Two Literary Societies Victoriously Last Night.

Irving Institute Defeated the First Time in Years—Much Enthusiasm.

Unprecedented victory over Irving Institute by the Marshall Literary and the unanimous decision of Zetagathian from the Philathian society were the features of last night's preliminary contest for the University championship. The two winning teams were:

- The Irving Institute defeated by Marshall Literary.
- Zetagathian defeated by Philathian.

The Irving Institute, after a close contest, defeated the Marshall Literary Society, in which they displayed great ability and skill in the art of oratory.

Zetagathian (Neg.)—E. C. Ross, Cardinal; R. J. Hindle, cougar; C. D. Noth, Gen., B. A.; F. W. Corner, Capt.

Marshall (Aff.)—E. T. Edmondson, Columbia Junior; C. L. Leaon, Dan Moines; C. R. Hille, Waco, Texas.

The judges in the Zeta-Philomathian affair were:

- Dr. B. N. Hendricks, L. E. S.;

The contest was characterized by the high order of public speaking displayed, and the outcome was a victory for Zetagathian from the Irving Institute by the sovereign vote of the judges.

The jury's decision was announced by Mr. Dutcher, the president of the college, who expressed confidence that a final decision will be made immediately.

The Sophomore literary societies are now making preparations for the annual literary contest, which will be held during the next month. Preparation is being made in a thorough manner, and the societies are doing everything possible to ensure victory.

The Philathian society, however, is making greater efforts. The members are devoting much time and energy to the preparation of their literary program, and they anticipate a brilliant performance.

The Irving Institute, on the other hand, is not so enthusiastic. The society is seeking to improve its literary performances, and some alterations will be made in the present program.

The conflict between the two literary societies is well known to the student body, and much interest is being shown in the literary contest between the two teams.

The Irving-Marshall Law debate in the Auditorium were:—

- Mr. Dutcher, the president of the college, was the speaker for Zetagathian from the Irving Institute by the sovereign vote of the judges.
- Mr. Dutcher's speech was well received by the audience, and the students were pleased with his performance.

The Irving-Marshall Law debate in the Assembly Hall had the following speakers:

- J. H. D. Wilson, Fortescue—Zetagathian (Neg.)

The debate was characterized by the high order of public speaking displayed, and the outcome was a victory for Zetagathian from the Irving Institute by the sovereign vote of the judges.

Zetagathian (Neg.)—E. C. Ross, Cardinal; R. J. Hindle, cougar; C. D. Noth, Gen., B. A.; F. W. Corner, Capt.

PRIVATE SPROATT IS ACQUITTED
Verdict of Court: Saved the Life of Erring Sentinel

First Court Martial in History of School—Severe Cross Examining At nine thirty yesterday forenoon, Private J. F. Sproatt was tried before a court martial. Lieutenant Chas. Penningroth acted as Judge Advocate and the remainder of the court consisted of:
Capt. Elliot, Co. B.
Capt. Beem, Co. D.
Capt. Conaway, Co. C.
Lieu. Griffin, Co. D.
Lieu. Biggs, Co. E.
Lieu. Utterback, Co. D.
Lieu. Myers, Co. A.
Capt. Elliot, served as presdent of the board.
The prisoner was charged with neglect of duty detrimental to the welfare of the interests of the United States, and through his counsel, Lieut. James Leo Oakes, objected to the charge on a technicality. The court sustained the objection, but ordered the court to proceed.
Capt. Cook, who preferred the charges, was severely cross examined so as to attempt to break his testimony. Lieutenant Purtell’s testimony was practically the same as Capt. Cook’s.

Mr. A. E. Blackford, the orderly, gave some very intriguing evidence. Constant Weeks was next called to the stand, but after a few questions was dismissed. Private Black-ford was recalled and examined by the defense.
The accused took the stand and made a superb appearance.
His testimony gave an entirely new aspect to the case.

Lieut. Loper was minutely examined and his testimony decided the verdict in a large measure.

The closing speech of Lieut.
Oakes was clear, logical, and powerful. His plea for clemency was a masterpiece.

After a few minutes deliberation the verdict was handed in which was favorable to the defendant.
Mr. Hammond was the court reporter. The trial was held in the band room of the Armory and was witnessed by sixty cadets.

The large room with the furniture properly arranged, gave a very courtly appearance.

Horace Emerson Deemer
Judge Horace E. Deemer, author, scholar, and jurist, was born at Bourbon, Indiana, in 1838. At an early day his parents moved to Iowa and here his education was secured. Judge Deemer graduated from the Law Department of the State University of Iowa in 1859 and admitted to the Iowa Bar as a practicing attorney. He was a judge in the 15th District from 1877 until 1904, when he was elected a justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Deemer's term expires in 1906, and in 1906 he served as Chief Justice.

Prior to January 1, 1908, Judge Deemer was a lecturer in the Law Department and he now is Honorary Professor of Jurisprudence. He is a member of the American Bar Association; the State Bar Association, and American and Political Social Organization. He edits numerous magazine articles Judge Deemer is the author of Grand Juries; Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure; and Law Monographs and Syllogi for law lectures. He is a member of the Grand and Prairie clubs of Des Moines. When not engaged in court affairs Judge Deemer spends his time at his beautiful home at Red Oak.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR TENNIS COURTS

Athletic Board Provides For New Net

At a meeting of the Board of Athletics last week new nets and other necessary equipment for the tennis courts were provided for. A small fee will be charged for use of the courts in the future: seventy-five cents for the spring, fifty cents for summer, and fifty cents for the fall. Tickets good for the whole year may be obtained at any time for one dollar. This fee for use of the tennis courts is not a new departure, but it has never been strictly enforced in the past. It is hoped that the University will provide room for more courts as there have not been enough in the past. There is a growing interest in this sport and eight or ten courts would be none too many.

Bolton to Return Soon

Professor Frederick M. Bolton will return from his eastern trip some time this week. He has been attending the meeting of the department of superintendents of the National Education Association which was held in Wash­ington, D. C., during the past week.
