENNELE, HOPING TO WIN THE CAME

Secret and Black Compare the Contesting Teams

Concerning the game Saturday with Grinnell, the Secret and Black had the following to say in a recent issue:

"On Saturday evening at eight o'clock U. S. L. and Grinnell will play the second game to decide the state championship. Iowa won the first contest at Iowa City, January 20, by a score of 26 to 18. Iowa comes to Grinnell after a successful season and the con­ test will be an interesting one. Iowa defeated the University of Illinois last Friday evening by a score of 46 to 36, while Grinnell was taken into camp Saturday at Cedar Rapids, 43 to 28. Berk­ heimer, Perrin and Buckner of last year's squad, are again in the game, while Norton, formerly of Grinnell, has been playing con­ siderably for the University. Grin­ nell hopes to "even things" on the home floor and the game will be well worth seeing.

The big flower will be surrounded by a ring of electric lights with some color effect for dark dances. The big flower will surround the ring of small flowers and at 3:30 a string will surround the bottom of the darker flower to the side and the small flowers will fall to the floor as a shower. This feature is something that has never been tried and will be a great novelty.

Y. W. C. A. Secretary Coming

Miss Helen H. Miller, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., of Des Moines, will be here to­ morrow and Sunday, and will address the young women's meet­ ing on Sunday afternoon, Miss Gilchrest, secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., will introduce Miss Miller at the meeting and give Miss Himhaw a hearty welcome.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN LIKE UNION IDEA

Will Cost Heartyly Favors Such an Institution

"Next to Winning Football Team Union Will Be of Most Benefit to University"

That the Iowa Union idea is popular with the Iowa City busi­ ness men and professors of the University is at one time made evident when the subject is broached to them. It is regarded by them as the one thing which will do the most to build up the University and they are very anxious as to the immediate realization of the project.

Among the younger business men and professors of the University is W. P. Coles. "I am heartily in favor of the Iowa Union idea." he said in an interview yesterday morning, and I believe it is the one thing new needed to build up the uni­ versity. Outside of a winning football team, I do not believe that there is anything which will build up a university more than a Union or Central club house. Iowa's rapid growth commenced with the game which we turned out a championship football team. and I look for the same impetus to its growth in connection with the Iowa Union."

"As to the plan of financing the proposition," he continued, "I believe the most feasible scheme is that of forming a stock company. The Iowa students of Iowa City will take a large share of the stock and there should be no trouble in disposing of the rest among the students and alumni of the University."

"By this plan, the men who are going to be playing would not feel as though they were making a donation, but an investment from which they would receive fair returns."

"Of course the Union will have to be self-supporting and this could be accomplished by charging a nominal initiation fee and yearly dues. There is hard­ ly a student in the university who could not afford it and this fund would form a sufficient income to support the club house. As to the cafe proposition, I certainly think there should be one in connection with the Union. In fact, for those who wish to avoid the dance and for the banquet which would follow, the cafe would be a great help. The best plan for the cafe management would be to sell the privileges for a definite amount and thus have a fixed in­ come from another source."

"I notice that there is some talk of having the Union general headquarters for the literary so­ cieties and Y. M. C. A. This may be a good idea, but to my

CHARLES CLEVELAND NUTTING

Professor Charles Cleveland Nutting, head of the department of Zoology, was born at Jackson ville, Illinois, on May 25, 1876. He graduated in 1898 from the University of Iowa receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts and two years later took his Master's degree from the same institution. Between the years of 1883 and 1895 Professor Nutting was engaged in making explorations for the Smithsonian Institution in Central America. In 1895 he was engaged in scientific research in Costa Rica and in 1897 went to Nicaragua on a similar expedition. Two years later he returned to work in Florida and in 1898 he was called to the Iowa State University to be Professor and Head of the Department of Zoology. In 1905 Professor Nutting was engaged in research work, for the University of Plymouth, England and also in Naples, Italy. He was a member of the civilian scientific staff of the United States Ship “Albatross” during its Hawaiian cruise in 1902.

Besides being head of the department of Zoology, Professor Nutting is Curator of the Museum of Natural History in which capacity he has made the museum of the State University of Iowa one of the best in the Middle West. He is the author of various scientific works on zoology and is considered an authority on his branch of science by the foremost scientists of the country. His best known book perhaps is his Monographs of American Hydras. Professor Nutting is a member of the leading scientific societies both of this state and the United States.

Send Bones to High Schools

University is Exchanging Second installment of Collections To Schools of the State

The University is just sending out to twelve high schools its second installment of loan collections of human bones. This physiological collection consists of a complete halves of the human skeletons together with an ample number of single bones including the most beautifully prepared and picked in a nice, finished oak case. This case house the collection, University Loss Collection. It is intended, however, that the collection will remain in the possession of the high school as long as it proves useful. In case physiology should cease to be taught the University would reive the right to pass the case on to some school that could make use of it.

Dr. Henry J. Premont of the College of Medicine is the originator of this idea. This idea appears to have an advantage to high schools and to enable them to present the subject of physics more scientifically he expressed himself as willing to undertake the very considerable labor of preparing three collection. All the materials sent out last year were received by the high schools most cordially, all expressing themselves as greatly pleased and benefited. The schools are being served in order of application and despite the fact that the second dozen is on the way, about sixty schools are still being served. The high schools to which the present acts are as follows: City, Webster City, Boyd, Adel, West Union, Waverly, Rolle, Waverster, Delmont, Mr. Pearson, Muro, Corning. Newton.

Irving and Zet Programs

The program at Irving Institute this evening will consist of a freshmen preliminaries. The re-remaining freshmen who did not try out last Friday will appear tonight. The Philo will have no regular program tonight but will enjoy a jolly program in the Octaves tomorrow evening.

The Irving Program—Music: Debate. "Resolved that the U. S. should establish a parcels post system;" contestants, Nattes, Thomas, Sieberger, Updgriff, Garretson, III., Bourret, Ligget, Clarkson, Cardell, Browning.

The Zetangian Program—Music: Declamation, Hayner. Debate: "Resolved that a limited enforcement of the Federal unions would promote the civilization of the world;" affirmative, E. Meyers, A. L. Young, negative, H. H. Smith, Kin. Ora-

The Freshman Irving debate, which must be a much better Union if it is kept strictly a club house. If any particular collection gets into the Union house it will cause a division among the students and that is the thing that must be avoided. The house must be solely under University management, so that is the only way in which it can be kept thoroughly democratic.
