FORT DODGE WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats Cedar Falls in Final Contest for the Title

Decision in Unanimous Win for Fort Dodge - Both Teams Make Fine Appearance

The Fort Dodge high school debaters, Richard Mitchell, Charles Meloy and Waldo Miner, was the first annual state championship contest in the Auditorium Friday night, deciding the question: "Resolved, That armaments caused the world's wars, and that the nation which first used them would be the greatest in the world." The Fort Dodge boys made their collection against the affirmative in the question: "Resolved, That Limited Disarmament of the kind Newton's World Promotes the Civilization of the World." In spite of the bad weather, a good sized audience turned out to hear the best forensic battles of the year. All the local forensic societies were in attendance, and the debate before the time debate opened for the contest.

Both teams were finely trained and had been through a long series of preliminary contests, gaining experience of every kind. The Fort Dodge boys, for the affirmative, held that armaments were divided against the doing of good things and for the destruction of life. The Cedar Falls team, for the negative, held that armaments were divided between a good cause and a bad cause, and that there should be a better solution than by using guns for the destruction of life.

The Fort Dodge team was made up of Horace, president; George J. Moore, vice president; and Claude C. Hurd, secretary. The Cedar Falls team was made up of Carl Musser, president; Robert Goodale, vice president; and Walter Holm, secretary.

The Fort Dodge team won the contest by a vote of 6 to 4, and will now go on to meet the state champion, the University of Iowa, in a contest at the University at the time of the state basketball tournament.

WISE TALKS BY THE OFFICE BOY

I see that Gabriel D'Ammunio, the Italian Barry Wall, has butted into the limelight again by ordering eight silk umbrellas all of a deep violet shade to match his complexion. But, say what you will, Gino is a good loser. He keeps two or three tutors and habitués all about and prints lectures when he isn't writing poetry, yet he could save a lot of good if he could come to us for his umbrellas and suit cases. We can sell him a good Gloria silk umbrella, with paragon frames and heavy steel rods and fancy handles. They come in several shades besides black and, as for suit cases, we could sell Gabriel a good leather one for about one-fourth the money he will have to pay in Rome. We can get down as to little as two houses for a good umbrella such as I have described and from that on up to $35 and the suit cases start at $15 and climb up high as $18.50. When you are looking for umbrellas and suit cases you sometimes want there to be a hurry, but you needn't stop around—come straight to us if you want styles and values.

RAY FILES, '05

Great credit for the winning of the State High School Championship by Fort Dodge High School Friday evening is due to the coaching of Ray Files, '05, formerly one of the University's prominent debaters. He also acted as coach of the debating team which reached the finals last year while carrying on his work in an instructor in history. While in college he was a leader in forensic debates and was a member in forensic activities.

Nero

Arrival of the Christian Slaves—The captives are brought before Nero. He chooses one of them to serve in his palace. The others are condemned to death for a Roman holiday.

In the Palace of Nero—Nero seated on his throne drinking to the health of the gods. The Christian slave brings in some wine. He bids her dance for him. He is fascinated. She responds from him. Orders her put to death. She is saved by a Roman captain. Flavia. The latter falls in love with her.

Bona or Christ—The feast to Diana. Nero reclining on his couch.

DANCE-CONFRONTATION—Diana and Christ. The latter falls in love with her. Diana or Christ. The feast to Diana. Nero reclining on his couch. Fair young maidens dancing and offering incense on the altar of Diana. The last of the dancers is the Christian maiden. She refuses to give up her faith. The page, Pages—Nero in rage orders her put to death. Flavia tries to persuade him to give her up her faith. She refuses. He has her cut in pieces.

THERE is free for the Romans. The freed Christian maidens tell Peter all that has happened. Flavia tries to convert her. Peter converts her. Flavia tries to convert him to her faith. She will not believe.

The Dungeon—She is locked in the dungeon under the Colosseum. Flavia tries to save her from Peter.

The Burning of Rome—The fire discovered. Nero with his attendants watching the grand spectacular sight of the burning of the Eternal City. Hanns are dying and Nero's people singing while the city burns. Buildings fall on all sides. Flavia fighting his way through the mob to the Colosseum. Determined to rescue her loved one.

The Colosseum—Flavia reaches the dungeon. Overpowers the captive. Reorders his sweetheart and all other princes. Carries the Christian maidens to the arena. He engages a gladiator whom he deems—Flavia about to say him. The Christian maiden flees for his life. Replaces the Roman sword with the cross. He kisses the cross and accepts the faith, as the vision of angels appears to the one of burning Rome.

College Brand Clothes

The Clothes That Keep Men Young

The series of new spring models in suits for young men demonstrates the difference between College Brand Clothes and others. It demonstrates the difference between mediocrity and real ability to exercise expressive tailoring.

Stripes

Browns

Stripes have been heavy favorites this year with well-dressed men. Our assortment of stripes and checks is something extravagant, and if you want to see yourself in a suit that has lots of "go," select from this line. The fit is something with which you will be pleased.

$15 to $25

BROWNS have proved more than a one season favorite. The newer shades are very handsome and we respectfully invite your inspection of them. College Brand maker shaves chosen very happily in these shades, as in all others.
