STUNTS WILL BE FEATURE OF RALLY

Co-eds to be Divided into Squads of Twenty

Leaders of Divisions Busy Drilling in Girls in Stunts—Parades to be Formed

The girls are making elaborate preparations for their rally to morrow night. All arrangements are now complete and attention is being given to the "stunt" features of the program. The girls have been divided into groups of twenty and a leader appointed for each group.

The leaders have been busy the last couple of days drilling their squads in the stunt they are to put on. Just what each stunt is to be to be announced until Saturday at 3 p.m. at the armory but there is to be a parade by each squad and also a big grand parade by the whole company.

The leaders are as follows: Alice Switzer, Mrs. Mabel M. Valland, Alice Wickman, Mrs. Kaiser, Alice Miller, Meta Rasmussen, Amy Hines, Margaret Marshall, Anne Gittens, Josie Lackey, Catherine McGirkhardt, Mona Hoiamann, Francis Crawford, Julia Green, Mary Remley, Edith Biel, Agnes Benich, Libbie George, Lydia Henry, Edna Harper, Lydia Volland, Alice Wilkinson, Mrs. Edith Rigler, Mary Anne Gittens, Jessie Lackey, Mae Strong, and Libbie George.

"Everything is now in readiness for the rally Saturday night," Dess Valland said of the affair and if it is not the greatest success the University has ever seen the committee will not be blamed. It is now time for every girl to show her loyalty to the movement.

It is probable that the Delta Phi and Sigma Chi will play their game postponed from Monday, tomorrow, as the count of the seven day rule counts from this amount after all

When the weather man permits, the senior class will institute a series of evening singing and frolicking on the Liberal Arts building steps. It is a custom that has become quite firmly established and of late years it has become a veritable element of university life. There seems to be nothing, except the initial Freshman Sophomore scrap, that brings the class together as a whole in a student's general way as his classmates are at hand. The person­
