Bible study at the University

Bible study is continued to occupy an increasingly important place in the every-day life of the college student. This is shown by the fact that 25,800 or more were engaged in it during this past year and in the University of Illinois alone, there is 1,250.

For the student returning this fall to the University, the plans for religious education, the result of forces that have been in work for some time are quite striking. However, the religious life of the student in state universities is exceptional. It is a true statement to say that the respective schools are finding it necessary to find solutions for. Here in Iowa it has meant a union of all religious forces along with the University to cooperate along this line. The work that is being done requires time and serious endeavor to reach the needs of all.

The next course in courses that are offered through the T. V. C. is especially designed to encourage daily Bible reading. There are those taking these courses that sit together in individual classrooms with a leader who meets with them for an informal discussion. The study of the "Life of Christ" is fundamental to all lines of Bible study and for this reason those who desire to make Bible study a part of their daily lives for the first time will find it an advantage to take this course.

It has been stated that there is no loss of the student activity that offers greater opportunity for drift along the line of student leadership as does the weekly Bible group. Bible study in this way not only stands for personal enrichment, but is a means of reaching out to others. At least this is the purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association and the emphasis in this year at the University.

At the beginning of the new school year, the Young Women's Christian Association extends a most cordial welcome to all new young women who are entering the university for the first time. To many, even of the new students, no word in explanation of the Association is necessary, but to those unfamiliar with the organization we seek to make a statement of its purpose and aims.

The Y. W. C. A. of Iowa University is one of the many similar student organizations whose purpose in a college center is to promote a democratic Christian fellowship among all the girls of the school and through the fellowship and the special channels of association work, to develop and deepen the spiritual life of all the individual girls. It stands as a co-operating force with the Protestant Episcopal church, endeavoring to unite students of all denominations and create in harmonious body for the purpose of active Christian service among all students.

In order that this service may be the most effective possible, classes in Bible and mission study under student and specially trained leaders will be organized and opportunities for social and practical work will be offered. The association desires to stand for the highest things in college life, socially, intellectually and spiritually, and to this end we seek the cooperation and help of every girl in keeping the group in line of student leadership as does the weekly Bible group.

CATLIN WELCOMES
MEN TO ATHLETICS
He Explains Workings of the Department

(By Coach Mark Catlin)
In order that the new athletes in the University may start out with a proper understanding of the relations of athletics to the university we shall give the ideals for which we are working. To begin with, there is firmly understood that no man who will be classed as a book worm to the neglect of his physical being. What we want is the healthy combination of the two.

We want a man that will put up a good fight and he must be able to do it in a sportsmanship of the two.

We expect every man to adhere to our training rules; we not only expect every man to obey training rules, but insist on it. We give absolutely equal rights to all men and I want and expect the best that there is in every man, not for the University but for the University.

The T. R. C. A. stands and works for the best in college life. It believes in and stands back of every thing for which “Iowa” stands. The Association claims, this trangle, recognizes the three-fold char- acter of the well-rounded man and therefore strives to develop the physical, the intellectual and the spiritual side. No college man can afford to neglect any one of these three.

The Association offers to you a definite thing which has neither the expense nor the power to force upon you. We cannot make you something of the hundreds of students, but you can make yourself known at this school. We welcome you, and want you need or we need you.

The Young Men’s Christian Association at Iowa is made up of men from every college of the University, every department of student life. It is a place where men meet men. The Association owns its building and has the power of cooperation, and respect of the faculty and governing body. We want you to become one of us. You cannot afford to be one of the great international brotherhood of men manning the mills and marching through every straitened notice.
