CATHOLICS WILL ORGANIZE

Big Convention of Societies Convening in Lafayette—Skel-ley Local Delegate

The Catholic societies of the various Universities and Colleges in Iowa, under the presidency of Father Michael J. O’Callahan, will hold a convention toward mobilization. The movement began in some of the Eastern Universities and has spread to the Pacific. The University of Purdue at Lafayette, Indiana, has been chosen for the site of the convention which will open Saturday morning with representatives from almost every state in the Union.

The purpose of the movement is to join all the student Catholic societies of the different Universities, into one national body. The advantage thus derived is expected to be both social and educational. The Newman Society of the University of Iowa is represented at the convention by S. E. Skelly, senior in the College of Liberal Arts. The Newman Society was founded in Iowa in 1900 with a membership of 13, and now has 80 members. The Newman Society has been both social and educational, and the principal feature of the movement this year will be the last days of freedom from school work.

The convention will last not more than three days according to the time it will take to complete an organization. Nothing will be done to make this the strongest Catholic organization in the United States.

There is no reason why it shouldn’t be the strongest and best society of its kind in the country,” said Charles P. MacDougall, president of the local society, when speaking of the movement. “We must unite our scattered forces into a strong society to the ends of the country.

There are going to be a series of meetings during the day to carry through this campaign.

In his address to the convention, Father Michael J. O’Callahan said:

“All the Catholic students in this country will be united in one body through this organization. The object is to make sure that the Catholic students of this country will be united in one body through this organization. Less than one week to Easter. Gee! Lent has been a long one at our house. I think Ma has us up in Lent to save on her meat bills. She gives us a fishy story about a little diet being good for a fellow's system in the spring of the year. I guess it's good for the Easter bonnets all right. Many a mother has her boys on sal-phur and molasses and put the change into Mitty's Willows. Still you can't blame them. There is a style and a swing to the Easter bonnets this year that is positively irresistible. I know the bonnets for men are enough to turn a man's head and they cost as little as $2.50 to put under your good jeans' lid. Come in and see them, you know.

The ROYS

The trend of women who are completing their education at the Rushmore Woman's College is encouraging, and I believe the Rock Island ball squad will win the Iowa championship this year.

Dean Raymond Out Soon

Dean W. G. Raymond, the head of the Engineering College, is improving rapidly, and will probably be able to meet his classes again after the spring vacation.

The Class of '88 Reunion is encouraging, and I believe the Rock Island ball squad will win the Iowa championship this year.

The Harvard Medical School is easily a full three years beyond the clinical year. It is being held by Professor F. M. W. Jones, and the variety is displayed a knowledge of medical science.

The results of Coach Kent's careful study come to the bench before the first inning, and the bases are filled with potential sacrifice hits. Miller is in better form, and so is Brown. The Hawkeyes are so enthusiastic about the fellows will only turn out and work hard. This warm weather promises to make any score off the field.
